THE RISING SUN STOVE POLISH.

FACTORY OF ITS KIND IN THE WORLD.

Beats of paint and paste polish sold to labor saving, self-shining, etc., which stain the hands, pit the iron, and fill the house with a poisonous and sickening odor when heated. Do not take any chance of being poisoned or burned to death with infammable liquid stove polish, paints and pastes in bottles. "The Rising Sun Stove Polish" is safe, odorless, brilliant, the cheapest and best stove polish made, and the consumer pays for an expensive tin or glass package with every purchase.

What is CASTORIA

Castoria is Dr. Samuel Pitcher's prescription for Infants and Children. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. It is a harmless substitute for Paregoric, Drops, Soothing Syrup, and Castor Oil. It is Pleasant. Its guarantee is thirty years' use by Millions of Mothers. Castoria destroys Worms and allays feverishness. Castoria prevents vomiting Sour Cud, cures Diarrhoea and Wind Colic. Castoria relieves teething troubles, cures constipation and flatulence. Castoria assimilates the food, regulates the stomach and bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep. Castoria is the Children's Panacea—the Mother's Friend.

Castoria.

Dr. J. C. Orono, Lowell, Mass.

"Castoria is the best remedy for children of which I am acquainted. There is no other so effective for infants when mothers will consider the real interest of their children, and use Castoria instead of the various quack nostrums which are destroying their loved ones, by forcing opium, morphia, soothing syrup and other harmful agents down their throats, thereby sending them to premature graves."

Dr. J. F. Kitchell, Quincy, Ark.

Allen C. Smith, D.D., 111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"Our physicians in the children's department have spoken highly of their experience in their outside practice with Castoria and although we only have Castoria—no medical supplies what is known as 'true' products, yet we are free to confess that the merits of Castoria have won us to look with favor upon it."

The Quincy Patriot.

SATURDAY, OCT. 14, 1893.

A Yellow Leaf.

Yellow leaf, glimmering Against the blue sky, Fluttering, dithering, All ready to fly! Warm is the sunny air, And soft the wisp's sigh; Loosen the long tethers hold! Now that thy green is gold! Yellow leaf, it is not easy to die? Now, ere thy winter's brown, Floating down, drifting down, Safe on the sod that has nursed thee to life! We, who are watching thee, wistfully sigh, 'Yell'ow leaf, yellow leaf, Ours is a life brief! Would we might part with thee as sweet a good-bye!' —Harper's Bazar.

The Quincy Patriot.

Runaway Boys.

There was considerable excitement on Sunday morning when it was reported that three boys, whose ages are about fifteen years, had disappeared.

The three boys were William Clark, Ernest Baker and Walter Smith. All of the boys lived with their parents and had pleasant homes. The little reason that is given for their sudden leaving is that they had been reading fiery literature and had become possessed with the idea that they must "go west."

The absence of the boys was first discovered Sunday morning by Mr. Clark, who was somewhat surprised at not finding his son in his room, when he had gone to bed as he supposed about ten o'clock Saturday night.

An investigation was at once made and it was soon made apparent that the departure was a premeditated one, as the boy had taken all of his clothes besides a quantity of reading matter.

The investigation also revealed that the boy had visited the Savings bank and had drawn out $500 of his father's hard earned cash on a forged order.

The cashier of the bank was not present when the payment was made and the boy had often deposited money for his father everything was thought to be all right and five $100 bills was passed out.

The Baker boy is known to have been taking good going for some weeks and he has tried to induce several of the young boys to accompany him but he evidently met with no success until he had secured the Clark and Smith boys. Baker lived at Germantown and inquiring revealed the fact that he had not been home since Saturday noon.

Chief of Police Langley was notified together with Mr. Clark, went to Boston where the day was spent in telegraphing the different cities in hopes of hearing off the boys.

Word was received by Chief of Police Langley Monday morning that the Harbor police had seen the three boys in a boat and chased them to Hull. The boys were so closely pressed that they left all of their personal property and ran.

It seems that when the boys left Quincy Saturday night they rowed to Houghs Neck and stole a boat and went to Peddock's island where they broke into a house and took the money and jewelry that was in the house and left the boat and went to Hull.

It is supposed they remained there all day Sunday and on Monday started out when they were seen by the Harbor police.

It has been said that the runaway boys, who are still missing, had been reading fiery literature and had become possessed with the idea that they must "go west."

The Boston police have a description of them and Monday night every lodging house and every place of amusement in the city was visited but without result.

Every avenue of approach to Boston is being watched and if the boys are now in Boston they cannot get out without being stopped.

Officer Fernald who has been at work upon the case with Chief of Police Langley does not believe the boys are in Boston but are in the woods along the south shore somewhere, as he thinks it is impossible for the boys to walk from Hull to Nantasket in time to take the boat it is alleged they took.

One of the peculiar incidents in relation to the affair is told by the officer who is employed to look after Peddock's island. This officer's salary stopped Oct. 1. He says he noticed one of the boys had a large roll of bills in a pocket of his coat and thought it suspicious, but as he was not under pay he did not hold them but drove them off the island.

Another fact in the case is about the bank book. It seems that before the boys returned the book to its place in the house, he took some ink eraser and removed all trace of the entry made at the bank.

Chief of Police Langley has sent postal cards broadcast, asking for the detention of the boys where found. He gives the following description:

William Clark, 15 years old, of light complexion. Supposed to have had on a dark suit of clothes, a long gray necktie and a hat.

Ernest Baker, 15 years old, of light complexion; gray jacket, dark knee pants and black cap.

Walter Smith, 14 years old, of dark complexion; black jacket, light pants.

It is a case of the boys?

The Herald yesterday says: "A wild venture about 20 feet in length, with the name E. A. painted on her stern, was found by three young men from Lynn Thursday, drifting about three miles off Nahant head, abandoned. The finders sailed her up to Nahant and landed her on the beach, where she now lies in danger of being broken up. It is suspected that the boat was stolen from Quincy a few days ago."

Is it possible that the runaway boys took this boat and have been drowned?

Masonic Visitation.

The annual visitation of the District Deputy Grand Master of the 34th Masonic district to Rural lodge of Quincy, Thursday evening, was the occasion of a crowded house, over one hundred visitors being in attendance.

Rev. Herbert I. Mitchell was accompanied by the following suite:—Wor. Henry A. Belcher, as grand senior warden; Wor. H. A. Crane, as grand junior warden; Wor. Herbert A. Newton, as grand treasurer; Wor. William H. Emerson, grand secretary; Wor. Francis E. Shaw, as grand marshal, and several past masters.

There were visitors from the following lodges: Orphan Hope, Paul Revere, St. George, Puritan, Fellowship, Norfolk, Union, Delta, Sunset, Progress, New Hope, Montgomery, Eagle, Sunbeam, Old Colony, Composite, Adelphi, Carraharret, Delphi, Wilder, King Solomon, Columbian, Orient, Joseph Warren, Massachusetts, Monitor, John Cutler, Pythagorean, Putnam, Joseph Webb, and others, including one each from Maine, New Hampshire and New York.

A fine exemplification of the work was given by Wessington Master Hammond and his officers and the complete work was well deserved. The music was by the Corinthian quartette.

At the close of the lodge the visitors called to refreshments served by Miss Heston in the dining room of The Greenleaf.

It was a serious Fall.

A year ago Oct. 9, Charlie Collier met with a serious accident which came near costing his life. He is now so far recovered as to be able to move about and is in hopes to take the open air next week in a wheel chair.—Weymouth Life.

Mr. Collier was the painter who fell from the residence of Mr. Charles Henry Hardwick in this city.

Old Colony railway stock dropped $4 to $170.75 on Monday.

Reception to Pastor.

The Wollaston Unitarian society gave a reception last Friday evening to its new pastor, the Rev. James B. Bagley, Mr. and Mrs. Bagley were assisted in receiving by Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester Brown. The reception was held in the church parlor, and was a very pleasant affair, with refreshments and a profusion of flowers and autumn leaves. The members of the society were ushered by Mr. Chas. T. Baker, Mr. W. J. Wellington, Mr. Chandler W. Smith, Dr. George B. Rice, Mr. Robert E. Free and Mr. James S. P. Moorehouse. During the reception Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Moorehouse, Dr. and Mrs. Rice, and Mr. Frank A. Page favored the company with instrumental and vocal selections.

Lights refreshments were served, the cocoa being poured by Miss Helen Foster and Miss Kingman, and the coffee by Miss Taylor and Miss Foster.

The arrangements were in charge of Mr. Edmund F. Taylor, Mrs. Charles E. Sherman, Mr. Charles W. Smith, Mrs. George A. Loring, Mrs. Charles T. Baker, Mrs. George W. Belcher, Mrs. Frank P. Waterhouse, Mrs. W. E. Simmons, and Mrs. Sylvester Brown.

Quincy Point.

The "Max" has received the trophy from the Hull Corinthian club and the championship cup from the Hull club.

A steamboat line between Quincy Point, Houghs Neck, Nantasket and Boston is among the possibilities of another season. Capitalists are looking over the field.

Democratic Rally.

The D-mocrats opened their campaign in Quincy, Wednesday evening at Houghs Neck, by a rally which was attended by an audience that filled the hall.

Upon the platform beside the speakers of the evening, were William A. Hodges, William B. Rice, Charles E. Sherman, William F. Powers, James F. Burke, Timothy F. Ford, J. C. Ring, W. G. Sampson, Councilmen Williams, Rooney, Holbrook, Fether and others.

James F. Burke called the meeting to order and introduced William B. Rice as the presiding officer of the evening. Mr. Rice made a few opening remarks, and then introduced as the first speaker of the evening, James B. Carroll, Democratic candidate for lieutenant governor.

Mr. Carroll was listened to with marked attention and was frequently applauded. The speaker had little to say upon State politics, but confined himself almost wholly to national issues, and made a few remarks on the present administration. He gave causes which lead up to the present financial trouble, and devoted some time in telling and criticizing the work done by the Fifty-first Congress, as late President McKinley had done.

Shorthand and Typewriting.

A good sized audience of the most intelligent young people in Quincy assembled Tuesday night in Faxon hall and heard an instructive and amusing practical talk on the kindred art of shorthand and typewriting. The lecturer, Mr. Sullivan, was forming classes in these subjects, presented in a very vivid and amusing way some of the ridiculous features of our English orthography. His blackboard illustrations were most effective in the hands of Mr. Sullivan. After the lecture a large number of the classes which are to meet in Adams building next Thursday evening, and every Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday thereafter.

Tremont Theatre.

On Monday night Mr. Stuart Robson will begin his annual engagement at the Tremont Theatre, in "The Comedy of Errors." Mr. Robson has made a very scholarly and careful production of this merry comedy, attending to all details of costume, and keeping these and the scenery historically correct. There is no more perfect student of the classic drama than Mr. Robson. He has prepared the most beautiful scenery and lavish number of scenes. For several years the American stage has been greatly indebted to this admirable comedian for his conscientious and magnificent efforts in the cause of the highest art presentations. "The Comedy of Errors" had not so many good comedies as have others of Shakespeare's comedies on account of the difficulty of securing actors sufficiently resembling each other to render the funny mistake which result from the likeness of the twins plausible enough. Matinees will be given both Wednesday and Saturday of this engagement.

Kissing the Rod.
BY JAMES WHITCOMB RILEY.
O heart of mine! I shouldn't Worry!
What we've missed of calm we couldn't
Have, you know!
What we've missed of stormy pain
And of sorrow's driving rain
We can better meet again
If it blow.
We have erred in that dark hour
When our tears fell in a shower
All alone—
Were not shame and shower meant
As the gracious Master meant?
Let us temper our content
With His own.
For, we know, not every sorrow
Can be said;
So forgetting every sorrow
And through all the coming years
Let us be glad.

"It's a little beauty." "It's just lovely." "I shall prize it a lifetime."
"It's a little gem." "I would willingly pay a dollar for it."
Pleasant Dale, Mrs. September 4, 1893.
I received three Spoon Souvenirs, and think they are lovely. Please send me three more, which will make the set. I like Ivoryine better than any washing powder I have ever used; it makes my clothes so beautifully white and clean.
The Ivoryine gives the greatest satisfaction. I like it the best of any of the washing powders on the market. The clothes washed with it look very white, and it requires only about one-half the labor which it takes with other washing preparations. The spoon which you sent me is a beauty, and I don't see how you can furnish such a splendid article for so little money. I enclose doves and stamps for two more spoons.

Miscellany.
EBEN.
In the days before the railroads were established, the arrival of the coach was a matter of much importance to the inhabitants of the little town of Kinhope, which was situated within fifty miles of Boston.
As the coach approached the village this beautiful morning in May, it ascended a long, steep hill, from the brow of which could be seen the many hills lying about,
with the pretty wooded valleys between,
and away off to the right a mountain peak, which was Mount Washington. Among the passengers riding on top of the coach was Eben Eames, and many, many years after,
when his last day was spent in a house not then built upon this very hill, Eben recalled the bright anticipations of this day.
Eben was going home after having spent several years as an apprentice with Collier Bro in Boston, which two years of work in addition to the apprenticeship, in which he had been industrious and saving, had enabled him to lay by a little sum.
On leaving the coach Eben made his way hurriedly to his home, where he was received with a shout of welcome, and turned about to be praised and admired to his complete satisfaction.
After the exclamations had subsided somewhat, Eben said with a little embarrassment:
"How—how is Molly?"
"Ah! how should I know; go and see for yourself," said Eben's mother good-naturedly, understanding his impatience to see the girl who was so soon to be his wife.
As Eben crossed the road, Molly saw him coming, and with a first impulse started to run down the garden path to meet him. Then suddenly a feeling of bashfulness coming over her, she drew back into the house. With Eben's knock at the door, there came a young woman with the fresh bloom of health on her cheek, and Eben felt almost shy when he greeted Molly, she seemed to him so lovely. When about to leave, Eben said to Molly: "Ah! then it will be this week, Molly?" and Molly demurely answered:
"Yes."
A week later a few neighbors, with the immediate related families, were present at the wedding of Molly and Eben. From Molly's home they went to live on the main street of the village. There was a cousin house in the rear, and a little shop in front, with a big sign, with its gilt letters proclaiming to all passers-by: "Eben Eames, Shoemaker," was next to Eben,
the pride of Molly's heart.
These were happy days. Molly singing about her work would stop now and then to hear the rap-rap-lap-lap of Eben's hammer. When the stitching began, and all was still, the silence oppressed her,
and after listening at the door to make sure no customers were in, she would open the door carefully, tip-toeing up to Eben who with his back to her, was working his great surprise a pair of hands would cover his eyes, and a sweet voice would be sounding in his ears:
"Guess, Eben."
Naturally Eben guessed correctly after a few trials. This play came to be looked forward to by the young man, for it was not always presented in the same way.
Molly being a young woman of resources.
His sickness had been long, and the little money which he had possessed had
him a decent burial.
So Molly was to go in her old age back to Kinhope. As the carriage in which she rode slowly ascended the hill toward
the comfortable looking white farm house
from the brow of which could be seen the hills lying about, and the pretty valley
between, with a mountain peak rising in
the distance at the right, an old, old man, digging potatoes in the field, stopped his
work and looked at the carriage coming up the road. While he had been working he sighed often, and there came to him the memory of a young man in the springtime
of youth, and in the spring time of the year gone home to claim a happy bride.
It was far now, leaving dearest, from soon to come. When he looked at the carriage turning into the driveway, he thought:
"What poor man or woman is this, who
like myself at the end of life's journey,
comes here to the poorhouse, to be taken care of by the town?"
He did not see who alighted, nor hear
the kind voice of the overseer's wife ask
an old woman if the journey had been hard. For this was the first journey Molly had taken in the train, strangely enough.
The overseer's wife, Mrs. White, made her comfortable and then going to Mr.
White, said:
"Ah," said the gentleman, "have you
not heard? We have decided not to have it touch this place, but continue it to Rockabrook." By the way, going to enlarge your business? Nice shop going up opposite."

Eben choked some inarticulate reply, and the stranger left, wondering what had happened to the cobbler, but little knowing or caring what grief his words had wrought.
A few moments later Molly came in with her usual light way, but meeting
no response asked:
"Eben, what's the matter of you?"
Then Eben, lifting his head, said heavily,
"Molly, I am ruined."
"Ruined!"
"Yes, ruined. Mr. Simms, one of the heads-on the road, has just been in,
and said the road'll not touch this town.
It's going to be on the other side."
Molly's face blanched, for she well knew what this meant. Money nearly spent on the larger shop. No one would buy it.
All their bright hopes dashed in a moment.
Recovering somewhat, she put her arms about Eben, saying:
"Even so, Eben. We can begin again and live as we have lived these past few years. You are not twenty-eight now."
At last her sensible words and comforting touch reached him, and he agreed to try to regain his cheerfulness.
A year passed. Molly saw with dismay the change wrought in Eben by his misfortune. He was restless, longing to do something, to go somewhere; irritable even, at times; so unlike the gay, good-humored husband of other days.
Molly feared, she scarcely knew what,
and when sitting at their evening meal one evening, Eben said:
"I've made up my mind, Molly, to leave
this place."
She felt the blow had fallen.
"Well, Eben," she answered quietly,
"when and where shall we go?"
Eben glanced down at his plate, not liking to see a look of surprise and pain, which he knew would be to the face of his wife, at the words he was about to say.
"I've been thinking, Molly," he said, slowly, "as how you first met me here, a while, and I'll go to Boston first and see what I can do, and if I don't find the right lay of the land, maybe I'll go further till I do."
"But Eben," Molly remonstrated.
"I don't want to wait for me to finish, and continued:
"There's a little money I'll leave you,
which will keep you for a while, until I find a place to settle; then I'll send for you."
"Yes, Eben," said Molly, "the money will keep me for a little while, but I want to go with you. Oh, don't leave me behind. I feel, Eben, as though we'd both be sorry for it, if you don't let me go with you when you leave this place."
As she clung to him, Eben almost yielded to her sweet persuasion, but suddenly answered with determined obstinacy.
"No, Molly, I'm going first."
And Molly, with a sad and heavy heart that Molly prepared Eben's valise for his journey. The next morning, as she stood watching him going down the road, Eben, turning, saw her there and for the instant his heart prompted him to turn back, she looked so sorrowful, and he thought of her words, "I feel as though we'd both be sorry
for it, if you don't let me go with you."
But he would not give in to such feelings, and soon he was on his way lost in bright hopes of future success, when he and Molly would be living in luxury.
When Eben disappeared, Molly went in through the shop. There everything had been put away, and the shop cleared of the shoemaker's tools. It looked so desolate as Molly took the seat Eben used to occupy, that her self-control gave away and the sobs came quick and hard. As the days passed Molly often caught herself listening for the sound of Eben's hammer, but no such sound came to Molly listening, waiting for years. No accident could come to the passer-by, and in time the people came to the little shop to buy the shining leaves of bread which Molly baked.
It was a May day like the one when Eben had come home and said,
"I've made up my mind, Molly, to leave
this place."
"Yes," it was the time of day when few customers came in. In the back part of the shop or store sat a woman about thirty-five years old, still fair to look upon, but with an expression in her face which told of anxiety and disappointment. She did not notice the entrance of any one, being so absorbed in the thought.
The memory of another May was alive still and she was living those early days of her youth. Under the same trees where he aroused her, saying without further preface:
"Molly, I came for the answer."
Molly looked up at him without agitation, but there came no reply. It seemed to her that he could not speak. Then came the words, "You know, Molly, Eben is dead, for your last words from him that he was dying with the fever, and James brought you the news from the California mining camp five years ago. Surely I have waited patience for my answer. What is it?"
And the reply in a low voice was: "I will go with you. I've waited hoping against hope to hear again from Eben, but I believe now that he died at that time."
A few days later, a ceremony was quietly performed at the parson's, and the shop was closed for Molly forever. A chance carried the two to a distant town, where many years became a peaceful home for Molly. After these quiet years had passed the man whom Molly had married died. His sickness had been long, and the
him a decent burial.
So Molly was to go in her old age back to Kinhope. As the carriage in which she rode slowly ascended the hill toward
the comfortable looking white farm house
from the brow of which could be seen the
hills lying about, and the pretty valley
between, with a mountain peak rising in
the distance at the right, an old, old man,
digging potatoes in the field, stopped his
work and looked at the carriage coming up
the road. While he had been working he sighed often, and there came to him the
memory of a young man in the springtime
of youth, and in the spring time of the
year gone home to claim a happy bride.
It was far now, leaving dearest, from
soon to come. When he looked at the carriage turning into the driveway, he
thought:
"What poor man or woman is this, who
like myself at the end of life's journey,
comes here to the poorhouse, to be taken
care of by the town?"
He did not see who alighted, nor hear
the kind voice of the overseer's wife ask
an old woman if the journey had been hard. For this was the first journey Molly
had taken in the train, strangely enough.
The overseer's wife, Mrs. White, made
her comfortable and then going to Mr.
White, said:
"Ah," said the gentleman, "have you
not heard? We have decided not to have
it touch this place, but continue it to

The First American Coins.
The very earliest coins that can properly be said to be "strictly American" were ordered by the original Virginia company in the year 1612, only five years after the founding of Jamestown.
These coins were minted at Somerset, and were of the size of a dime. For a period of more than a quarter of a century after this, however, tobacco and beaver skins were reckoned as lawful currency. In 1645 the assembly of Virginia met and declared that it "had ma-turely weighed and considered how advantageous a coinage (coin) would be to this colony, and how much better it would be than a sole dependency upon tobacco and pelts." After this they proceeded for the coinage of copper coins of the denominations of two pence, three pence, six pence and nine pence; but this resolution was never carried into effect.
The first coinage in America proper was the series of coins "struck" at Boston under the order of the general court of Massachusetts, passed May 27, 1652, the coins being three, six and twelve pence denominations, "in forme flat and stamped on one side with the letters
'N. E.' and on the other the value of the pieces."—St. Louis Republic.

How to Dry Wet Shoes.
When, without overbores, you have been caught in a heavy rain-storm, perhaps you have known already what to do with your best kid boots, which have been thoroughly wet through, and which, if left to dry in the ordinary way, will be stiff, brittle and unlovely? If not, you will be glad to learn what I heard only recently, from one whose experience is reliable.
First wipe off gently with a soft cloth all surface water and mud; then, while still wet, rub well with kerosene oil, using for the purpose the furred side of Canton flannel. Set them aside till partially dry, when a second treatment with oil is advisable. They may then be deposited in a conveniently warm place, where they will dry gradually and thoroughly. Before applying French kid-dressing, give them a final rubbing with the flannel, still slightly dampened with kerosene, and your boots will be soft and flexible as new kid, and be very little affected by their bath in the rain.—Harper's Bazar.

Three Good Strokes.
An eminent New York divine, in the course of an address at a fraternity dinner recently, told this story. Said he: "I met a Brooklyn friend of mine a few days ago, and as he appeared to be feeling in an unusually exuberant frame of mind, I asked him why. He replied that he was happy because he had done three good actions the day before. He had met a poor woman on the street. The woman held a sickly-looking child in her arms, and she was weeping.
Inquiry showed that she was weeping because she was convinced that her child was dying, and unburied."
"But," said the Brooklyn man, "why do you not have the child baptized?"
"Because I have no money, and the fee for baptism is one dollar," said the woman.

CITY COUNCIL.
The City Council held a meeting Monday evening, at which all members were present except Councilmen Anderson, Badger and Donahoe.
Councilman Sherman moved to suspend rule 1 and that when the Council adjourns it be until Wednesday evening, Nov. 15.
Reports of Committees.
The Committee on State aid recommended $4 per month for Harriet H. Conners. Adopted.
Councilman Smith offered a resolution requesting the Mayor to have a clause in the Contract for the new High school that contractors shall give preference to citizens of Quincy capable of performing the work.
Adopted.
Councilman Sherman moved that the Councilman on Election meet Nov. 7, at 9 P. M. Adopted.
New High School.
The Committee on Ordinances reported the order of appropriating $60,000 for new high school as properly engrossed.
Councilman Shackley hoped the order
would be referred to the incoming City Council.
Councilman Williams did not believe in building the school at this time.
Councilman Shackley hoped the order
would not be referred to incoming Council as there was absolute need of a new building.
Chairman Crane of the School Board said on the question of information.
Councilman Johnson thought some members of the Council desired information.
Councilman Baker said this building was adequate for some years to come.
Councilman Holbrook was in favor of going slow and sure. He did not believe much would be gained by starting the building now.
Councilman Moron thought that as the resolution in regard to giving citizens the preference the council should appropriate the money so that they could have something to do.
Upon motion of Councilman Baker a recess of fifteen minutes was taken to examine the plans.
At the expiration of the recess Councilman Federhen withdrew his motion and the order was passed to be ordained by the following vote:
YEAS—Adams, Baker, Bass, Brown,
Federhen, Grindell, Hollen, Johnson,
Moron, O'Connell, Owen, Robinson, Rooney, Shackley, Sherman, Smith—16.
NAYS—Drake, Holbrook, Lennox, Williams—4.
ABSENT—Anderson, Badger, Donahoe—3.
Adjourned at 8:38 to meet Nov. 15.

Two Irish Misers.
An old miser lived in Naughton and seemed to be a utterly form creature, without "chick or child" belonging to him.
It was rather fortunate for the non-existent chick that such was its state, for he had an existence it would surely have lacked the means to support it. This old miser was so mean that he denied himself bread, and only kept his miserable life in

The Quincy Patriot.

SATURDAY, NOV. 4, 1893.

The Historical Society.

The regular meeting of the Quincy Historical Society was held Wednesday evening at the Probate Court room. Seven applications for membership were received. A committee consisting of W. G. Spear, J. A. Patten, ex-Mayor Porter and W. G. Spear, was appointed to arrange for the preparation and reading of papers at each regular meeting, and as many men and women prominent in the world of letters will undoubtedly deliver some interesting addresses, a rare opportunity will be given members and their friends to hear them.

A check of $50 was received from one of the prominent members of the society. The librarian reported nineteen donations consisting of books, pamphlets and manuscripts, among which were the original voting list of the town of Quincy of 1812 and a check list used by some politicians in 1822. These were voted on and accepted, and were donated by Miss Anna C. Brackett, of New York, daughter of the late Samuel Eaton Brackett.

Fires.

The alarm from Box 62 at 12:15 yesterday, was pulled in by some boys for a brush fire in the pile of Farrington street, Wollaston. A recall was sounded a few minutes later.

The alarm from Box 42 at 2:50 Thursday afternoon was rung in for a brush fire in the rear of Stanley's barn on Quarry street. It was extinguished by chemicals.

The alarm from Box 40 at 6:15 Thursday evening was for a fire in the pigery on the old Dr. Simons' farm in Braintree, which burned up and could be seen for a long distance. When Chief Engineer Ripley arrived at the fire and saw that it was out of town Engineer White was sent to ring in 3 blows and 1-2-7, the Braintree call, which notified the balance of the department that the steamer was out of town and sent the Atlantic Chemical to the Central station. The central station was also called up by telephone and Electrician Wright, who was on duty there, instructed to put a horse into the fire alarm wagon and load it with hose and be in readiness to respond to any alarm in the Centre. Engineer Merritt was also on duty at the Central station.

Meanwhile the department did some good work at the fire in Braintree saving the large barn and other buildings adjoining the pigery. The loss on the pigery will not exceed $600.

This pigery is the one that was the source of much trouble to the old Quincy Water company.

The Quincy Schools.

Supt. Lull of the public schools has received many letters asking the Quincy public schools, prompted by the exhibit at the World's Fair. Requests have also been made for a part and even the whole exhibit. The most flattering is from Edward Brooks, superintendent of the public schools of Philadelphia, who requests that all or a part of the Quincy school work at Chicago be given to the city of Philadelphia. The letter states:

"The City of Philadelphia is organizing a Museum of Pedagogy. Its object is to illustrate the various educational systems of the world, and by bringing together the materials, results and statistics, enable scholars to study and compare the methods of widely separated nations.

"The City of Philadelphia has deputed Dr. W. P. Wilson, Professor of Botany and Director of the School of Biology in the University of Pennsylvania, to receive, care for and forward any and all such gifts for the Museum in said city."

Supt. Brooks adds:

"An examination of the exhibit from your schools discloses a quantity of work in the Educational Department of the Chicago Exposition worthy of special study by teachers and others interested in education and in methods of teaching."

Quincy should feel honored when such men as Mr. Brooks and the large city of Philadelphia become so interested in its school work.

Supt. Lull is unable to give a definite answer to the request as there is a movement on foot to have the entire Massachusetts exhibit placed in the new State House in Boston.

Democratic Rally.

The Democrats held a rally at Hancock Hall, Wednesday evening. James F. Burke, chairman of the city committee, presided and introduced the several speakers of the evening, preceding each speaker by a few brief remarks.

On the stage besides the speakers were, William F. Powers, Fred F. Green, M. T. Sullivan, Councilmen Owen and Holbrook, W. P. Clendenen, and P. P. Ford. Herbert M. Peabody, Jr., candidate for Representative, was the first speaker and he was received with shouts of applause. He spoke at length upon the National and State issues, and urged upon his hearers the necessity of supporting all Democratic candidates particularly those for Representatives.

Mr. Albert P. Worthen, a candidate for reelection as Representative from this district, spoke briefly, congratulating the Democratic party. The election of Russell as governor meant that the party approved the action of President Cleveland on the repeal bill, and as that bill had passed he predicted a Democratic victory.

William J. Burke of Boston occupied nearly the whole evening speaking on the National issues and their relations to the laboring men.

W. P. Clendenen of Atlantic also spoke briefly on the labor question confining himself to attacking the labor record of Candidate Greenhalgh.

The Vacant Councilorship.

When the appointment of William B. Rice of Quincy, as councillor, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of David Hall Rice, came up for confirmation at the meeting of the Governor's Council on Thursday, Councilman Morgan moved to lay on the table for one week. In his opinion the nomination should not be made a month at least after the death of D. H. Rice. Gov. Russell asked Mr. Morgan if he was the only reason he had for asking for the postponement. "I think that is reason enough," replied Mr. Morgan.

Lieut. Gov. Wolcott did not agree with Mr. Morgan. He was prepared to vote on the question at once. The vote was: For postponement, Morgan, Keith, Breed, Jaffe and Moore; against, Wolcott, Leeson and Donovan.

Rockland Case Compromised.

The suit of the Rockland Congregational church against several insurance companies (including the Quincy Mutual) was decided on a compromise basis Monday. The jury will return a verdict for the companies, who will pay the insured a certain proportion of the loss. While the moral effect of this decision of the case will not be as potent as an unconditional verdict, it is, nevertheless, sufficient to show that as dangerous a tool as a naphtha lamp cannot be used for the purpose of burning off insurance. The decision establishes the principle for which the insurance companies fought, and at the same time, from a charitable point of view, gives the church an amount of funds much needed in the rebuilding of its edifice.

WOLLASTON.

E. L. Green of Wollaston, has moved into his new home on Botolph street.

The church vestry on Thursday evening, Supper was served at 7 o'clock.

Mr. Harry E. Pike's new house at the corner of Wintthrop and Lincoln avenues, Wollaston, will be ready for occupancy about January 1.

The ladies of the Wollaston Baptist Society gave a very pretty "Whittier Tea" in connection with their Social Circle in Mr. A. G. Olney, of Wollaston, while gunning in the swamp back of that place on Thursday afternoon, shot two large coons, one with each barrel of his gun. They weighed exactly twenty pounds.

G. W. Stover announces to the good people of Wollaston that he will deliver pure milk in glass jars at seven cents a quart.

The Sherman-Orcutt debate took place at Boynton & Russell's Hall, Friday evening.

Capt. Frank L. Merrill who recently returned from an extensive tour through the Provinces, brought home with him an interesting fire department relic, which was presented to him by Capt. D. L. Johnson, formerly foreman of the United Protective Company of Halifax. The relic is in the shape of a fireman's hat which was made in 1708. The hat is on exhibition at Home's house.

Water pipes are being laid on Lincoln avenue, between Prospect and Wintthrop avenues.

Mr. Benjamin Bland will remove from Best street to Farrington street, near the Wollaston station.

The "Woman's Christian Temperance Union" will meet in the vestry of the Congregational church, Friday, Nov. 10th, at three o'clock.

The new Temple Quartette sang at the Wollaston Congregational church on Monday evening. They were assisted by Miss A. M. Bates, reader. The church was packed, and appreciation was shown by liberal applause. The members of the quartette are Mr. E. M. Spears, Mr. L. F. Weber, Mr. Robert Bruce and Mr. E. B. Merrill.

A new hydrant is to be located at the corner of Lincoln and Wintthrop avenues.

The drugist firm of Cheney & Neill of Boston, has been dissolved. John F. Neill of Wollaston, the junior partner, retiring.

UNITARIAN CHURCH. Rev. J. E. Bagley, pastor. Morning service at 10:45. Subject: "The Bible in the light of Modern Knowledge." Sunday School at 12 M.

HASKING REE. It would have done Uncle Josh Whitcomb good to have seen the hasking bee which was given by a party of young folks at the Wollaston Congregational church vestry on Wednesday evening. Uncle Josh would have recognized some of the properties in the staging of the drama. The barn was there, true to life, if that expression may be used, with its festoons of lanterns and the usual litter of rakes, shovels, small baskets, little girls, scoops of corn, barrels and pitch forks. The play was the counterpart of an old fashioned hasking bee.

Proceeding the entertainment an old fashioned supper was served.

The success of this unique form of entertainment was due in a great part to Mr. Maud Thompson, who attended to its management.

The cast of the characters was as follows:

Uncle Josh, Mr. Chas. J. Farrell.

Benjamin, Mr. N. G. Nickerson.

Joan, Mr. Horace F. Bates.

Robert, Mr. Robert E. Witham.

Jacob, Mr. Chas. A. Tanner.

Fred, Mr. Chas. A. Tanner.

Steve, Mr. Ralph F. Alvord.

Hesekiah, Mr. Chas. B. Dickey.

Miss Mabel G. Nash.

Miss Margaret M. Thompson.

Miss Elizabeth E. Jones.

Miss Harriet K. Willis.

Miss Emma White.

Miss Maud A. Lincoln.

Real Estate Sales.

L. W. Nash, real estate agent of Wollaston, reports the following sales and leases.

Sales: Lot of land on Central avenue owned by Mary E. Black, to Alvin D. Macdonald.

The house and stables of the late Granville E. Winship has been purchased by George W. Stover of Andover, Mass., who will run a dairy.

Leases: The house owned by Hutchinson & Marshall, situated on Taylor street, to Walter A. Holbrook, of Holbrook.

E. Wilson Blake of Abington has rented the house owned by A. S. Stiggins, located on Taylor street.

Quincy Point.

Mr. Joseph L. Whitton, Jr. went to New York on Thursday. He will spend a few days in that city, and then go to Warwick, remaining a week or ten days with relatives.

Quincy Point people are petitioning the street railway for a change of running time of some of the cars.

An excellent entertainment, under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society was given in the vestry of the Point Congregational church Thursday evening.

Minnie B. Swift, pianist, Miss M. Faith Bissell, soprano soloist, and Miss H. Ropp, reader, pupils of the New England Conservatory of music formed the talent present.

These ladies arranged a most pleasing programme and carried out the same successfully.

Chicago's Sorrow.

Chicago was greatly shocked last Saturday evening when it learned of the assassination of its Mayor, Carter H. Harrison, who was cruelly shot in his own home by an insane carter, named Eugene Pendergast, who did the deed in a cool and deliberate manner.

Nothing has ever occurred in Chicago that has so disturbed and distressed its citizens as the very wicked and wanton termination of the life of Hon. Carter H. Harrison. As a director of the World's Columbian exposition he at all times sought to impress upon the people the importance of national and international character and to emphasize the fact that it was promoted by and in the interest of the people of all the world.

Carter H. Harrison was born at Lexington, Ky., Feb. 15, 1825. His father died while he was yet a babe, and his early tutelage was received from his mother and the common schools. Afterwards he entered Yale, graduating in 1845, when he was twenty-two years of age. In 1851 he travelled in Europe, Egypt, Syria, and Turkey in Asia, returning to settle in Chicago in 1855, where he engaged in the real estate business. In 1874 he was chosen a representative from Chicago, serving one term. He was elected Mayor of Chicago for the first time in 1880. Mr. Harrison had acquired considerable reputation as a linguist.

SUNDAY'S HERALD has a timely article on the meaningless names which the Old Colony (N. Y. N. H. & H.) has inflicted upon some of its stations. If a reform is to be made in this it is hoped that it will begin right at home and change the meaningless Quincy Adams to South Quincy and Wollaston Heights to the more dignified name of Wollaston. The misnaming of both of these stations causes an endless amount of confusion. In the case of Wollaston the government stepped in and officially dropped the Heights several years ago. The Western Union Telegraph Company followed suit and then the press, city officials and citizens generally dropped it. It would now seem as if it was time for the railroad to make a move in this direction. Hardly a day goes by without some station of the traveling public being greatly inconvenienced by the dual naming of villages.

Teachers in Court.

Twenty paying teachers were in the Dorchester district court on Thursday, says the Herald, charged with violation of the city ordinance by carrying loads weighing more than three tons. All pleaded not guilty through counsel, and the cases were continued two weeks. The teachers say that if the ordinance prevails they will have to give up business as they will be unable to compete with outside workers. Should it prevail it will effect the Boston Teachers' Union of 3000 members, the New England Teachers' Union of 250 members and the Quincy Paving cutters' Union of 100 members.

WEST QUINCY.

Water pipes are being laid on Willard street.

Copeland street is in fine condition now. The late laughing Chief Engineer Ripley has been very sick.

Something like eighty of the young friends of Master Harry Huntington gave him a surprise party at his home on Copeland street Friday evening.

The evening was pleasantly passed in games and the like; a supper also furnishing part of the pleasure. During the evening Master Harry was presented with a cameo ring by his friends.

The directors of the Quincy & Boston street railway have decided to give the petitioners of West Quincy, half hour cars from 3 to 9 p. m.

John Lincoln has moved from West Quincy to Mattapan.

The Barry lot on Crescent street is to be turned into a cemetery and work has already commenced.

A very pleasing entertainment was given at the West Quincy M. E. Church, Wednesday evening, under the auspices of the Ladies' Social Union. The programme consisted of the following:

Banjo duet, Messrs. Gragg and Hulme.

Reading, Miss Huntington.

Solo with guitar accompaniment, Miss Fuller.

Banjo solo, Mr. Gragg.

Reading, Miss Pierce.

Guitar solo, Mr. Fuller.

Refreshments were served and a social time ended the evening's pleasures.

Preaching at the M. E. church by the pastor at 10:30 a. m., topic, "A Witnessing Profession." Holy communion will be administered at the close of the service.

Epworth monthly concert meeting to be held by the president of the league at 8:30 p. m. The roll will be called. Praise and prayer service at 7 o'clock. A cordial invitation.

Primitive Methodists.

Services at the Primitive Mission Sunday morning at 10:45. Sunday School at 11:45. Evening service at 7 o'clock. Mr. Lewis F. Harding will have charge of the services. Public are cordially invited.

ATLANTIC.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Atlantic M. E. church are making preparations for their Christmas fair to be held at Music Hall about the first of December.

M. E. CHURCH. Rev. Herbert D. Doetz, pastor. The usual morning service of the M. E. church of Atlantic, at 10:45. Sunday, Nov. 5, at 10:45. Praise service in the evening at 7 o'clock followed by preaching. Subject: "The Poor Rich Man." Prov. XIII: 7. All are invited.

George E. Wilkins and family of Boston have taken one of the new houses on Old Colony street, and Mr. Dorchester, also of Boston, the other.

"The Power of the Press" will be the subject of Rev. J. H. Yeoman's lecture Sunday evening. In addition to the singing by the male quartette there will be songs by Miss Emma Bennett of Somerville.

It is understood that the park commissioners have purchased of Sherman & Jackson the plot of land on Atlantic near the depot, bounded by Atlantic avenue, Old Colony and Depot streets, for a public playground. One of the houses now on the land will be moved to the north side and a new building will be erected for the playground.

The new house on Botolph street, will be occupied by Mr. Green of Wollaston.

Herbert F. Coombs of Chelsea is to occupy the house on Billings street recently built by Mr. Jenkins.

The Ladies' Aid society of the Atlantic Methodist church held its supper this evening with Mrs. Chas. Parker, Wednesday evening.

The Consolidated Manufacturing Co., which was recently burned out by fire, has leased the old felt mill at the foot of Newbury avenue, Atlantic, and are moving their plant. The company make a good substitute and employ about fifteen hands. They expect to start up in about two weeks.

Silverware-Brackets.

A delightful wedding occurred at Gorham, Me. Oct. 24, the contracting parties being William Silvestro of Boston and Miss Maud M. Brackett, daughter of Lewis J. Brackett of Gorham, Me.

The ceremony was witnessed by a small circle of near relatives and friends. The presents were numerous and of high value.

Mr. and Mrs. Silvestro are upon an extended tour of the West, and when they return will reside at 15 Botolph street, Atlantic, Mass., being at home Wednesdays in December.

Quincy Point.

Mr. Joseph L. Whitton, Jr. went to New York on Thursday. He will spend a few days in that city, and then go to Warwick, remaining a week or ten days with relatives.

Quincy Point people are petitioning the street railway for a change of running time of some of the cars.

An excellent entertainment, under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society was given in the vestry of the Point Congregational church Thursday evening.

Minnie B. Swift, pianist, Miss M. Faith Bissell, soprano soloist, and Miss H. Ropp, reader, pupils of the New England Conservatory of music formed the talent present.

These ladies arranged a most pleasing programme and carried out the same successfully.

Chicago's Sorrow.

Chicago was greatly shocked last Saturday evening when it learned of the assassination of its Mayor, Carter H. Harrison, who was cruelly shot in his own home by an insane carter, named Eugene Pendergast, who did the deed in a cool and deliberate manner.

Nothing has ever occurred in Chicago that has so disturbed and distressed its citizens as the very wicked and wanton termination of the life of Hon. Carter H. Harrison. As a director of the World's Columbian exposition he at all times sought to impress upon the people the importance of national and international character and to emphasize the fact that it was promoted by and in the interest of the people of all the world.

Carter H. Harrison was born at Lexington, Ky., Feb. 15, 1825. His father died while he was yet a babe, and his early tutelage was received from his mother and the common schools. Afterwards he entered Yale, graduating in 1845, when he was twenty-two years of age. In 1851 he travelled in Europe, Egypt, Syria, and Turkey in Asia, returning to settle in Chicago in 1855, where he engaged in the real estate business. In 1874 he was chosen a representative from Chicago, serving one term. He was elected Mayor of Chicago for the first time in 1880. Mr. Harrison had acquired considerable reputation as a linguist.

SUNDAY'S HERALD has a timely article on the meaningless names which the Old Colony (N. Y. N. H. & H.) has inflicted upon some of its stations. If a reform is to be made in this it is hoped that it will begin right at home and change the meaningless Quincy Adams to South Quincy and Wollaston Heights to the more dignified name of Wollaston. The misnaming of both of these stations causes an endless amount of confusion. In the case of Wollaston the government stepped in and officially dropped the Heights several years ago. The Western Union Telegraph Company followed suit and then the press, city officials and citizens generally dropped it. It would now seem as if it was time for the railroad to make a move in this direction. Hardly a day goes by without some station of the traveling public being greatly inconvenienced by the dual naming of villages.

Teachers in Court.

Twenty paying teachers were in the Dorchester district court on Thursday, says the Herald, charged with violation of the city ordinance by carrying loads weighing more than three tons. All pleaded not guilty through counsel, and the cases were continued two weeks. The teachers say that if the ordinance prevails they will have to give up business as they will be unable to compete with outside workers. Should it prevail it will effect the Boston Teachers' Union of 3000 members, the New England Teachers' Union of 250 members and the Quincy Paving cutters' Union of 100 members.

The Quincy Patriot.

Week of Prayer for Young Men.

For a number of years the Young Men's Christian Association of the world has observed the week commencing with the second Sunday in November as a special season of prayer and work for young men. For some months the local association has been planning to observe this custom this year by special evangelistic services.

With this end in view the services of Evangelist John M. Dick and Mr. F. H. Leach, gospel singer, have been secured. Commencing Sunday afternoon there will be meetings each day except Friday. Separate meetings will be held for men and for boys. The various pastors of the city have been asked to preach Sunday on the needs of young men, and several of them will do so.

Sunday evening, at the Congregational church, the work of the International Committee will be presented briefly and a collection taken for that work. Mr. Dick will speak on "Soul Winning" and Mr. Leach will sing.

It is earnestly requested that the Christian people of the city will remember these meetings.

The services for the week are as follows: Men's meetings, Sunday, at 4 o'clock. Subject: "A Trail in the Camp." The other meetings will be held at the evening.

Monday,—"Possibilities" a talk to Christians.

Tuesday,—"A Thrilling Experience." Wednesday,—"A Spiritual Question." Thursday,—"Secret Sins Sowing to the Wind."

Saturday,—"The Triple Appeal." The first boys' meeting will be held Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. All others in the evening at 7 o'clock. The subjects for the boys' meetings are as follows: Sunday,—"A Duel, Boys against Devil." Monday,—"A Chemical Talk." Illustrated.

Tuesday,—"A Magnet Talk." Illustrated.

Thursday,—"A Decayed Boy." A personal purity talk.

Saturday,—"Pencil Talk." Illustrated. All meetings will be held in the Association rooms.

Mr. Dick, who will have charge of these meetings is a young man who for a number of years has worked for boys and young men, and has made a special study of them as to receive preference in his instruction.

Miss Adelaide Josephine, youngest daughter of Mrs. Irene H. W. Argy, formerly of this city, was united in marriage to Mr. Frank Burrington of Chicago, on Nov. 1st.

Several have made applications to the Mayor for the pen which was to be used for the High School, and the Mayor has given it to H. W. Lull, Superintendent of Schools.

The Electric Light and Power Co., has made a reduction of 20 per cent on their meter rate, which will bring the rate to one cent per lamp hour. The new rate takes effect Nov. 15.

That box at Drake & Co., that held $25 in gold, was opened last week Friday; Mr. Frank Crook, an employee of G. F. Wilson & Co., was the one who held the lucky key.

A strong pressure will be brought to bear on Mr. William B. Rice by prominent members of both parties to have him allow his name to be used as Citizen's candidate for Mayor.

The Guild of the Great Teachers will meet at the ladies' parlour Sunday evening at 7 o'clock. Topic, "Our Churches." All the young people and others are cordially invited.

Mr. Marshall P. Nye on Coddington street celebrated his seventy-first birthday Monday evening. He was in his usual good health and enjoyed the evening with a few neighbors who called to congratulate him.

Owing to the special evangelistic meeting at the Young Men's Christian Association rooms, there will be no meeting of the Young Men's Congress next week. The next meeting will be held November 28.

The Universalist Ladies' Association announce another one of their baked bean suppers for next Wednesday evening. See advertisement in another column for the talent to appear at the entertainment after the supper.

Among the State officials whose terms expire this year are: Herbert A. Federick, as Justice of the Supreme Court, and John Quincy Adams, as Justice of the Supreme Court of the Massachusetts.

New arrivals at The Greenleaf are: C. E. Golding, P. S. Ring, N. M. Belding, W. F. Fowler of Boston; W. L. Chase, Portland, Me.; H. A. Lambert, New York; Rev. W. B. Reed, Concord; Miss Annie Reed, Lynn; E. H. Googins, Cambridge.

The Neighbourly club met Monday evening with Dr. and Mrs. G. W. Gary at their home on Washington street. A pleasing entertainment was provided by the host and hostess which was greatly enjoyed. Refreshments were served.

Quincy Court of Foresters held their social assembly Thursday evening at Hancock hall, a large party attending, who enjoyed a pleasant evening. The floor was in charge of John A. Avery, John H. Dinegan, Henry De Costa, Robert E. Foy and J. A. McDonnell.

The alarm from Box 23 at 7:30 Wednesday evening, was rung in for a small fire in the building at the rear of the PATRIOT building. The fire was extinguished by the fire engine in about two minutes and the fire was extinguished by chemicals.

Horatio Ely, a veteran fireman of Boston, died Saturday at the residence of his sister in law, Mrs. Thomas B. Tilton, at 18 Quincy avenue, aged 79 years. He was born in Boston in 1814 and became a member of the Boston Fire Department in 1842, being attached to Engine 20 on East street.

The Columbian Whist Club met for the first time Thursday evening at the home of Mr. Harry Winslow on Edwards street. The club is to meet every Thursday evening during the winter and prizes are to be awarded every other week. Mr. Frank Bassett was chosen president, and Miss Frances Tarbox secretary and treasurer.

Rev. Lyander Dickerman, D. D., will again preach in First Church tomorrow. The Parish Assessors earnestly request a full attendance of members of the church and parish. The public is cordially welcomed at all times. Rev. Benjamin R. Bulkeley, formerly of Concord, Mass., will supply the pulpit on Nov. 19, and Dec. 3.

The booming of the candidacy at Francis W. Durling at Hyde Park for the Speakership at the next House of Representatives meets with general approval everywhere. The fitness and ability of the candidate is well recognized by all. It seems to us that the Norfolk County is a claim to this position. She has always been loyal and done her duty at the polls, and we believe that when the Legislature meets, that the voice of Norfolk County will be heard and recognized.

Charles Wiles who was at Douglas Neck Friday had one of his arms shattered by the accidental explosion of his gun. He was taken to the Quincy Hospital.

QUINCY CENT.

The result of the election in Ward Two shows that good work and a determined effort will do it.

The Globe reports Edgar H. Thomas, 60 Dearborn street, dealer in dry goods and gent's furnishings, a petitioner in insolvency. He places his liabilities at $2500. His assets consist of his store of goods, subject to a mortgage of $300, held by H. W. Sprague. Mr. Thomas was formerly a resident of Quincy City.

The Quincy & Boston street railway have established electric lights along Wharf street which they are furnishing free of charge, and they have received a vote of thanks for so doing from the citizens.

Mr. Walter S. Redding and family have closed their home in this place and gone to their maiden residence for the winter. Mr. T. B. Thomas started this week on his annual trip in the interest of his ham-mock business, and will go west as far as Kansas City.

Several young ladies at the Point have a social entertainment in preparation to be given in the auditorium of the Washington Street Congregational Church, on Thursday the 22d inst. The names of the artists who will appear at that time are a sufficient guarantee that the evening will be one of great enjoyment to all who may attend. Already a large number of tickets have been sold, and it is the desire of the committee to net as much as possible for the benefit of the church.

Foot Ball Today.

A football game is to be played at Merrymont Park, Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock, between Adams Academy and graduates of the school. The graduates are all members of Harvard College and confidently expect to win as they are familiar with many D-and trunks and hope to be coached by some efficient member of theVarsity squad if there is time before the game. The teams will line up as follows:

GRADUATES. ADAMS ACADEMY. B. R. Porter full back C. P. Slade full back T. S. Hall full back W. F. Porter right half back H. J. Keck W. B. Carter, quarter back D. J. Kent A. C. Wendell left end D. B. Councillor Rice.

The executive council met Thursday says the Herald, and unanimously confirmed the Governor's nomination of Hon. William B. Rice of Quincy, as a member of the executive council, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Councillor David Hall Rice.

The nomination was made two meetings ago, and had been laid upon the table one week. Councillors Donovan and Morse were absent.

Before confirmation, Lieut. Gov. Wolcott asked and said:

"I shall vote to confirm the nomination, although, I admit, not without some degree of hesitation."

"Of the personal fitness of the nominee there can be no doubt, but this is a Republican district, and I think the nomination of a Republican would have been more proper and more in accord with the wishes of the district."

"If, through resignation or otherwise, a vacancy should occur in the district at present so ably represented by Councillor Donovan, I think the nomination of a Republican by a Republican Governor would fall to meet the perfectly reasonable demands of the district."

"I regret that his excellency has not seen fit to act upon this principle, which seems to me to be only fair and just. If the proposed nomination involved any change in the political complexion of the council, or if the vacancy had occurred earlier in the year, when questions of greater importance remained to be acted on by the council, I should probably have felt it my duty to insist that a Republican district should be represented by a Republican councillor, but for the remainder of the year I do not feel that any wrong can possibly be done to me by this fair and just. THE RISING SUN STOVE POLISH.

THE LARGEST FACTORY OF ITS KIND IN THE WORLD.

Has a capacity of 10 TONS OF STOVE POLISH PER DAY.

The front-kings come by stealth at night. Painting the leaves in colors bright. With magic wand in twinkling light. He breathes upon each stave and tree: O'er hickory, walnut and the oak. He sheds a variegated cloak. And as they open their sleep: eyes His breath comes thick from chilly skies. The morning sun, in mild repair, Sweeps from the fens and the roof The crystal footstep of the rain; He smiles upon each leaf and blade. And welcome to his genial rays The friendship of a rustic haze; While voices through the hill and dell Echo clear as silver bells. Glad, golden days! Oh, mystic haze! And all the swelling symphonies Of ringing shouts and children's mirth— The bidden notes patter to earth: The scolding of a sunny day. Ah, glories of an autumn day! Of earthly paradise a type— The frost-crowned woods, when nuts are ripe.

—This year's grape crop is the largest in many years.

—President Cleveland has appointed Thursday, Nov. 30, as a day of public thanksgiving and praise.

—It is said that a cranberry bog of three acres near Taunton produced this year nearly five hundred barrels of berries.

—The town of Holbrook has come to the necessity of night patrol by the recent burglaries, and the selectmen have appointed Charles H. Holbrook.

—We are sorry to note the severe blow which has recently fallen on our sister town, Randolph, at this time. The failure and death of several of her business men has closed nearly all of her shops and business there is nearly at a standstill. The Randolph National Bank has decided to go out of business and the prospect is very dark. It is too bad, but we hope our Randolph friends will not give up in despair, but push forward to the future, always remembering that it is always darkest before the dawn. Tomorrow the sun will be shining although it is cloudy today. —Stoughton Sentinel.

—George H. Cochran of Saugus has entered suit against the town of Franklin for the sum of $200.00. Cochran is the man who was arrested some months ago for alleged complicity in a lottery in the form of a clothing club scheme. After his arrest he was put in the lockup where he remained for some time. Cochran had a fire in the stove, and through some defect in the chimney or the stove damper, the place was filled with smoke which Cochran was compelled to endure until he attracted the notice of someone outside, when a key to the lockup was procured and the man released. The action against the town is on account of his mental and bodily anguish at that time.

"Castoria is an excellent medicine for children. Mothers have repeatedly told me of its good effect upon their children."

Castoria.

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as a safe and reliable prescription known to me."

Dr. H. A. Brock, M. D., 111 So. Oxford St., Boston, N. Y.

"Our physicians in the children's department have spoken highly of their experience in using Castoria in their practice, and although we only have a small stock of the various quack nostrums which are destroying their loved ones, by forcing opium, morphia, soothing syrup and other hurtful agents down their throats, thereby sending them to premature graves."

Dr. J. F. Kitchin, Lowell, Mass.

—A man in Maine has been trying his luck in raising peapods. He did very well for an experiment, having raised nearly to prove that peapods can be grown there. The crop was scarcely large enough to base many hopes on, as he gathered but six quarts. Next year he proposes to plant enough ground to have a good supply of the ground nuts. Here is a hint for the boys who are growing peapods in the field. The unkind nuts may be got from any dealer in those things. They need a fair degree of heat, and can be grown in a box in a kitchen, if one wants to experiment with something new.

—After the death of General Pakenham, at the battle of New Orleans, his viscera were removed, preparatory to shipping the body to England. The viscera were found to be diseased, including other internal organs, were wrapped in cotton and buried between two peapods, which, although in a flourishing condition at the time, never afterward grew, and the body was known far and wide as "the cured peapods." The body was secretly shipped to England in a cask of wine.

—There is a law upon the statute books of this Commonwealth, that is daily broken by our citizens. The law provides that one feeding a tramp is liable to a fine not exceeding $100. Many kind-hearted people feed tramps for fear they will suffer from hunger, but any man giving food or lodging can secure both at any time by applying to the overseers of the poor. The tramps who invade private residences and make themselves nuisances are generally fellows who are afraid to face prison in authority.—Medford News.

Poetry.
Twilight.
BY HARRIET PRESCOTT STAFFORD.

Slowly dies the long June day,
Softly rolls the earth away,
Lover's light at length divine,
All a dream of misty bloom,
Twining stars and golden glow,
Larger heavens and sweeter glow,
Which is dearer, dusk or day?

Where the glory dyed the dark,
Lo! in light the ruby spark,
Violet gleam, and saffron splendor,
Maiden's smile into one,
When the long June day is done,
All the depths thro' close and tender-
Is it day, or is it dark?

Lo! the long June day had life,
Silver shadows and sunny strife-
Now its rosy twilight fades away,
Eid's wat' twilight fills our eyes,
Yet what freedom of the skies
Parts the star-stown way before us-
Is it death, or is it life?

A Racking Cough
Cured by Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.
Mrs. P. D. HALL, 217 Genessee St., Lockport, N. Y., says:
"Over thirty years ago, I remember hearing my father describe the wonderful curative effects of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. During a recent attack of La Grippe, which assumed the form of a croup, soreness of the lungs accompanied by an aggravating cough, I used various remedies and prescriptions.
While some of these medicines partially alleviated the coughing during the day, none of them afforded me any relief from that spasmodic action of the lungs which would seize me the moment I attempted to lie down at night. After ten or twelve such nights, I was

and had decided to sit up all night in my own chair, and procure what sleep
I could in that way. It then occurred to me that I had a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. I took a spoonful of this preparation a little while, and was able to lie down without coughing. In a few moments, I fell asleep, and awoke in the morning feeling refreshed and feeling much better. I took a teaspoonful of the Pectoral every night for a week, then gradually decreased the dose, and in two weeks my cough was cured."

Notice.
"That reminds me of an incident," said Uncle Zarah. "That riding matter may think he knows it all so far as 'grace' is concerned, though his ideas of grace differ with mine materially; but I'd like to tell him about one woman I have known who 'had been accustomed to the management of horses in rural parts or on the plains,' who had been a home on a horse's back all her life, and seldom her official gait but a 'gallop,' who could gallop it
over any rider in this city for grace."

Uncle passed to polish his glasses, then remarked interrogatively: "You remember Mrs. -? Her name was Cap-tola. Did I ever tell you how Cap-
tola rode her husband?"

"It was an early September morning in the late sixties. The summer rains had made vegetation rank, and the buffalo grass was then thickly matted, brown and dry as powder. The night had been gray and still and given place to a sky like copper in the morning, and a strange stillness brooded in the air.

"I had been giving orders for branding a bunch of stock to send to the lower range, and I came upon the prairie, I discovered Cap. in herding old riding habit, sitting on the edge, swinging her head and snapping a quirt, her pony browsing just in front of her, and beside her was Henry-the owner of the big 'Horse and section her official gait but a 'gallop,' who could gallop it
over any rider in this city for grace."

"That would be to polish his glasses, then remarked interrogatively: "You remember Mrs. -? Her name was Cap-
tola. Did I ever tell you how Cap-
tola rode her husband?"

The Quincy Patriot.

SATURDAY, NOV. 18, 1893.

The Week's Burial.

Burials paid Quincy another visit Monday night or early Tuesday morning, and the shock attendant upon their visit has proved fatal to one lady.

The places visited were those of Mrs. Ruby Arnold on Walnut street, Atlantic and John Harkins of Main street, and Mrs. A. A. Harlow of South street.

At Mrs. Arnold's entrance was had through a back window by breaking the glass and unfastening the latch lock. The lady who was 76 years of age, was alone in the house at the time and was awakened only to find a man standing by her bedside finding a black mark.

She grappled with the fellow and tried to tear the mask from his face. A fierce struggle took place during which the fellow with a desperate effort tore himself away and rushed down stairs and out the front door.

Mrs. Arnold who was now thoroughly frightened rushed into another room and jumped out of a window to the ground, a distance of 30 feet.

In the fall Mrs. Arnold's back was injured severely and her screams awakened the neighbors who rushed to her assistance. She was taken to the residence of Mr. Knowles, and medical aid summoned. It was found that no bones had been broken, but it was feared that internal injuries coupled with the shock, would prove too much for her system, owing to her advanced age.

The fellow secured no plunder. At the residence of Mr. Harkins on Main street, the parties ransacked through the house and carried away a gold watch and $75 in money.

At the residence of Mrs. A. A. Harlow a gold watch valued at $140, $25 in money and $20 in jewelry stolen.

Officers Holloran and McGrath arrested Maurice Cummings and Robert Hurley Thursday evening for breaking and entering the residence of Mrs. Ruby A. Arnold at Atlantic.

Both of these young fellows live on the same street as Mrs. Arnold and suspicion was directed to them from the first by the police who have kept the matter quiet until they had their men safe behind the bars.

Cummings has a bad reputation, and many things have been said at his door, although up to the present time he has succeeded in covering his tracks so well as to elude the police.

He came to Atlantic from South Boston about a year ago and at that time the officers of Station 6, South Boston, notified Chief Langley that his reputation was anything but good. Since he has been in Quincy he has been driving a junk wagon for a living.

Hurley is an Atlantic boy and up to the present case the police have nothing against him, and say as far as they know his reputation has been good. He was a member of the last persons that they ever thought to see in a scrape of this kind. He has been employed by Peter Martin driving a tip cart.

Cummings when questioned denied all knowledge of the break. When questioned as to where he was that night, he said he was out and met another fellow whose name he had forgotten.

Hurley, however, when arrested and confronted with the charge, broke down and confessed that they were the ones that entered the house. He said that on the night in question he had met Cummings, and that both went over to look up Cummings finally proposed that they enter Mrs. Arnold's house to which he consented. Cummings broke a window and turned the catch and crawled in. He then opened the door and let Hurley in. Hurley did not say anything about their eating all there was in the house, but says he was so drunk that he did not know anything, and that he sat in a chair while Cummings went to the kitchen.

They were arrested for breaking and entering the house of Mrs. Arnold. Cummings pleaded not guilty and Hurley said guilty but upon advice of his counsel, said not guilty.

The evidence of the government was practically the same as already published. The only defense offered was by Cummings, who took the stand and told his story, substantially as follows:

Monday night he went to Boston to pay a bill for his father and on his way out he stopped at Rogers' barroom at Field's Corner, where he purchased a bottle of liquor for his father. He met Hurley at the bar and treated him to several drinks. They then took a car for South Boston where they got off and started to walk home. When they reached Barry's store in Atlantic there was a row in progress in which they became mixed up. When the row ended, they started toward home, Hurley leading the way, while he brought up in the rear, leading a man who was intoxicated. He did not know the man's name, but had met him in the cars the Sunday night previous to the break. He described as 5 feet 5 inches tall, and was dressed in black clothes and soft hat. He had high cheek bones and looked as though he was in the last stages of consumption. He supposed that he was an American. When they reached Walnut street he had a "scrap" with the man, during which he got his face cut. Breaking away he left the fellow with Hurley and went home where he arrived at about 12:30.

When asked if he had drunk anything that night he replied nothing but a little tonic. He formerly drank, but had taken the pledge two weeks ago.

After hearing all of the evidence the court found probable cause to be held the prisoners guilty, and held Cummings in $1,000 for the grand jury and Hurley in $500.

It is thought that when the case comes before the grand jury and hears the additional evidence that will be presented, that they will indict Cummings for manslaughter.

The officers deserve to be complimented upon their good work in bringing the probable parties in this case to justice. It is probable that Hurley will get bail but Cummings will not. Should Cummings be fortunate enough to be bailed he will be immediately arrested for manslaughter.

The funeral of Mrs. Arnold will be held this morning and her body taken to Taunton for interment.

"It is said that on Monday this lady, who enjoyed good health retired at night intending to visit friends at Taunton the next day, should now be going to the same place but under different circumstances."

Both of the young men are twenty-two years of age; and Hurley, a year or more ago, worked for some time for Col. Packard.

The Republicans will hold their caucus this evening in all the wards for choice of Councilman, School Committee, Ward Committee and delegates to Municipal Convention.

The executors of the estate of L. H. Kingsbury, who sued the owners of a runaway team in Boston to recover $25,000 for causing his death, obtained a verdict of $1 in the Dedham court on Thursday.

CITY BRIEFS.

Mrs. Charles Politz is very sick with tonsillitis.

Ponds were frozen over yesterday morning.

First snow squall of the winter yesterday afternoon.

O'Neill the fruit man has moved into store next to the PATRIOT office.

Mrs. Charles F. Adams and daughters called Saturday from New York for Europe. The Adams Academy eleven will play the Hopkinton second team at foot ball today.

Driver Brown of the Hook and Ladder has been off duty this week owing to illness.

Mr. Paul R. Blackmer is mentioned as a possible Democratic candidate for School Committee at large.

The committee on the G. A. R. fair to be held next week announce the attractions for each evening in today's paper.

There was no business from Quincy, Braintree or Weymouth at the probate court in Dedham on Wednesday.

Miss Sullivan has opened dressmaking rooms at No. 10 Hancock street, and invites her customers to call and see her.

There will be a special meeting of the Fragment Society in the Unitarian chapel, Wednesday afternoon, Nov. 22, at 2 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Tilton entertained the Hancock whist club Wednesday evening at their residence on Merry Mount road.

A very fine musical entertainment will be given at The Greenleaf on Monday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Durgin entertained the Nonpareil club last week Friday evening at The Greenleaf. Supper was served during the evening.

The members of the Quincy Y. M. C. A. foot ball team were entertained with refreshments Saturday after the game by J. A. Stetson Pierce.

The degree staff of Mount Encampment, I. O. O. F., F. E. Badger, degree master, worked the Patriarchal degree on Tuesday last.

The Guild of the Great Teacher will meet in the ladies' parlor Sunday evening at 7 o'clock. Topic: "Self Control."

All the young people and others are welcome.

At a drive-whist party of the members of the Granite City club on Wednesday evening, the first prize was taken by E. W. Porter of Braintree and the second by W. F. Ewell.

Rev. W. Richardson of East Cambridge gave an illustrated lecture on the Old Testament with 50 magnificent views at St. Paul's church Thursday night, for the benefit of the Sunday School.

At the request of ten or more voters in writing, a ballot shall be taken at any caucus called under the provisions of the Act of 1893, and it would not be surprising if the request was made at the coming caucus.

Hon. William B. Rice of this city was present at the meeting of the Governor's Council on Tuesday, qualified for the office and took the seat of the late David Hall Rice of Brookline. Little business of importance was transacted.

The members of the School Committee who were elected to office on Monday, are: Hon. A. Keith at large, Rev. Ambrose F. Roche from Ward Four and Mr. Elijah G. Hall from Ward Six. It is said that all three do not desire a reelection.

The funeral of Mrs. Amelia D. Bumpas was held Tuesday afternoon from her late residence on Maple place, and was largely attended. Rev. Edward Norton officiated and the Episcopal church furnished music. The interment was at Mt. Wollaston cemetery.

We felt sorry to learn that Mr. James Meers was under the weather at his home in Brookline, but hope soon to hear of his being fully restored to health. His large circle of friends, visitors at the Great Hill House, Houghs Neck, extend their sympathy.

Among the deaths this week will be noticed that of Mr. Alexander Walker, who died at 488 South Street, San Francisco on the 30th ult. He was a son of Joseph and Jane Walker, formerly of Quincy, and a brother of Jennie, Sarah and the late Hugh Walker; and also of the late Mrs. Nell.

Rev. Mr. Philbrook has announced a course of Sunday evening lectures on the "Principles of the first lessons" will be given in the Universalist church, next Sunday evening, at 7 o'clock. Subject: "The Man of Principle in Politics and Business;" as illustrated in a Prime Minister and others."

The Misses Prescott of Spear street, announced the wedding Wednesday of Miss Elizabeth W. Diblee and Mr. Henry Jordan Ide, at the St. John's Episcopal church, Roxbury. Immediately after the ceremony an informal reception was held at the bride's home on Greenville street, and breakfast served to about seventy-five.

The closing reading in the subscription course given by Miss Thompson was held with Mrs. George W. Morton of Spear street. These readings and talks have been very interesting and profitable, and it is hoped that the closing one will be no exception.

A pleasant feature of the Monday afternoon meeting was the singing by Mrs. McCallan.

At the regular meeting of Maple lodge, No. 313, Wednesday evening, three new members were elected and five new applications received. At the close of the business, card playing and peanuts were enjoyed. At the next meeting, Dec. 6, the committee on the good of the order have an elaborate programme in progress and one of the best times of the term is expected.

William B. Orent, Esq., of Wollaston, gave a talk on Scotland at the Congregational church, Thursday evening, for the benefit of the Quincy Flower Mission. It was illustrated with the stereopticon. Mr. Orent proved to be a very entertaining lecturer and his description and views of the many public buildings and places in and about the principal cities of Scotland were very much enjoyed.

It is no secret that the Republicans of Ward One will not endorse Mr. C. F. Adams, 2d, for the Council this year, and few names are suggested for the one or more vacancies. A good one might be selected from the following list: George Saville, W. T. Babcock, Charles B. Tilton, E. F. Carr, N. B. Farnard, E. W. Shepard, A. E. Sproul, C. Theodore Hardwick, A. H. Gilson, S. A. Foster, W. H. Fay.

Work improving Adams street is being pushed rapidly forward and when completed it will be one of the best streets in the city. The street from President's bridge to the residence of Hon. William B. Rice is practically completed and a very pretty piece of road it is. The edges of the sidewalk have been sodded as far as the street has been completed. Commencing at the top of the hill the street has been widened to 45 feet.

The ward officers will have to be held either this week or on Monday, as the new election law "certificates of nomination for the nomination of candidates for city offices shall be filed on or before the second Wednesday preceding the day of election." This brings the date for filing papers with City Clerk Spear on Wednesday, Nov. 22, thus necessitating the holding of the municipal convention on Tuesday the caucus of course preceding the convention by at least one day.

WOLLASTON.

The Y. M. C. A. foot ball team go to Campello today.

Rev. Mr. Bred, the new rector of Christ's church, will officiate Sunday for the first time.

The sidewalk in front of the old Hancock cemetery is receiving a coat of concrete dressing.

Mr. Sylvester Brown is giving a series of talks to the teachers of the Quincy schools on language and grammar.

The new combination fire engine which is expected to arrive at Atlantic in a few days will be named "Quincy No. 21."

Prof. Stockton entertained the members of the Quincy Cycle club Thursday evening with a slight of hand performance.

Mr. James M. Hayden was sorry to learn has been on the sick list and we hope to see him at his place of business soon.

A meeting of the Citizens' temperance committee will be held in the rooms of the Young Men's Christian Association, Tuesday evening, Nov. 21, at 7:30 o'clock.

The pulpit of First church will be supplied as follows: Nov. 19 and Dec. 3, Rev. Benjamin R. Bulkeley of Concord, Mass.; Nov. 26, Dr. William Everett; Dec. 10, Rev. Dr. Lyander Dickman. Hospital Sunday will occur Nov. 20.

The Columbian Whist Club met at Mr. Fred Abbot's, on Hancock street, Thursday evening. First prizes being taken by Miss Grace Spear of Cambridge, and Mr. Harry Winslow of Quincy, while Miss Jennie Ewell, of Quincy, received the trophies.

The Republicans of Ward One will hold their caucus for the nomination of three councilmen and to elect delegates to the Municipal Convention on Saturday evening, Nov. 18, at Headquarters, at 8 o'clock. Members of the Ward Committee will also be elected.

We would call the attention of our citizens to the large sale of High grade Jersey stock on Monday next, at Glen Rose farm, East Braintree. Seldom, if ever, is such a large chance to get good cattle at auction as on this occasion. B. N. Adams is the popular auctioneer Monday next.

Yesper service at Wollaston Unitarian church Sunday, 7 o'clock.

Organ Voluntary, Mrs. Chandler Smith, Hymn, Congregation Invocation.

Benediction.

Blake-Cushing.

The Herald reports a very pretty wedding to have occurred at the residence of Henry J. Cushing, Rockland, last week Thursday evening, the contracting party being his daughter, Miss E. Cushing, and Mr. Wilson Blake of Abington.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. F. A. Balcome of the Congregational church. Mr. and Mrs. Blake are to reside in Wollaston.

The Rockland Standard says "the bride presented a lovely appearance that was more than white. She wore an elegant costume of white china silk, cut en train with high neck and sleeves, supplemented by a broad veil, and carried a beautiful bouquet of lilies of the valley. The bridegroom wore a tuxedo suit, and the bridesmaids were in white and carried bouquets of lilies of the valley. The wedding was a most successful one, and the guests were very numerous."

Over 100 pupils are attending the evening school in the Willard building.

The bakery in Smith block on Copeland street is to be removed to the West Quincy house.

Miss Nellie Cunningham, of North Adams, has been the guest of Mrs. McGowan of West Quincy.

Preaching at the Primitive Mission school, at 10:30. Sunday school at 10 o'clock. Evening service 7 o'clock. All are cordially invited.

The West Quincy Epworth League held a business meeting Monday evening.

Rev. A. F. Roche announced publicly in Ward Four on Sunday, that he was not a candidate for reelection on the school committee.

St. Mary's C. T. A. & M. R. society has elected these officers:

President—Michael Moriarty. Vice President—Patrick Kellher. Recorder—John Reardon. Corresponding Secretary—Thomas Kane. Treasurer—John McGowan. Trustees—John McGowan, Wilfred Dalpe, Patrick Milford, William Kiley.

Among those mentioned as probable candidates for school committee from Ward Four are, William D. Burns, John Ash, M. D., and Stephen B. Little.

Thomas C. Driscoll, M. D., of New York, is visiting his mother, Mrs. Ryevoft on Chubbuck street.

The Magazine Club held its annual meeting with Miss K. A. Ryevoft on Wednesday evening. The club is about entering upon its seventh year and the interest which has been manifested in the same since its organization is as great as ever. A choice of officers resulted in a reelection of the faithful board of last year, viz. Mr. Frederick H. Smith, President and Treasurer, Mr. T. B. Pollard, Assistant Treasurer and Miss K. A. Ryevoft, Secretary.

An auction of the magazines of '93 resulted in a satisfactory disposition of nearly all the periodicals, adding quite a sum to the treasury.

The list as arranged for the coming year contains the following selection: Harper's Weekly, London Graphic, Review of Reviews, Art Amateur, Arena, North American Review, Cosmopolitan, St. Nicholas, Harper's Monthly, Life, Century, Harper's Magazine.

At the conclusion of the business Miss Ryevoft served an excellent supper to her guests. All present found the evening most enjoyable.

The young ladies forming the committee in charge of the entertainment, to be given at the Point church next Wednesday evening, have already insured the success of the same, by the sale of a large number of tickets.

The entertainment will be first class, and all who can should attend.

ATLANTIC.

Rev. George Guyer, pastor of the New Old South chapel, Boston, will preach in the Methodist Episcopal church will be held on Wednesday evening.

Mr. Guyer has a reputation for oratory, having won in a number of prize contests in the west.

Timberlake & Small are out with a handsome new delivery wagon.

Mr. Bolechiar has commenced work on the foundation of a new house at Norfolk Downs.

W. H. Campbell has moved from Atlantic to Boston and Mr. Haskell has moved from Billings street to Boston.

At the monthly business meeting of the Epworth League of Atlantic, there will be a short entertainment and a talk by Mr. and Mrs. Helms on their mission work.

Fred Boyden will build a house on Billings street.

W. F. Brown and family are to move from Billings street to Derby, N. H.

Contractor Brown has commenced the foundation for three new houses on the Howe estate, Squantum street.

M. E. Church, preaching at 10:30 A. M., by the pastor. Topic: "Unconditional opposition declared the work of the Christian church." Epworth meeting at 6:30, and praise and prayer service at 7 o'clock. All are cordially invited to these services.

Mr. Baswick with his solo on the harp and mandolin, captivated the audience, and proved himself a master of those instruments.

Prof. Stockton occupied half an hour with foot in leg and hand in magic, proving both old and young by the cleverness of his performance.

The selections by the Albion quartette of this city were received with well merited applause, and being so well recalled and we predict for the young gentlemen a most favorable reception upon their next appearance at the same place which we expect soon to be able to announce.

Prof. Stockton concluded the entertainment with limitations upon the violin, showing himself master of that instrument as well as of the magician's wand.

The entertainment was preceded by an excellent supper, and the ladies have long had the reputation of providing, and we advise our readers to watch our advertising columns, for future announcements of this society, for we know of no other place where one can get so much for their money.

The Rockland Standard says "the bride presented a lovely appearance that was more than white. The entertainment will be first class, and all who can should attend.

Mr. T. B. Pollard principal of the Washington school, who has been seriously ill with typhoid fever, is reported as being better and on the road to rapid recovery.

Letters are advertised at the Quincy Point postoffice for the following named persons: Joseph Christie, Messrs. Peter Corbett, Mr. John E. Deane, Wm. F. E. Leahy, Mrs. Mary Myette, Mrs. A. S. Thayer.

Hon. John Shaw has been elected to the executive committee of the Home Market club.

Ward Two Republicans are active this year, but realize they must nominate strong men for the Council if they would be successful. Councilman Johnson is a candidate for reelection. Among those mentioned for the two places are: Frank F. Crane, James R. Wild, Joseph L. Whiton, James H. Webb, Frank S. Patch and George E. Pfaffman.

Chairman Johnson has called the Republican caucus for Ward Two for this evening.

—Rev. Eugene C. Webster was installed Thursday evening a pastor of the Trinity Congregational church at Neponset.

Y. M. C. A. Meetings.

The need of special work for the young men was the theme in several of the pulpits Sunday. The multitude of temptations surrounding them was portrayed and the great need of special work for the class which controls the moral condition of the community was especially emphasized.

The work of the Young Men's Christian Association in their endeavor to develop the highest ideal of spiritual, physical and intellectual life was heartily endorsed, and the people were urged to aid in every way possible the local association in its work.

The special meetings, one for boys at three o'clock and the others for men at four o'clock, in the Association hall, which were conducted by Evangelist John M. Dick, were well attended and very impressive. Over seventy boys listened attentively to Mr. Dick's stirring address on "A Duel—Boy against Devil—who wins."

He said that boys had to fight the devil in the home, in the school, in the church, in and in his world. Deceit, dishonesty, defilement, decision and disloyalty were named as the five things which boys must meet and conquer or be conquered.

An earnest message, in his plain, bold and direct style, signed each expressing a determination to lead Christian lives.

Seventy-five men attended the men's meeting. Mr. Dick spoke on the subject "A Duel—Boy against Devil—who wins."

The Quincy Patriot.

Grand Army Fair.

The six days' fair of Paul Revere Post, 88, G. A. R., opened Monday night at Hancock hall.

The exercises included addresses by Department Commander Eli W. Hall and staff, Commander-in-Chief Col. Macabre of the Sons of Veterans and Hon. Henry O. Fairbanks. The Mayor made one of his characteristic speeches and formally opened the fair.

Around the hall were number of booths covered with cloth of the national colors, making the effect very pretty.

These booths with the exception of the Sons of Veterans were in charge of ladies of the Relief Corps, under the direction of Mrs. J. J. Wickham.

The attendance at the fair Tuesday evening was very flattering, and many of the articles in the several booths were sold. The entertainment, which was very pleasing, was given by the Mandolin club, from the Institute of Technology.

The entertainment Wednesday evening was greatly enjoyed. It consisted of readings by Samuel Brown, Wollaston's well known musician; selections by the Albion quartette, and songs and dances by little Miss Mabel Hoyt.

Sons of Veterans.

Camp 27, S. of V., held a special meeting Saturday evening. Inspector C. D. Folsom of Camp 13, Stoughton, paid a visit to the camp. After the regular business had been disposed of there was a collection served and speeches were in order. The following responded: Inspector Folsom, S. V. Com. James Webb Post, G. A. R.; Capt. Geo. A. Chapin of Camp 13, S. of V.; Adj. Franklin Jacobs, Post 88; Past Capt. C. E. Bowker, of Camp 27; Bro. James Donovan; Past Com. H. O. Scott; Bro. J. S. G. A. R.; Bro. Randall and Brewster of Camp 13; Comrades James Cleverly and S. A. Allen.

Past Capt. C. E. Bowker presented Capt. M. C. Holmes with a toilet set and a handsome French clock. 1st Lieut. Jones presented the captain with two handsomely engraved napkin rings, in behalf of the camp. Past Captain Bowler then presented Capt. Holmes with a card receiver, comb and a pair of picture in behalf of S. A. Allen and wife, and a tea set and two china dolls in behalf of the camp. The remarks of Bro. Donovan were very witty. Bro. A. F. White was toast master of the evening.

Steamer Pilgrim.

The Steamer Pilgrim, purchased by Representative John R. Graham of Stewart & Binney, arrived at Quincy Point Friday, and was moored off the power station. Mr. Graham wishes the PATRIOT to state that the recent cup defender will be on exhibition on Sunday, and people may go aboard.

The boat has been in the navy yard dock where her big 17-ton fun was removed, and the rigging removed. It is Mr. Graham's intention to use her as a combined passenger steamer and private pleasure yacht in the waters of Boston harbor.

The steamer Pilgrim for the name will be retained—will be 125 feet over all, 23 feet beam amidships and 21 feet 4 inches beam on the water line. The draft will be 5 feet 8 inches.

About 6 inches of the lead fin has been left as a keel and the lead fin left on. She will be equipped with two independent compound condensing engines, each of 130 horse power, the steam to be furnished from the latest type of high pressure water tube boiler.

There will be two independent screws, each 4 feet in diameter, making 200 revolutions a minute. She is expected to develop a speed of 14 knots.

The boat will be completely remodelled above the deck. The house extends two-thirds the length of the boat, and the upper work will be of mahogany. The pilot house will be very large, and here will be the captain's room and lavatories for gentlemen.

The quarters for the crew will be forward and just below the pilot house. She will be lighted by electric lights, and in her line will be the queen of Boston harbor.

"She'll be a fast one, too," is the comment of the many seafaring men who have critically examined her lines while she was hauled out of the water.

Nominations.

Wednesday was the last day for filing with City Clerk Spear the nominations for the caucuses and conventions for the coming city election. As usual both parties waited until the last day to make one case it was the last hour. The Ward One Republican certificate was missing at 4 p. m. and there was some lively hustling about that hour hunting up the paper or caucus officers. Clerk Adams who had the paper had overlooked the filing of it, but it finally reached the office in time.

The regular nominations are all filed, and there was one change in the candidates as made by caucuses and conventions. Candidates on these papers have two hours or until 5 p. m. Saturday to withdraw if they so desire.

Mr. Frank A. Page has declined to run for councilman from Ward Five on the Democratic ticket. Mr. Frank J. Lavoy of Beech street has been appointed to fill the vacancy.

Grand Banquet.

There was a great banquet by the Home Market club last evening at the Mechanics' Building, Boston. Quite a number from the city were present; among them Editor Prescott of the PATRIOT, as a guest of John Shaw, Esq. The reception was at 4:30, and the dinner at 5:30.

Every New England state was represented, and in fact there were some present from as far south as Alabama, and west as Iowa. Among the noted speakers were: United States Senator George F. Hoar, Governor-elect Frederic T. Greenhalgh, Governor McKimley, Hon. Robert T. Cousins, Congressman from Iowa; "Tom" Reed and Hon. Mahlon Chance of New York.

Young Men's Christian Assn.

Rev. Edward A. Robinson, of Wollaston, will address the men's meeting Sunday at 8:30.

There will be a meeting for boys Monday evening at 7 o'clock.

There will be a foot ball game at Merrymount Park Thanksgiving morning.

One offering to assist the Association in making Thanksgiving day a pleasant occasion for young men away from home can send contributions to the secretary.

The NOMINATIONS are now complete and 17 of the present City Council have been renominated—8 Republicans and 9 Democrats. There have also been nominated four ex-Councilmen, all Republicans. It looks as if there would be more men with experience in the next Council than in the present, which had only six.

Papers for Mr. Coffin.

Nomination papers were on Friday filed with the Board of Registrars placing Mr. Albert G. Coffin of 21 South street in nomination as an "Independent" candidate in Ward Two for the City Council.

It contains 88 names the larger proportion of whom are thought to be Democrats. A supplementary list swelled the list to over 100 signatures.

CITY BRIEFS.

Election on Hodge's.

Election a week from next Tuesday.

By the way, are you registered? How about your neighbor?

Business among the granite firms is reported as picking up a little.

Boys were able to gather enough snow for snow balls Monday morning.

Are any of the local foot ball magnates to give us a game Thanksgiving day?

The new concrete walk in front of the Hancock cemetery is a great improvement.

Postmaster Adams has placed a letter box on Thanksgiving morning at 10 o'clock with sermon by the rector.

It is reported that George A. Clapp of this city has received a patent for an opera chair.

For the next ten days about all that will be heard will be, "Who is going to be elected?"

Francis L. Souther camp, S. of V., have made nominations of officers for the ensuing term.

The City Council is irregular in its meetings this month. The next meeting will be on Monday night.

The Glee Club orchestra of Quincy furnished music for an entertainment in Boston Tuesday evening.

Willie A. Coffin has gone into the lock-smith business in Boston with his father, Mr. Gardner Coffin.

Norfolk County commissioners have allowed William Lyons of this city $17, and William Gragg $8, for damages by dogs.

The coming election will be the sixth city election of Quincy, yet only five men have been nominated during the time for the office of Mayor.

Senator Merrill of this city was among the speakers at the Chickatawbut club dinner at the Thorndike, Boston, Wednesday evening.

Twenty-nine names were added by the registrars Wednesday night. Of this number twenty-five were new names and four restored.

Charles L. Prescott, the proprietor of the Boston Branch Fish market, has gone to the Cape this week to look after his cranberry interests.

A reception in honor of the new rector of Christ's church, the Rev. Walter Russell Broad, will be given in the parish house next Tuesday evening.

Mr. McConnell has opened a very attractive fruit store, next door north of the Patriot office, where choice fruit and vegetables can be had at reasonable prices.

An inquest was held Tuesday in the District court on the death of Timothy Duggan, who was killed on the cars at Wollaston, Sunday evening, Nov. 12.

Martin Gessop reports that he was sand-bagged and robbed of a watch and $90 in money on Kneeland street, Boston, Nov. 15, opposite the Adams Express Company's building.

The Guild of the Great Teacher will meet in the ladies' parlour Sunday evening at 7 o'clock. Topic: "Thanksgiving." All the young people and others are welcome.

The Hancock whist club met with Mr. and Mrs. Thomas F. Spear Wednesday evening. Up to the present time Mr. Rogers, the novice, leads the party. Refreshments were served.

New arrivals at The Greenleaf are D. Clarey, Louise M. Hill, Charles D. Jenkins, Boston; C. A. Mapp, Lynn; G. H. Whitcomb, W. S. Oxborn; F. C. Markie, Dayton, Ohio.

The cases of the Quincy stone teamsters, in the Dorchester court for violating the city ordinances by carrying more than three tons at a load, were again continued till next Wednesday.

Rev. Edward Norton took for his theme Sunday morning, "The Great Thanksgiving." The exercises consisted of church singing, readings and an address by Richard Humphreys of Boston.

The annual harvest concert of the Sunday school connected with the First church was held in the vestry Sunday afternoon. The exercises consisted of church singing, readings and an address by Richard Humphreys of Boston.

At the drive whist tournament given by the Granite City club at their rooms in Durgin & Merrill block, on Wednesday evening, the prizes were taken by Horace E. Spear and his sister, who were very successful, making very handsome scores.

Among those of this city intending to attend the Harvard-Yale game at Springfield, today, are Messrs. Edward Glover, John Hall, Percy Harrison, Joseph L. Whitton, Jr., John Bent, Ivers M. H. Colton, Verulie, V. P. M. Paulson, Alex. Grover and Alfred McAdams; George Dunbar, Milford; and Dr. J. E. Temple, Brockton.

Officers Bisset and O'Neil are on duty nights in the vicinity of Adams, Hancock and Greenleaf streets and every person who passes late at night is overhauled. It was these officers who stopped Mr. Sanborn a few nights ago, and also held up Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Davenport who were out late one night recently.

Rev. Walter H. Bredt, the new rector of Christ's church began his labors Sunday. All the services were very largely attended which must have been very flattering to the new rector. He preached an able sermon, and made a good impression. Mr. Fisher of The Greenleaf, at the request of chorister Wrigley, rendered tenor solos at each service.

The Neighborhood Club were entertained Tuesday evening by Mr. and Mrs. George T. Magee. A pleasing musical programme was provided, consisting of vocal and instrumental music by Dr. and Mrs. Charles W. Carey, Mrs. Ralph G. Crane, Mrs. J. Morton Hanson of Boston and Mrs. James Kelle of New York. Refreshments were served during the evening.

The Citizens' Temperance committee met at the rooms of the Y. M. C. A., Tuesday evening to arrange for meetings in the interest of no-liquors. Mr. Theophilus King presided and told of the benefits that had been derived from no-liquor and urged a continuance of the same. Arrangements will be made for a series of no-liquor meetings to be held in the several wards of the city.

Officer Bisset overhauled a man at 6 o'clock Tuesday morning on Hancock street leading a bay horse. The fellow said his name was James Smith and that he had come from Fall River and was on his way to Boston. As he said he left Fall River at 10 o'clock Tuesday night, the officer thought his story that he had walked the distance of fifty miles rather thin, and he was accordingly locked up. He was brought into court Tuesday.

We learn from the Roxbury Gazette of Nov. 15, that Col. Giles H. Rich, a summer resident of Houghton Neck who owned the little cottage in the field near Sea street, died on the 14th inst. of Bright's disease. He was born in Wollaston, Mass., and came to Boston at an early age to attend school, where he graduated with honors. He was a graduate of the Harvard Law School and was for some years in the law office of Michael Dyer, Jr. He has been connected with the Roxbury district court as clerk for the past five years.

Who is the Coffin in Ward Two for?

Fred Stewart and Walter H. Ripley will see the Harvard-Yale game of foot ball Saturday.

The concrete walks at the Public Library were being patched on Friday; it was much needed.

The Y. M. C. A. foot ball team will play the Adams Academy graduates at Merrymount Park Thanksgiving morning at 9:30.

Mr. Bamford, the fine custom tailor in the Square, has dress suits to let at reasonable prices.

There will be a service at Christ's church on Thanksgiving morning at 10 o'clock with sermon by the rector.

Mr. Francis Vezale of Granite street has been quite sick since his return from California, but we are pleased to learn he is now on the mending hand.

WEST QUINCY.

There will be no services at the M. E. church in West Quincy on Thanksgiving day.

Mr. C. H. Dampy of Fitchburg, pastor of Boston University, spent last Sunday as guest at the Methodist parsonage, West Quincy.

Rev. Dr. Chaboureaux, Presiding Elder, will be present at the E. church, West Quincy, at the prayer meeting on Friday evening, Dec. 1, and at its close conduct the business session of the Quarterly Conference.

Francis Lynch of Avon, is the guest of Miss Emma F. Kimball.

William P. Nutting of South Lawrence has been visiting his parents at West Quincy.

Politics aside, and Thomas L. Williams, the West Quincy jeweler, would be a member of the next City Council. If Ward Four voters really desire a gentleman who will work hard in its interests they will elect Mr. Williams at the polls. There is abundant proof of what he has already done for that section of the city. He has been first in many little movements for its benefit: cheaper fares and more trips on the street cars, workingmen's hours, the Old Colony, etc. His recent philanthropic work in making wooden hands with movable thumbs for an unfortunate man are fresh in mind. To business he has been progressive and successful and encouraged the erection of better business blocks, until he now has one of the largest and finest jewelry stores in the state. In the Council he would be something more than a figure head. He would be among its most active workers.

Eben Bumsted of Boston will conduct the services at the Primitive Mission Sunday. Preaching at 10:30 a. m. Sunday School at 12 m. Evening service at 8 o'clock. The public are cordially invited.

M. E. CHURCH. Preaching at 10:30 a. m. by the pastor. Topic: "Disobedience and Obedience with their resulting conditions." Epworth morning service at 10:30 a. m. and evening service at 7 o'clock. All are cordially invited to these services. Contributions for the Little Wanderer's barrel can be sent to the parsonage any time on Monday, logs and envelopes for which will be given out on Sunday.

A good audience was present at the M. E. church on Wednesday evening to enjoy the entertainment given by the young people under the auspices of the Ladies' Social Union. The following program with liberal encores was rendered:

Piano solo—Miss Gertrude Thayer. Reading—Miss Berlie Turner. Vocal duet—Miss Belle Moir and Grace Doble.

Piano duet—Misses Grace and Berlie Turner. Selection—Male Quartette.

Vocal solo—Leon E. Baldwin. Reading—Miss Berlie Turner. Vocal solo—Miss Grace Doble.

Vocal duet—Miss Belle Moir and Mary Geer.

Social at West Quincy.

There was a social at St. Mary's hall, West Quincy, Thursday evening given by Ladies' Auxiliary. The programme included:

Short address by Mrs. M. Boyd, President Ladies' Auxiliary.

Short address by Mrs. Moriarty, President St. Mary's Temperance Society.

Solo—Miss Lizzie McGowan. Reading—Miss Gertrude Boyd. Solo—Mrs. John Phelps.

Piano solo—Miss Dumphy. Duets—Misses Barry and Farrell.

Reading—Miss Annie Kelley. Harmonies solo—Mr. J. Shevlin.

Duets—Mr. McGowan and Miss L. McGowan.

Refreshments were served and there was dancing until 12 o'clock. It was a very pleasant, enjoyable evening. Great credit is due to entertainment committees of Ladies' Auxiliary and St. Mary's Temperance Society, who had charge of the affair.

Burglar and Assault.

John Taylor of East Braintree had an experience with a burglar Wednesday morning. Mr. Taylor who is about 60 years of age, resides on Front street and is employed as a gatekeeper at the Front street crossing of the N. Y. N. H. & H. R. R.

He was aroused about 2 o'clock in the morning by the noise of someone moving about on the lower floor. He got up and was sitting on the edge of his bed contemplating what action to take. His chamber door was fastened and he had no fear of immediate danger. He then heard the thief ascending the stairs and congratulated himself upon the fact that the chamber door was locked. The burglar failed to find the door and finding it locked with a muffled curse he put his shoulder to the door and burst it in.

When the fellow flashed the dark lantern upon him Mr. Taylor seized his hands and endeavored to manhandle him. The thief wrenched his hands away and raised a shower of blows upon the old man's head with a blackjack, inflicting a number of scalp wounds, several of which laid the flesh bare to the bone, rendering him partially unconscious. The thief seized the old man's trousers from a chair and made his escape.

Mr. Taylor threw up his window and shouted for help. Officer Benj. J. Loring hurried to his assistance, and a physician was summoned.

Mr. Taylor recognized the fellow as Frank Garland of Stoughton, whose sister married Taylor's son.

A warrant was issued and placed in the hands of Officer Fernald of Quincy, who went to Stoughton at an early hour and arrested the man and brought him back to Quincy. Garland denies all knowledge of the affair.

It is probable that Mr. Taylor will recover, although he is still suffering from injuries received.

Garland was taken to East Braintree Wednesday afternoon and was identified by Mr. Taylor as the man who assaulted him.

Esquires Turnout Train.

Hull voters at a town meeting on Thursday approved a resolution to transport high school scholars to Hingham, and appointed a committee to contract with the N. Y. N. H. & H. R. R.

WOLLASTON.

The Junior Christian Endeavor gave a social at the Wollaston Congregational church on Thursday evening. There was a large attendance of young people.

The Unitarians held their first hop of the season at the Knights of Honor hall last week Friday evening. The dancing was enjoyed by about thirty-five couples.

Mrs. Walter J. Wellington, Mrs. Henry O. Fairbanks and Miss Bennett were the main attractions. The Rev. James E. Bagley of the Unitarian church, exchanged with Rev. George H. Hosmer of the Church of the Unity of Newport, on Sunday.

The Rev. S. S. Cummings of the New England Home for Little Wanderers interested in the Unitarian church at the Baptist church on Sunday evening.

Miss Daisy Carroll Hoyt, reader, assisted by Harold Goring, soloist, gave an excellent entertainment at the Congregational church Monday evening, under the auspices of the People's Course.

A. L. Baker, real estate agent has sold the house at the corner of Newport and Central avenues, owned by his wife, Lucy A. Campbell of East Bridgewater.

Mr. Joseph C. Stevens of New York has bought the well known cat bar Varuna of Mr. James S. Whiting.

The Wollaston Cooperative bank at its meeting Wednesday evening sold $2,350 to five to thirty cents premium.

The ladies connected with the Methodist Episcopal society gave a very successful social at the Wollaston Congregational church on Sunday evening. The programme was largely attended by members of the society and their friends. Music was furnished by the Columbia male quartette.

WOLLASTON UNITARIAN CHURCH. Rev. James E. Bagley, pastor. Morning service at 10:45. Preaching by the pastor. Subject of sermon, "The Religion that is left out." Sunday School at 12 m.

SOUTH QUINCY.

Rev. Francis A. Cunningham of St. John's church is spending the latter part of this week in New York.

Miss Elizabeth J. Rendle and daughter, Miss Charlotte Louise Rendle, sailed Saturday on the Cephalonia from Boston for Liverpool. Robert P. Stewart also sailed on the same steamer for Glasgow.

Pupils of the Adams school are to give a concert next Tuesday evening to secure funds with which to beautify the interior of their school building.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH. Rev. W. Steele, pastor. 10:30 a. m. Subject: "The Christian Endeavor." Sunday School at 10:45. Preaching by the pastor. Subject: "A Royal Time Spilled." A Temperance sermon. Young People's Prayer Meeting Tuesday evening. Congregational Prayer Meeting Thursday evening. Come and welcome.

QUINCY POINT.

Mr. Bartholomew Bryant starts today for Fort Payne, Alabama, where he will visit his son, Arthur Bryant.

The Columbian whist club met with Miss Taylor last evening at 8 o'clock. The time was well spent. The next meeting of the club will be at the home of Mr. Frank Souther on Washington street, Quincy Point, December 7.

Concert at Quincy Point.

The concert given for the Wollaston Street Congregational church, on Wednesday evening proved a great success, both in respect to the quality of the entertainment furnished and financially.

The orchestra and gallery were completely filled, and among the artists Quincy and neighboring towns were well represented.

The following named artists presented a most pleasing programme, which was well received from the audience, and responding to the hearty encores which greeted almost every number:

Miss Helen R. Allen, contralto; Mr. H. B. Bates, baritone; Mr. E. W. Wallburg, xylophone and tenor; Miss Eva E. Hall, soprano; Mr. Herbert A. Hayden, organist; Mrs. W. R. Champey and Mr. James F. Harlow, accompanists.

Miss Helen of Braintree has a rich contralto voice and sang in a pleasing manner. She has been recently returned from abroad where she has been pursuing her studies in this direction. The song, "My Rosalie," by Dalcroze, was written for Max Heinrich and was sung by another for the first time on this occasion.

Miss Eva E. Hall received a flattering reception, and gave "The Crucifixion," from Low Wallace's Ten Hour in a superb manner. During the performance, the scene was pictured in a striking manner, and few sermons have been preached on the subject that have brought it home with equal force. Miss Hall deserved the hearty applause that followed the closing words on this occasion.

Mr. Bates of Wollaston, D. C., a member of the Technology Glee club of Boston was favorably received. This gentleman was charged on Oct. 29, 1893, to July and made friends on that occasion. Mr. Bates selections were chosen with great care and included a diversity of style that was especially entertaining.

Mr. Wallburg of the Boston Ideal Band played the harp and the xylophone in a masterly manner.

Mr. Hayden's organ "Offertoire" was criticised most favorably. Messrs. Dexter and Wallburg, who played the piano, were also well received.

Miss Eva E. Hall, Miss Margaret L. Thomas and Miss Lillian T. Harlow, the committee in charge of the entertainment, were to be congratulated for the help of a large map made for the purpose. Mrs. Helms will also speak upon "The Dorcas Work." An invitation has been extended to the Christian Endeavor society of Wollaston to give the entertainment at the Epworth League.

A number of the young people of the Epworth League will attend the meeting of the Pilgrim Union at Mattapan next Wednesday evening. A full and interesting programme has been prepared.

Thursday Evening.

Commencing next Thursday, Thanksgiving evening, the Young Men's Christian Association will furnish an interesting and instructive entertainment in the rooms of the Epworth League. The programme will be for men, with the reception and entertainment will be for both ladies and gentlemen. Each member will have the privilege of the right parties.

Thanksgiving evening, commencing at six o'clock, there will be an informal reception, for members and friends, all young men who are away from home. At seven o'clock the Christian Endeavor society of the Wollaston Congregational church will give an entertainment called "The Husk-kin Bee." This will be followed by a social hour and refreshments.

Base Ball League for 1894.

H. M. Goodspeed, the manager and secretary of the Institute base ball club of Weymouth has been appointed a delegate to confer with the clubs from surrounding towns in regard to the formation of a local league. It is thought that a six-club league can be formed with clubs from Braintree, Wollaston, North Weymouth and Weymouth.

DEATH OF SHERLOCK HOLMES.

The adventures of Sherlock Holmes have been a series of most exciting and able detective stories which have ever been written. The last one ever to be given to the world was the death of Mr. Holmes, and it will be published in the next issue of the Boston Sunday Globe, Nov. 25. It is intensely interesting and exciting, and it is thrilling and fascinating from the first line to the last.

The Globes, by the way, leads all of the Boston newspapers in circulation and advertising and never was increasing its business more rapidly than now.

ATLANTIC.

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. R. Safford Thursday evening, Nov. 23, the "Compass Whist Club" were most delightfully entertained by a parlor theatrical.

The spacious parlors were beautifully decorated with potted plants, palms and chrysanthemums, the dining room presented a pleasing scene as the drawing room of M. de Massac.

The entertainment began with a sweet piano solo by Mrs. M. E. Sargent of Wollaston, sister of the host, during which the curtains parted revealing the feature of the evening—a tableau—"Sweets to the Sweet, from one of the Sweetest," in which Mr. and Mrs. Safford's beautiful baby boy, clothed in red hood and coat, elaborately trimmed with white fur, seated among robes of white, and beside the table of red, laden with red and white candied fruits, made a most charming picture.

Mr. Safford, as M. de Massac in "The Anonymous Kiss," acted in his usual easy, and graceful manner, and Mrs. Safford was usually charming and sweet as his wife, Lucie de Massac.

Mrs. Alfred Wm. Jenckel, was bright and piquant as Henrietta de Chally the fascinating widow, and Geo. Heigh Jr., of Newport, was very gallant as Rene de Taverne, her affianced.

Mr. Safford, as M. de Massac in "The Anonymous Kiss," acted in his usual easy, and graceful manner, and Mrs. Safford was usually charming and sweet as his wife, Lucie de Massac.

During the intermission, music was furnished, and the "sweets" distributed, which was largely attended by members of the society and their friends. Music was furnished by the Columbia male quartette.

The Columbian whist club met with Miss Taylor last evening at 8 o'clock. The time was well spent. The next meeting of the club will be at the home of Mr. Frank Souther on Washington street, Quincy Point, December 7.

Concert at Quincy Point.

The concert given for the Wollaston Street Congregational church, on Wednesday evening proved a great success, both in respect to the quality of the entertainment furnished and financially.

The orchestra and gallery were completely filled, and among the artists Quincy and neighboring towns were well represented.

The following named artists presented a most pleasing programme, which was well received from the audience, and responding to the hearty encores which greeted almost every number:

Miss Helen R. Allen, contralto; Mr. H. B. Bates, baritone; Mr. E. W. Wallburg, xylophone and tenor; Miss Eva E. Hall, soprano; Mr. Herbert A. Hayden, organist; Mrs. W. R. Champey and Mr. James F. Harlow, accompanists.

Miss Helen of Braintree has a rich contralto voice and sang in a pleasing manner. She has been recently returned from abroad where she has been pursuing her studies in this direction. The song, "My Rosalie," by Dalcroze, was written for Max Heinrich and was sung by another for the first time on this occasion.

Miss Eva E. Hall received a flattering reception, and gave "The Crucifixion," from Low Wallace's Ten Hour in a superb manner. During the performance, the scene was pictured in a striking manner, and few sermons have been preached on the subject that have brought it home with equal

THE RISING SUN STOVE POLISH.
THE LARGEST FACTORY OF ITS KIND IN THE WORLD.
Beware of paint and paste polish sold to be labor saving, self-shining, etc., which stain the hands, pit the iron, and fill the house with a poisonous and sickening odor when heated. Do not take any chance of being poisoned or burned to death with inflammable liquid stove polish, paint and paste. The Rising Sun Stove Polish is safe, odorless, brilliant, the cheapest and best stove polish made, and the consumer pays for no expensive tin or glass package with every purchase.

The Beauty of it.
The prime point in this course of treatment is that the patient may be treated at home. The result is followed day by day, and the patient, surrounded as he is by loving ones, and not by strangers, yields more willingly to the treatment. Besides, there is no need to fear temptation; after a short trial of

Remedy for Whooping Cough.
Common thyme, which was recommended in whooping cough three or four years ago by Dr. S. B. Johnson, is regarded by Dr. Neovius (the Lancet, May 9, 1891), as almost worthy the title of a specific, which, if given early and constantly, invariably cuts short the disease in a fortnight, the symptoms generally vanishing in two or three days. He gives from one ounce and a half to six ounces per diem, combined with a little marshmallow syrup. He never saw any undesirable effect produced, except slight diarrhoea. It is important that the drug should be used quite fresh.

The Quincy Patriot.

SATURDAY, DEC. 9, 1893.

The Mock Court Trial.

The Mock Court Trial which is to be given in Hancock Hall on Thursday evening of next week under the auspices of the Women's Auxiliary of the Y. M. C. A. is a novel entertainment. From the reports of those who have seen the play, it is to be an amusing thing that is on the stage. They are in the first place, an exact reproduction of the ordinary court trial scene and in the methods of procedure. Wherever the entertainments have been given they have been an unqualified success and it is not probable that Quincy lacks the material to give the affair a liveliness and playfulness equal to the best. According to reports the entertainment is to be a novel one enough to make the show go with every body. We publish the list in full as follows:

Judge—Mr. Edwin W. Marsh.
Counsel—Hon. John F. Merrill.
Clerk—Hon. Henry O. Fairbanks.
Defendant—Mr. A. D. Albee.
Prosecutor—Mr. Walter E. Simmons.
Witness—Mr. B. F. Thomas.
Prosecuting Attorney—Mr. C. B. Perry of Worcester.
Counsel for Defendant—Capt. A. V. Newton of Worcester.

Books and Reading.

It is doubtful whether a more instructive and interesting talk was ever given in the city than that to a small audience of young men Thursday evening in the Y. M. C. A. parlor, by Rev. M. C. Ayers, editor of the Boston Daily Advertiser. The only thing to be regretted is, that there were not ten times as many present.

Mr. Ayers said that it was estimated that a new book was born every hour. It is possible for a young man, without a college education, to have a liberal education of any other nation. Witness the Australian system of balloting and their excellent system of land transfer. A large percent of the people are shepherds, but in nearly every shepherd's cabin will be found the Bible and a copy of Shakespeare and of Macaulay's writings.

He spoke of the recent statement which Dana on "Journalism" before the Cornell students, put the Bible down as the first book which every newspaper writer ought to become thoroughly familiar with, simply because of its style and pure English.

In Shakespeare's writings one finds something which touches the whole world of thought, while in Macaulay's writings one gets in the very best English language, essays on all subjects, which can be found.

In closing Mr. Ayers said that there was no material wealth which could be compared with the wealth of the human mind which is well filled with useful knowledge.

Second Degree.

August Langer, who has been on trial the present week at Dedham for the murder of Miss Mary Emerson of West Dedham, was found guilty on Friday of murder in the second degree, and sentenced to prison for life.

Monthly Dinner.

The Norfolk South Medical Society held its monthly meeting and dinner at the Greenleaf on Thursday. There were present Dr. J. W. Spooner and Dr. J. H. Robinson of Hingham, Dr. O. H. Howe of Cohasset, Dr. C. F. Fraser of West Weymouth, Dr. G. W. Tinkham of Weymouth, Dr. V. M. Tirrell of South Weymouth, Dr. T. H. Deering of Braintree and Dr. J. A. Gordon, J. H. Gilbert, N. S. Hunting and J. F. W. of Quincy.

Municipal Elections.

Municipal elections were held Tuesday in twenty-one of the thirty cities in this State, namely, Brockton, Chelsea, Chelsea, Fall River, Fitchburg, Gloucester, Haverhill, Holyoke, Lawrence, West Medford, New Bedford, Newton, Northampton, Pittsfield, Quincy, Somerville, Springfield, Taunton, Waltham and Woburn. On Tuesday of next week elections will occur in the remaining nine cities—Boston, Cambridge, Everett, Lynn, Medford, Newburyport, Salem and Worcester.

THE COUNCILMAN at large are not very evenly divided among the wards for next year. The city of Wards One and Five, and one from Ward Four. If they will act for the whole city and as a balance wheel of the Council, the spirit of the charter will prevail.

Free Delivery.

The following letter to the LEADER was answered in Friday's issue:

Having become a resident of Quincy, I write to ask if you will kindly send me a man to take for himself to secure success of majority party.

The defeated Councilman, who were candidates for reelection were, Messrs. Owen, Williams, Grinnell and Smith. In the next Council will be 13 of the present Councilmen, 7 Republicans and 6 Democrats. Also a Republican ex-Councilman, 5 new Republicans and 4 new Democrats.

The Republican candidate for School Committee-at-large, Dr. George B. Rice of Wollaston was elected by a majority of nearly 300. Two members from wards were elected, the successful candidate in Ward Four is a Democrat, and in Ward Six a Republican.

The Water Act of 1891 is accepted by a decisive vote. The city has voted no license by about the usual majority—it being 539 this year and 904 last year. The "Yes" vote, however, made a larger gain and the usual ratio of 2 to 1 does not prevail. To keep this up there should have been about 2100 "No."

The revised vote in full appears on the third page.

The President's Champion. The Washington correspondent of the Journal says: The Administration has chosen for its defender in the House Schoolmaster Everett of Quincy, who is the expert big representative from the Second Congressional District of Massachusetts. That at least is the report which is circulated by Democrats. Certain it is that Mr. Everett has been given audience before the House of Representatives on this subject.

CITY BRIEFS.

Sleighting.

The City Council will hold two meetings next week.

The Guild of the Great Teacher will meet in the ladies' parlor, Sunday evening, at 7 o'clock. Topic: Watching against temptation. All the young people and others are welcome.

The canvass being held in each ward for subscriptions to the Hospital is not completed. The Ward One committee has set a high mark which it desires to raise, viz. $2,000. May they be successful. The times are hard.

Will the ladies interested in the experience meeting to be held in the Union church, Wednesday evening, Dec. 13, please send their "Written experience" to the secretary, Mrs. George S. Keyes, Adams street, before Tuesday morning.

The campaign against license has been fought very quietly this year, and may be not known that meetings were to be held, or when or where, as no newspaper notice was given. Of course the weather was also against a large attendance.

It will be the last of 1893 before all the original lots for the Wollaston school house and land is paid and there are some extras unpaid. It increases the tax levy $9,280 each year and causes the rate to be over fifty cents higher than it otherwise would be.

The Columbian Whist club met Thursday evening at Mr. Frank South's, 142 Washington street, and a very pleasant evening was passed. Miss Fannie Tarbox received the lady's first prize and Mr. Frank South, the gentleman's prize, and Harry Winslow carried away the booty.

Capt. and Mrs. Eugene N. Hultman entertained the members of the Neighborhood club Monday evening at their cozy home on Washington street. The evening was greatly enjoyed by those present. Games, music and refreshments furnished the evening's entertainment.

The sale held at Mrs. J. H. Emery's last night, by the Hospital Ten, King's Daughters, netted the handsome sum of eighty dollars. These young ladies under the guidance of Mrs. Emery are doing good work for our hospital and we are glad to see that the people encourage them.

C. L. Prescott, proprietor of Boston Branch Fish Market, and Wm. Herrick of Boston, have chartered the large three masted schooner, N. E. Symonds, and she is now on the way to Newfoundland for a cargo of the delicious fish from her, so our market will be well provided with this variety, as well as all others, during the winter season.

Masonic Installation.

After its usual custom when a new master is elected, there was a public installation Thursday evening, of the officers of the Wollaston Lodge, F. & A. M. The new officers are:

W. M.—C. W. Ellis.
S. W.—J. L. Whiton.
J. W.—J. M. Cutting.
T.—R. W. H. Bass.
S.—W. E. Simmons.
C.—Rev. W. W. Baldwin.
M.—R. A. Massey.
S. D.—H. L. Kincadee.
J. D.—C. W. Nourse.
S. S.—W. H. Whitney.
J. S.—H. E. Spear.
I. S.—W. W. Mayhew.
Organist.—I. T. Dunham.
Tyler.—J. W. Rideout.

There was a gathering of 150 or more of the brethren and ladies, and the ceremonies were particularly interesting because of the presence of the Grand Master and Grand Instructor. The latter, Wor. Bro. Gifford H. G. McGraw was the installing officer, and was assisted by Past Master C. A. Pike as Grand Marshal, and the co-mofficer was performed in an impressive manner. Excellent music was rendered by the Corinthian church.

At the close of the service, the Grand Master of Massachusetts, spoke at length, and none enjoyed his interesting talk more than the ladies. There were also remarks by Grand Instructor McGraw.

A pleasing incident was the presentation to the retiring master, Wor. Bro. C. L. Hammond, of a valuable Past Master's jewel.

A collation was served by Hendrick of Dorchester.

Wor. Bro. Charles W. Hollis is a rising young man of Braintree, being a successful provision dealer in that town. He has filled the subordinate offices with credit, and Rural lodge will prosper during his term.

Granite Teamsters Fined.

DORCHESTER, Dec. 7.—In the Municipal court here today the continued case of the Quincy granite teamsters, for violating a "regulation" of the city of Boston, came up.

There were several defendants who were all tried together. The judge found them guilty but imposed the minimum fine, $1.

The teamsters, however, are not satisfied, and appealed to a higher court. They are allowed to go on their own recognizance.

The case against them is not for a violation of a city ordinance, but of a regulation, which is claimed has no legal standing.

A Hustler.

The increased business of W. Tisdale has caused him to remove from his old quarters 128 Core street to 52 and 54 Dorchester avenue, four minutes' walk from the old stand, where he has fitted up one of the most unique stables in the city.

At a formal opening he invited his many friends and patrons to inspect the place, and entertained them in a most cordial manner.

Mr. Tisdale was at 128 Core street 17 years. There he commenced with two horses and three men, and now has 30 horses and employs 25 men—Globe.

Mr. Tisdale is a well known Quincy man residing on Foster street, and is popular with all.

Although a man may not be blessed with an overabundance of gold and silver, yet he is more than blessed by having the opportunity of buying his furniture at such an establishment as that of C. W. Guy.

—The editor of Printers' Ink estimates that the annual expenditure in this country on account of advertising in the newspapers is not less than $200,000,000. The amount of money realized from this outlet may very close to bring the total amount of money that is made in all the business that is done in the country. The business of people who do not advertise doesn't count. It is infinitesimal compared with those who do.—Herald.

WOLLASTON.

A largely attended temperance meeting was held at the Wollaston Congregational church on Sunday evening.

The Rev. George S. Chastanout, D. D., of Atlantic and Mr. Theophilus King of Quincy, were singing by a double quartette.

Notwithstanding the severe storm there was a goodly attendance at the Wollaston M. E. church at Sunday morning's service. The Rev. George S. Chastanout, D. D., of Atlantic and Mr. Theophilus King of Quincy, were singing by a double quartette.

The social dance of the Atlantic Social club to have been held Tuesday evening was postponed on account of the severe storm.

Ladies who would like a nice chocolate cake should try "Lang's" chocolates ready made icing," for sale by Thos. Gurney.

The annual meeting of the Atlantic Social club held Wednesday evening these officers were elected:

President—Stephen O. Monon.
Vice president—Alonso Priest.
Treasurer—Roger H. Wilde.
Secretary—James E. Curtin.
Directors—Eben Socker, Charles R. Safford, B. Frank Thomas, Henry W. Reed, Charles L. Coe.

Seven new members were admitted at this meeting.

Fair at Atlantic. The annual fair of the Atlantic Methodist church opened Wednesday afternoon at Music hall. The interior was very prettily decorated on either side were large and several tables upon which were displayed many useful and fancy articles. They were offered for sale at astonishing low prices which caused them to be rapidly purchased by those who were looking for Christmas gifts. The entertainment in the evening was furnished by the Atlantic band.

Reception at Atlantic. A social dance under the auspices of the Wollaston Unitarian Aid Society will be held on Friday evening next, at Knights of Honor hall. Matrons—Mrs. Sylvester Brown, Mrs. Charles R. Sherman and Mrs. Connelley.

Mr. Charles R. Sherman has sold out his interest in the well known real estate firm of Sherman, Hannah & Co., of Boston. The remaining partners will continue the business under the old firm name. It is understood that Mr. Sherman and family will pass the winter at the West Indies.

The Wollaston Baptist Society enjoyed a very pleasant sociable on Thursday evening. The vestry was brilliantly illuminated with gas and electric lamps. The entertainment was given by Miss Litchy's Sunday school class. Ice cream and cake and chocolate was served.

At the regular meeting of Wollaston Lodge, 926, K. of H., Monday evening, two candidates were initiated and afterwards the following officers were elected for the ensuing term:

Past Dictator—Charles H. Stevens.
Dictator—George W. Brown.
Vice Dictator—Theophilus King.
Assistant Dictator—W. J. Battison.

Sentinel—H. H. Sanborn.
Trustees—W. H. Brazer, Charles T. Baker, James C. Bates.
Representative to Grand Lodge—W. B. Orent.

Alternate—James C. Bates.
Wollaston Unitarian Church. Rev. James E. Bagley, pastor. Morning service at 10.45. Preaching by the pastor. Subject of sermon, "The thought side of religion." Sunday School at 12 p. m.

QUINCY POINT.

John Lawton, the boy run over by a stone team on Sumner street, Tuesday, died Wednesday. The wheels passed over his leg and abdomen, injuring him internally. This same boy had the misfortune last summer to be run over by a team, from the effects of which he had but recently recovered.

Again it is the Republicans who showed their ignorance in voting under the Australian system. Most of the twenty who voted for four candidates for the Council in Ward Two were of that party and thereby they defeated Phillips.

The opening of the fair under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid society of the Washington Street Congregational church was postponed from Tuesday to Wednesday evening on account of the storm, and closed on Thursday evening.

The booths were tastefully trimmed and the wares were prettily arranged. Mrs. T. H. Newcomb, Mrs. P. P. Kirtledge and Mrs. S. P. Hayden, presided at the apron table. Mrs. William Grinnell, Mrs. M. E. Wright and Mrs. S. F. Newcomb had charge of the fancy table. Mr. F. E. Drake and Miss Margaret Thomas served the chocolate. Miss Amy Newcomb and Mrs. H. H. Newcomb sold sweets to the sweet, and had an exceedingly prettily table. Miss Rosa Drake made a picturesque figure in gaily costume, her tent was stored with galley colored baskets, bows and arrows, and her sales most satisfactory.

Mr. Gutterton of Weymouth and Miss Florence Smith of South Boston furnished a good entertainment on Wednesday evening.

On Thursday evening, Messrs. Stockton and Bassick of Quincy, and Miss E. Hall and Mr. H. A. Hayden of Quincy Point presented a good programme.

Supper was served each evening and was excellent.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert D. Adams celebrated the twenty anniversary of their marriage on Wednesday evening by entertaining a few of their friends, at their residence on Washington street.

Free Delivery.

The following letter to the LEADER was answered in Friday's issue:

Having become a resident of Quincy, I write to ask if you will kindly send me a man to take for himself to secure success of majority party.

The defeated Councilman, who were candidates for reelection were, Messrs. Owen, Williams, Grinnell and Smith. In the next Council will be 13 of the present Councilmen, 7 Republicans and 6 Democrats. Also a Republican ex-Councilman, 5 new Republicans and 4 new Democrats.

The Republican candidate for School Committee-at-large, Dr. George B. Rice of Wollaston was elected by a majority of nearly 300. Two members from wards were elected, the successful candidate in Ward Four is a Democrat, and in Ward Six a Republican.

The Water Act of 1891 is accepted by a decisive vote. The city has voted no license by about the usual majority—it being 539 this year and 904 last year. The "Yes" vote, however, made a larger gain and the usual ratio of 2 to 1 does not prevail. To keep this up there should have been about 2100 "No."

The revised vote in full appears on the third page.

The President's Champion. The Washington correspondent of the Journal says: The Administration has chosen for its defender in the House Schoolmaster Everett of Quincy, who is the expert big representative from the Second Congressional District of Massachusetts. That at least is the report which is circulated by Democrats. Certain it is that Mr. Everett has been given audience before the House of Representatives on this subject.

SATURDAY, DEC. 16, 1899.

The Mayor Discharged.

The "dishonorable court" came in Thursday evening at Hancock hall, and the importance of the case attracted a full house including many of the best known citizens. They were well repaid by the remarkable testimony, the harangues of the lawyers, and came near nothing the court for his rank rulings.

2405—Commonwealth vs. H. M. Fether, Jr., was first in order and charged him with assuming the name of "Baby Ruth" without a license. Case continued by request of defense.

4111—Charged Walter H. Ripley with burning wood in his steam fire engine against the laws and ordinances of the city. Also continued.

3278—Charged Councilman Lennon with maintaining flying horses without a license. Not ready for trial.

3294—Charged Albert Keating with having in his possession a cheap horse. He pleaded guilty. Owing to his youth and the fact that it was his first offense, the case was placed in court.

3229—Charged Abel Nutting with driving his horse without buttons. He pleaded guilty and threw himself on the tender mercy of the court.

The Rooster Case.

3112—Commonwealth vs. Henry O. Fairbanks for the larceny of a Plymouth Rock rooster from John F. Merrill. The warrant was a formidable document and the Mayor really thought he was a bad man when it was read. But he could not say whether he was guilty or not until he heard the evidence.

The following jury was impaneled: Grover Cleveland, Osborne Rogers, Benjamin Harrison, A. G. Dugan, David B. Hill, D. E. Wadsworth, Thomas B. Reed, H. W. Fiske, W. W. Adams, William McKinley, James F. Merrill, Richard Croker, John L. Sullivan, James J. Corbett, E. W. Shepard, Chauncey Depew, T. De Witt Talmage, George N. Nash, W. E. Russell, George W. Prescott.

The defendant objected to David B. Hill because he was not his peer, and Fiske Smith because he believed the rooster should be turned out, but after interrogatories withdrew objection.

John L. Sullivan was appointed foreman and placed in charge of the jury. Witnesses for the defense were sworn and John F. Merrill

Took the stand. When asked his business he circulated his business cards of a grocer. That was his vocation and avocation. He also raised poultry. One rooster he prized highly as it had come over in the Mayflower and flew onto Plymouth Rock as the vessel landed, and gave the rock its name.

Had received several offers for the bird. Landlord Fiske of The Greenleaf hotel, offered $10 for his table, and the defendant $25 for chicken fighting.

Rooster had been stolen from his hen house on Christmas eve, and he had caught the Mayor near hen house.

Cross-examined—Age 75. Not a wire puller. Didn't remember how he warned his pet before retiring. When asked to imitate crow of his rooster, his lawyer objected, as married men could not crow; they were henpecked.

John O. Holden

Was born in China, never departed. Photograph on file. Was engaged in ring at City Hall. Left place at business at 11 p. m. Dec. 24. Saw suspicious character on street, who went into cemetery. He followed and was about to capture defendant when he was caught by the Mayor.

Mayor also the crow of Merrill's rooster. Mayor rushed into City Hall, took rooster from bag and put him on stage. Next day was at moral show in Dea. Clark's barn, and defendant wanted to be $10 on his bird.

Cross-examined—The City Hall ring had not been profitable yet.

Fred F. Green.

Flood for First. Wasan editor. Used to keep poultry and had a rooster since the last election. First met defendant in Jericho, Vt. Poultry business there was a failure as defendant had a weakness for fowls. People did not dare to name chicken-Henry or Hen-rietta. Since he was established on the moral show, his poultry business was profitable. Was at hen fight on Christmas day and saw the Mayor there with said rooster.

B. Frank Thomas

Was in provision business and also police officer. The lawyer was nearly staggered when he learned his rooster was not a pet of light and went to the barn. Was unable to make arrest. The state rested here, and the defense opened.

Mayor Fairbanks

Formerly was in flour business, but for three years had listened to tales of woe. Gray hairs had appeared. Merrill was a crank. Was down in the street on Christmas eve to console with brothers of the P. F. Y. B. O. As Mayor he had been trying to give people all the improvements on a low tax rate. Had encountered O'Holmes with a light, and was told by B. & S. By. He also had a jag on. Took him home and placed him against door and pulled belt. Saw O'Holmes next day and he was mad. The biddy was hit; had bought it of Mr. Merrill. Always wanted to be about. Was at J. G. Hall. Had wanted to get his bird—Willie Russell—would not let him.

F. E. Litchfield.

Was member of bar. Once a doctor and made a specialty of monomania, where one idea excluded all others. Councilman Sherman was an example at election time. Then there was the over attentive young man, and Mr. Faxon. Mr. Merrill was a monomaniac over cock fights. Was always thinking someone had stolen his rooster. He claimed all the Plymouth Rocks. In the hands of had men he might be led to believe he had lost what he never had.

W. M. Mitchell

Said Merrill was not a crank on Plymouth Rock roosters. Had accused many of stealing. Saw defendant helping O'Holmes along Dec. 24. Recognized bird as belonging to Mayor Fairbanks. Not Merrill's bird.

W. G. Corbelle.

Testified Merrill had accused him and the School Committee of stealing his rooster. Fairbanks was best man in Quincy. Very honest. Believed that O'Holmes and Green had conspired. Had seen them together.

Arguments.

The lawyer for the defense praised the jury for good looks and intelligence, and shook hands with each. The Mayor was honest and was satisfied. He reviewed the evidence and asked an acquittal.

The lawyer for government thought the witnesses for defense were too familiar with Merrill's premises and argued that one of them must be guilty.

The Charge.

Judge Marsh made a lengthy charge. He found that Merrill never had such a rooster. That stolen rooster was now on Plymouth Rock. That O'Holmes could not have been born in China, and his evidence should be excluded. That the first Green had a prejudice against the Mayor. That defendant had convicted himself on his own evidence. That the doctor's testimony amounted to nothing. That evidence of Mitchell was nonsense, and that Corbelle had rambled. The defendant was guilty and he would prepare sentence while jury retired to bring in verdict.

The jury found promptly for defendant, as rooster was not a Plymouth Rock.

The prisoner was discharged.

CITY BRIEFS.

No bell alarms of fire since Nov. 8. Jack Frost is getting in his work. Plumbers are not among the unemployed. Sunday was a very disagreeable day under foot.

The City Council will meet next Thursday evening.

Now is the appointed time to advertise your Christmas goods.

The thermometer has ranged at zero several mornings—the coldest of the season.

More snow; it looks as if we were to have considerable sleighing this winter.

Many of the stores have begun to decorate their show windows for Christmas.

Sarah Langley, daughter of the chief of police, is recovering from typhoid fever. Josiah Quincy will probably lead the Democratic State Convention in Boston next year.

The freight on coal from Philadelphia to Quincy Point at the present time is $1.25 per ton.

James E. Tirrell, Esq., was reappointed Thursday by Governor Russell as master in chancery.

The afternoons have commenced to lengthen—increased this week from one to two minutes.

No school Friday because of the storm. The signal was given for the first time this term at 7.30.

The Quincy City club are arranging for a minstrel entertainment to be held early in January.

Gillespie & Miller have purchased the barber shop of Nicholas Garbarino in the Adams building.

Many of the secret societies elect officers this month and January will therefore be the month of installations.

Sleigh parties from out of town will find the remodeled Greenleaf a model house with an excellent cuisine.

There will be a meeting of the Fragment Society in the Unitarian Chapel, Wednesday, Dec. 20th, at 2 o'clock.

The blow of the fire alarm at 1 o'clock Wednesday was caused by a break in No. 1 circuit on the Houghs Neck loop.

The Columbian White club met Thursday evening at the home of Mr. Frank Monroe, the general salesman at C. W. Guy's.

Owing to the rush for Christmas goods D. E. Wadsworth & Co.'s store will be open every night until Christmas.

The petition of the granite workers is signed by Democrats as well as Republicans. It is not a party movement with them.

Miss Cora M. Chesley and Mr. Irving W. Chesley of Concord, N. H., have been spending a week with relatives in this vicinity.

Many names are mentioned for the offices in the gift of Mayor Hodges but it is very doubtful if any body knows who the appointees will be.

No records of the votes at the city election will be made this year. The time for filing petitions expired Monday at 5 p. m. and none had been filed.

Mr. Frank Stone (Miss Nettie French) of Malden, formerly of Quincy, had the misfortune to be thrown from a sleigh last week, and broke her right limb.

At a whist party by the members of the Granite City club on Wednesday evening, the first prize was taken by W. W. Ewell and the second by H. C. Spear.

Collector Adams had received Dec. 1, $188,100.00 of the tax levy of 1898, amounting to $256,790.24. The percentage compares very favorably with other years.

The Guild of the Great Teacher will meet in the ladies' parlor Sunday evening at 7 o'clock. Topic, Humility. All the young people and parents are welcome.

It is proposed by a number of charitable people to collect clothing that has been cast off, yet is whole and good, if a little out of style, and then supply poor people with them.

The "experience meeting" under the auspices of the Fragment Society in the Unitarian chapel, Wednesday evening, was a novel entertainment affording much amusement.

Those water ways on Canal street at the corner of Washington street and near Mechanic street ought to be abolished, and might have been included in that $10,000 for street widening.

Mr. and Mrs. John Chamberlain left Tuesday for the South for his health, which is quite poor just at this time. He will be quite poor just at this time. He will be quite poor just at this time.

The warm breezes of the sunny climate improve his failing health.

Tomorrow is calendar day. Hood Bros.' jewelry store in Faxon block. Their new store is very attractive. Mr. Hood was formerly with C. D. Place, the well-known optician of Boston.

Four of G. F. Wilson & Co.'s large punge took a party of small children for a sleigh ride to Milton Saturday afternoon. It was thought of the firm, and doubtless much enjoyed by the little ones.

Good for Plymouth it is going to have a sewerage system. The PATRIOT expected one would be well under way in this city before this with the present chairman of the committee on Sewers.

A. W. Edson, agent of the State Board of Education, on Monday evening, will be given by Dr. and Mrs. Rice, Miss Harriet T. Whitaker, soprano; Mr. Leslie M. Bartlett, tenor; and Mrs. Alma Faunce Smith, pianist.

The Rev. A. E. Winship, who was to have lectured at the Wollaston People's course Monday evening was unable to be present owing to sickness and Mr. H. T. Bailey, State Supervisor of Drawing gave an illustrated talk on "Beauty."

Lecture was the most instructive and entertaining one of the course. To use Emerson's words, from whom Mr. Bailey quoted freely, "It has been the office of art to educate the perception of beauty. We are immersed in beauty but our eyes have no clear vision. It needs, by the exhibition of single traits, to assist and lead the dormant taste. The virtue of art lies in detachment, in sequestering one object from the embracing variety. Though we travel the world over to find the beautiful, we must carry it with us, or we find it not. In nature, all is useful, all is beautiful. Beauty will not come at the call of a legislator, nor will it repeat in England or America its history in Greece."

A very pleasant reception was given at the Wollaston Congregational vestry on Thursday evening by the Ladies' Benevolent Society to meet those who have associated themselves with the society the past year. After the reception Mr. George H. Murray gave a brief sketch of Longfellow's life. Mrs. W. M. Wright gave an informal talk on the poet's most important work. Mrs. N. G. Nickerson sang with pleasing effect "The arrow and the song," and Mrs. Edward A. Robinson, Miss Miss Lincoln and Mrs. William S. Wadsworth read selections from his poems. Mrs. Edward S. Tenney the secretary of the Benevolent society gave a brief review of the work done by that society the past year. Light refreshments were served after the entertainment.

Wollaston Unitarian Church.

Rev. James E. Bagley, pastor. Morning service at 10.45. Preaching by the pastor. Subject of sermon, "Conventionalism in Religion." Sunday School at 12 m.

Not Encouraging.

From present indications wages received by the laboring classes in this country will not be so high for a long time, if ever, as during the four or six years previous to 1883. They have been gradually dropping for over a year; and owing to the new laws being enacted by Congress, and the unusually large number of persons out of work the present time, with little or no prospect of getting employment for many months, wages will continue to drop for some time to come.

There is some consolation for those who are fortunate enough to obtain labor, that goods of all kind will be cheaper than they have been for many years. This, in some measure at least, offset low wages; still nothing gives a mechanic better satisfaction than to receive good prices for his labor, no matter what may be charged for articles which he desires to purchase.

Young Men's Christian Assoc.

Mr. Arthur Bumpus will address the men's meeting Sunday at 3.30. Subject, "The Corner-Stone of Charity."

"Banking" will be the subject of a practical talk by Mr. R. F. Clifton, of the National Granite Bank, Thursday evening Dec. 21, in the Association rooms. All members and friends are invited.

Members of the association and auxiliary have been assisting in the district work during the past week. Sunday, department meetings were held in Rockland, and a view of organizing an association there. Mr. Herbert W. Pinkham has charge of the department work of the district. Mr. T. B. Emery conducted the singing and Mrs. Geo. A. Litchfield presided at the Women's meeting and spoke on Auxiliary work. At the fourth district conference held in Waltham last week Mrs. O. C. Colton spoke on "Women's Part in Association Work."

The boys' meetings at 7 o'clock on Monday evenings are proving helpful and interesting to the boys who attend. All boys between the ages of 12 and 17 are invited.

"The Spirit is the Man."

Mr. Theophilus King of Quincy delivered by request an able and highly interesting address Sunday night in the chapel of the First Parish church, Braintree. Subject: "The spirit is the man." Engrossed as Mr. King is in business, some of it of the most exacting kind, it is refreshing to know that he can find time, inclination and ability to take up such a theme and make it so interesting and so profitable as he did. How true it is that some men don't live by bread alone!—Braintree Observer.

COLD WEATHER. The weather has been decidedly winterish this week, and on Thursday morning the thermometer indicated three to five degrees below zero. In some parts of the State it was from ten to twenty below. The nine inches of dry solid ice on some of the ponds in this vicinity, and if the cold weather continues, the latter part of next week will see our ice merchants busy harvesting their crystal crop. Sleighing has been tolerably good for about two weeks and there is a prospect of continuing throughout the month. Something unusual for December during the past decade.

HEAVY VERDICT. The jury on Thursday returned a heavy verdict against the Old Colony Railroad Company, in the case of Lydia W. Harmon who sued to recover damages for personal injuries sustained February 29, 1892. The plaintiff alleged that she entered a car at the Kneeland Street station, intending to go to Brockton, that just as she was about to take a seat the car was struck violently by a locomotive, which was backed up against the car, and she was thrown to the floor and permanently injured.

The jury awarded her $11,000 damages and also gave her husband, Samuel B. Harmon $752 for loss of the service of his wife.

WOLLASTON.

An attempt was made to break into the Wollaston Club House early Thursday evening. Just as the janitor was lighting the gas he attempted to force an entrance into the building by smashing in the side door. The janitor started out the front door for the man, but he escaped by running around the stable and out over First Hill.

Among the firms burnt out by the great fire at Buffalo, Thursday morning, was Faxon, Williams & Faxon, their loss being about $100,000. Mr. William H. Faxon, a member of the firm, was for many years a resident of Wollaston.

The Glaners will meet at the usual place Monday afternoon, Dec. 18, at 2.30 o'clock.

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union met Friday in the Congregational church.

The thermometer registered two degrees below zero at Wollaston early Thursday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. David R. Edgerton are passing the holidays at Providence, R. I.

Mr. James C. Bates had a bundle stolen from him at the Wollaston depot, Saturday night by a sneak thief.

Mr. Frank Sibley is acting keeper of the Long Island light, Boston Harbor, vice Koper Linton's absence in Europe.

Mr. A. A. Lincoln presided at the dinner given by the Wheaton Alumni association, at Hotel Thorndike, Boston, Saturday.

Mrs. J. G. Merrill of Wollaston, mother of Mrs. Charles T. Baker, met with a painful accident on Saturday by falling and straining the sciatic nerve.

The closing entertainment in the people's hall at Wollaston, on Monday evening, will be given by Dr. and Mrs. Rice, Miss Harriet T. Whitaker, soprano; Mr. Leslie M. Bartlett, tenor; and Mrs. Alma Faunce Smith, pianist.

The Rev. A. E. Winship, who was to have lectured at the Wollaston People's course Monday evening was unable to be present owing to sickness and Mr. H. T. Bailey, State Supervisor of Drawing gave an illustrated talk on "Beauty."

Lecture was the most instructive and entertaining one of the course. To use Emerson's words, from whom Mr. Bailey quoted freely, "It has been the office of art to educate the perception of beauty. We are immersed in beauty but our eyes have no clear vision. It needs, by the exhibition of single traits, to assist and lead the dormant taste. The virtue of art lies in detachment, in sequestering one object from the embracing variety. Though we travel the world over to find the beautiful, we must carry it with us, or we find it not. In nature, all is useful, all is beautiful. Beauty will not come at the call of a legislator, nor will it repeat in England or America its history in Greece."

A very pleasant reception was given at the Wollaston Congregational vestry on Thursday evening by the Ladies' Benevolent Society to meet those who have associated themselves with the society the past year. After the reception Mr. George H. Murray gave a brief sketch of Longfellow's life. Mrs. W. M. Wright gave an informal talk on the poet's most important work. Mrs. N. G. Nickerson sang with pleasing effect "The arrow and the song," and Mrs. Edward A. Robinson, Miss Miss Lincoln and Mrs. William S. Wadsworth read selections from his poems. Mrs. Edward S. Tenney the secretary of the Benevolent society gave a brief review of the work done by that society the past year. Light refreshments were served after the entertainment.

WEST QUINCY.

Chief Engineer Ripley and family are called again to mourn the loss of a little one, a babe of six months who died Sunday.

The entertainment by the young ladies of the West Quincy Methodist church under the auspices of the Social Union Wednesday evening, drew together a goodly company. A mixed quartette sang, Mr. Gragg gave a harjo solo, Miss Timberlake of Neponset, a piano solo, Miss Miller of Mattapan a reading, Miss Addie W. Miller a vocal solo, and Mr. Charles Barron a harmonica solo. All parts were liberally encored. Ice cream and cake were served at the close.

Stephen B. Little has resigned the editorial chair of the Enterprise.

The monthly business meeting of the West Quincy Epworth League was held Monday evening.

T. L. Williams has a very attractive show window, especially at night when illuminated with numerous little electric lights.

Miss Josephine Simpson of the Butler school at Portland, Me., has been engaged to fill the vacancy at the Willard school caused by the resignation of Miss Eva E. Hall.

The ladies of the social circle of the West Quincy Methodist church, are to repeat "The District school" early in January.

The two boys reported missing from Barre, Vt., have been at West Quincy but have now gone home. The boys had no complaint of their treatment at home and only left as they wanted to go to work on the railroad. When they arrived in Boston they spent the most of their money foolishly, and when they arrived at Quincy they were unable to obtain employment. They desired and as their money was all gone one of them wrote home. Money arrived Wednesday and they left for home Thursday.

The fourth anniversary of the West Quincy Epworth league will be observed Monday evening, January 8. Miss Lou Shackley, Miss Emma F. Kimball, Miss Addie W. Miller and Rev. W. W. Baldwin were appointed as committee of arrangements.

Election of Officers.

The West Quincy M. E. Sunday School has elected these officers: Superintendent,—Jonas Shadley. Assistant Superintendent,—Rev. W. W. Baldwin.

Secretary,—Miss Mary Trask. Treasurer,—C. S. Jos. Librarian,—Robert Newcomb.

The school is reported as prosperous in all departments. A very hopeful class of young men was formed with Mrs. C. T. Baldwin for teacher.

M. E. Church.

Preaching at the M. E. church at 10.30 A. M., by the pastor. Sunday school at 11.45. Epworth meeting at 6.30, and praise and prayer service at 7 p. All are cordially invited. All seats are free.

SOUTH QUINCY.

Thomas Phillips, a boy aged 10 years, has a temper that will get him into for about two weeks and there is a prospect of continuing throughout the month. Something unusual for December during the past decade.

HEAVY VERDICT. The jury on Thursday returned a heavy verdict against the Old Colony Railroad Company, in the case of Lydia W. Harmon who sued to recover damages for personal injuries sustained February 29, 1892. The plaintiff alleged that she entered a car at the Kneeland Street station, intending to go to Brockton, that just as she was about to take a seat the car was struck violently by a locomotive, which was backed up against the car, and she was thrown to the floor and permanently injured.

The jury awarded her $11,000 damages and also gave her husband, Samuel B. Harmon $752 for loss of the service of his wife.

WOLLASTON.

An attempt was made to break into the Wollaston Club House early Thursday evening. Just as the janitor was lighting the gas he attempted to force an entrance into the building by smashing in the side door. The janitor started out the front door for the man, but he escaped by running around the stable and out over First Hill.

WEYMOUTH.

Warren B. Miles, a young son of George A. Miles, fell upon the ice Thursday and broke his arm.

Grand Chancellor Daniel E. Denny and board of grand officers of the grand lodge, K. P., made Delphi lodge of Weymouth an official visit Thursday evening. Visitors were present from Danmokes lodge of Brockton and Monastique lodge of Braintree. The Page's rank was exemplified. A supper was served at the conclusion of the business session.

Reynolds post, S. G. A. R., has elected these officers: Commander,—Charles W. Hastings. Senior Vice Commander,—George L. Newton. Vice Commander,—George F. Maynard.

Quartermaster,—Eldridge Nash. Surgeon,—William A. Drake, M. D. Chaplain,—Bradford Hawes. Secretary,—J. D. Dunbar. Officer of Guard,—William H. Moran. Quartermaster Sargent,—Charles R. Trost.

Adjutant,—John W. Bates. M. Sheehy & Co. of East Weymouth, whose shoe factory was burglarized Monday evening, have since discovered that the amount of goods stolen exceed by $60 the original estimate, which was $60.

Frank A. Lewis of this town has been appointed an aide-de-camp on the staff of President McKinley in chief John G. B. Adams of the G. A. R.

City Finances.

The monthly statements of the City Auditor and Treasurer for December are especially interesting.

That of City Treasurer Adams shows receipts of over a million and one-quarter dollars viz: $1,270,074.24. The principal items are in connection with the purchase of the water works, viz:

Bonds sold, $350,000. Bonds exchanged, 250,000. Temporary loan, 130,000. Purchases, 2,512,171.

The total has been expended $2,512,171.47.83 of the appropriation of $10,000,000 to light the case, and $65,457.44 for water supply and service including note and interest.

Here is an interesting statement of the water supply account for 1898, as given by the Auditor.

Balance Jan. 1, 1898, $5,384.29. Receipts to Jan. 1, 1899, 73,888.41. Account Interest, 101.23. Bonds, 20,000.00.

Expended—Purchase Note, 100,000.00. Interest, 9,640.00. Extension, 44,947.34.

Balance, $8,868.61.

The temporary loans of the city outside water account were $173,846.00. The receipts from taxes of 1898 to have been paid and $40,000 of the temporary loans of 1892. City debt to amount of $40,330.00 and interest to the amount of $13,290.14 has been paid.

THERE is some good material among the new members of the next City Council - Israel Waterhouse, Walter T. Babcock,
William H. Sullivan, Alexander Clark,
John P. Bigelow, Thomas J. Lamb, John
M. O'Brien, Ephraim A. Snow, Frederick
E. Litchfield and Edward J. McKoon.

Mr. Litchfield is an ex-Councilman, serving in 1892. The Committee on Elections Department and Police, and also Health, Food and Bonds. He often took part in debates and his arguments carried weight. Mr.
Waterhouse has had experience in the Board of Assessors, and is a man of good judgment. Mr. Babcock and Mr. Bigelow from their acquaintance with finances would make good men for the Committee on Finance. Mr. Sullivan is a popular resident of Ward Two, without experience in city affairs. He is a working man, and sympathizes with wage earners, and will be heard in their interests.

Messrs. Clark and Lamb are successful business men and well known in their wards. Capt. Snow was widely advertised because of his work in the Police Department, and his locality expects much from him.
Messrs. O'Brien and McKoon are good citizens and should make good representatives for their wards. There are fewer new members than in the Council of 1892, and it should be a good working body.

THE MOVEMENT to supplant President Bass of the Council has not gained much headway, and was doubtless premature.
Mr. Bass will be the oldest member in point of service in the Council of 1894, as he will enter his fifth year. His service as presiding officer the past year has equipped him so that he will be better qualified than a new man for the position. It may have been noticed also that he was not elected by a large vote than was received by any of the ward Councilmen, running 71 ahead of the Republican candidate for Mayor in Ward
One. An investigation of the business shows a large volume to have been transacted in a much shorter time, for which the presiding officer is of course entitled to credit. The Council of 1892 was in session 97 hours and 22 minutes, and passed upon 143 orders and gave 6 hearings. The Council of the present Council up to date, in 51 hours and 40 minutes and the total will not reach 60 hours. It has considered over 200 orders and held 18 hearings. President Bass may well be proud of this record, and no one will question his impartiality and independence as a presiding officer, as there seems no very good reason for a change.

It is a wonder that there are not more coasting accidents, and if someone does not get injured it will be no fault of the boys. In several places the boys coast down a steep hill and across the tracks of the electric trolley. One of the most dangerous places is in Union street where the cars cannot be seen until they get within a few feet of the trolley and then it would be too late to stop. Another bad place is on Copeland street where the boys coast out of a yard and cross the trolley tracks.

The motormen on the cars realize the danger and as they approach these places they sound the gong loudly and bring their cars almost to a stop, still with all these precautions there is danger, and too much care can not be taken. There is a something that should be stopped and that is coasting on the sidewalks. It was only the other day that a man walking on the sidewalk on Elm street was run into by a boy coasting on the sidewalk. A man walking on the sidewalk at the corner of Elm and Union street was run into by a boy coasting on the sidewalk. It is a little quicker than he was in the habit of doing.

ALL the streets named in the $10,000 order for street widening are long thoroughfares and if they are improved the money will be well spent. Squantum street is the longest in the city, 18,300 feet; Willard street is 10,600 feet and laid out 49 1/2 feet wide; South street is 7815 feet; Centre street is 6026 feet and 49 1/2 feet wide; Central avenue is 6880 feet and 50 feet wide. The total length of the five is 49,585 feet, or nearly ten miles, which allows but $1000 per mile on an average.
It may be impossible to do much work this winter, but the prospect is that the unemployed will need work in the early spring.

BUT THREE of the thirty cities will have in 1894 an executive order in years than Mayor Hodges. Mayor Taylor of Haverhill is 66, Mayor Cook of Gloucester and Mayor
Lawrence of Medford 60 each and Mayor Hodges 60. The youngest is Mayor Gould of Fall River who will enter his fourth term. Mayor Matthews is the only other executive who will enter his fourth year.
None of the Massachusetts mayors of 1894 were born out of New England, and 22 are Massachusetts men.

THE MAYOR of Medford holds over, having been elected for two years. As all the preliminaries were necessary for a regular election nothing seems to be gained.
The election of a mayor is necessary to bring out a full vote and get good men in all positions. The total vote of Medford Tuesday was 1890 in a total of 2758 voters. It would have been no license instead of license had there been a full vote.

CONTRARY to expectations, the New York, New Haven & Hartford R. R. declared on Saturday the usual quarterly dividend of 2 1/2 per cent. President Clark said it was accomplished "by the removal of the interest on the bonds of the road."
The company had been expected to pay such an extent that unless the present depression is protracted for over a year, our dividends will not be decreased.

IT is Mayor Matthews again in Boston, and the Board of Aldermen and the Democratic Council. The talk of carrying the city for no license did not materialize, but had there been as many "No" as in 1892 it would have been no license. As the
"Yes" vote fell off less than 1000, and the "No" vote over 10,000, and the majority for license is 5,744.

CITY COUNCIL.

The City Council transacted its business expeditiously Monday. There was considerable of it but in one hour and five minutes it had appropriated $70,000 to give the unemployed work, smaller amounts for other purposes, made several transfers and started other appropriations.

Nineteen members answered to the roll call, the absentees being Councilmen Drake, Owen, Robbins and Smith.

Street Widening.
Mayor Fairbanks in a communication said there were many streets which might be widened under the order of $100,000 contemplated, but the more important were:
Willard, South, Centre, Central avenue and Squantum streets.

Transfers.
The Mayor for the communication of the Water Board asking an additional appropriation of $2,500 for maintenance account. His Honor recommended a transfer from the receipts. Referred to Committee on Finance.

The School Committee asked a transfer of $100 from evening common school to evening drawing school. An order introduced was referred to Committee on Finance.

That, when the Council adjourn it
be to Wednesday evening.

Reports.
The Committee on Finance reported that
the order making an appropriation to pay
the Kincaid claim ought to pass.
The order took its second reading.

The same committee reported an order
amending the ordinance increasing salary of Milk Inspector from $75 to $150. Read
once.

The same committee reported that the order appropriating $60,000 for extension of the water main, hydrants, etc., ought to pass, and it was without debate unanimously passed to be ordained, 18 voting yeas.

The same committee reported that the $30,000 for extension of water mains ought not to be placed where they would benefit
more than one.

The Committee on Claims reported in favor of refunding taxes paid by Adams
Real Estate trust and Nightingale & Bush.
An order was passed to be ordained.

The Committee on Finance reported that
the resolution accompanying the water
and street widening orders ought to pass
with an amendment to the latter that unemployed citizens with families be given preference. Accepted and adopted.

The Committee on Finance reported in favor of adopting Frank A. Johnson $4 per month.

The Committee on Finance reported that the $10,000 for street widening ought to pass. Under suspension of rules the order was passed unanimously to be ordained.

The Committee on Public Grounds reported that the petitioners for the purchase
by the city of the triangular lot at the junction of Liberty, Penn and Quincy streets, be referred to the Board of Public Grounds.

The Committee on Public Buildings and Fire Department reported orders for Four hundred of brick in Wards Two and Four.
Orders for $6,500 and $8,500 were reported,
read once and referred to Committee on Finance.

The special committee on distribution of the income of the Johnson fund reported.
Accepted.

The Committee on Claims reported an order appropriating $60,000 refund tax of the city of Liberty, Penn and Quincy streets. The order was passed unanimously
to be ordained.

The Committee on Finance reported that the order of $300 for a sidewalk on West road ought to pass. Passed to be ordained unanimously.

Councilmen Federhen inquired about
the order for lights on Quincy avenue and Main street, and Councilman Moxon said
the committee had as yet been unable to agree upon a number.

The order for four transfers took its second
reading.

Councilman Lennon moved to strike out
the $100 to the appropriation for enforcement of liquor laws until an itemized report was obtained.

Councilman Moxon objected. He said
the $100 was needed to pay the salary that would be due the liquor officer.
The amendment was declared carried, but
on a standing vote it was lost 6 to 12.

Medford Asylum Hearing.

The executive Council were in session all day Thursday over the Medford asylum matter, but reached no decision with reference to the charges made against the commissioners by the contractors, who have alleged breaches of contract.

The committee of the council, Messrs.
Morgan and Rice, who, with Gov. Russell, have been investigating the case, laid the matter before the whole Council Thursday, and Commissioners Murphy and Federhen, Architect Wentworth and Contractors White and Duhon, with counsel, were called to give testimony.

The principle controversy related to the quality and price of brick used. Mr. White claiming that the commissioners rejected
one kind of brick and substituted another without notice, and that the brick used was of inferior quality.

A public hearing was given the petitioners for the acceptance of Grove street.
No one came forward and the hearing closed.

Another hearing was given on the order of the School Committee asked a transfer of $100 from evening common school to evening drawing school. An order introduced was referred to Committee on Finance.

That, when the Council adjourn it
be to Wednesday evening.

Reports.
The Committee on Finance reported that
the order making an appropriation to pay
the Kincaid claim ought to pass.

The same committee reported an order
amending the ordinance increasing salary
of Milk Inspector from $75 to $150. Read
once.

The same committee reported that the $30,000 for extension of water mains ought not to be placed where they would benefit
more than one.

The Committee on Claims reported in favor of refunding taxes paid by Adams
Real Estate trust and Nightingale & Bush.
An order was passed to be ordained.

The Committee on Finance reported that
the resolution accompanying the water
and street widening orders ought to pass
with an amendment to the latter that unemployed citizens with families be given preference. Accepted and adopted.

The Committee on Finance reported in favor of adopting Frank A. Johnson $4
per month.

The Committee on Finance reported that
the $10,000 for street widening ought to pass. Under suspension of rules the order was passed unanimously to be ordained.

The Committee on Public Grounds reported that the petitioners for the purchase
by the city of the triangular lot at the junction of Liberty, Penn and Quincy streets, be referred to the Board of Public Grounds.

The Committee on Public Buildings and Fire Department reported orders for Four hundred of brick in Wards Two and Four.
Orders for $6,500 and $8,500 were reported,
read once and referred to Committee on Finance.

The special committee on distribution of the income of the Johnson fund reported.
Accepted.

The Committee on Claims reported an order appropriating $60,000 refund tax of
the city of Liberty, Penn and Quincy
streets. The order was passed unanimously
to be ordained.

The Committee on Finance reported that
the order of $300 for a sidewalk on West
road ought to pass. Passed to be ordained unanimously.

Councilmen Federhen inquired about
the order for lights on Quincy avenue and Main street, and Councilman Moxon said
the committee had as yet been unable to agree upon a number.

The order for four transfers took its second
reading.

Councilman Lennon moved to strike out
the $100 to the appropriation for enforcement of liquor laws until an itemized report was obtained.

Councilman Moxon objected. He said
the $100 was needed to pay the salary that would be due the liquor officer.
The amendment was declared carried, but
on a standing vote it was lost 6 to 12.

Woodward Institute.

The Woodward Institute for girls is completed and was thrown open for public inspection for the first time Thursday.

The building, which is an imposing structure, is built of wood from plans made by E. G. Thayer, and is situated on the corner of Hancock and Greenleaf streets, with a frontage of 81 feet 6 inches on Hancock street, and a depth of 77 feet on Greenleaf street. The foundation is of Quincy granite and the basement is concrete. In the basement the heating, ventilating and sanitary appliances are located, there also being space for play rooms.

The ground and second floors, which are almost identical, are finished 12 feet in the clear with three classrooms 25 by 28 on each floor and two additional rooms 13 on the ground floor. The latter being for the use of the teachers.

On each floor there are also closets closets for the use of the pupils. A long corridor extends the entire length of the building from which two doors lead into each class room, two landings also lead into the corridor on the second floor.

The floors of the rooms are of hard pine,
the inside finish is of first quality kiln dried elm, sheathed up four feet from the floor. Blackboards of slate surround each class room; four large panoramic light each room.

The attic is left unfinished, but is lighted by dormers, which locate the trusses for the roof support.

The building is piped for gas and each room is connected by electric bells and speaking tubes with the master's room.

It is understood that the building cost
the neighborhood of $16,000.

The contractor of the building was Stephen O. Moxon who commenced work on the foundation during the latter part of August, and has done an excellent job in an incredibly short time.

The land about the building has been filled with gravel up to a level with the street, but not much attempt has been made in grading on account of the advanced season. Work will however probably be commenced in the early spring so that when summer opens there will be green grass growing, and gravel walks leading to the entrance.

The old board fence on the Hancock street side of the lot, will also be removed and the place will look very handsome.

Cummings Indicted.

The Perfect Eye
is very rare.

Some youthful eyes are practically perfect, but even these change with passing years, and require glasses after 40. No two people's eyes are exactly alike, and in many cases there is a marked difference in the eyes of the same person.

The fact that one sees well without glasses is no convincing proof that he does not need a glass for the eyes may be straining to see or may only be seeing, or the muscles may not be correctly exercised so as to result in long life to the eyes.

It will cost you nothing to talk over the matter with us, and have your eyes examined to see if you need a glass. If you do, we will give you a glass. If you do not, we will tell you so. If you have never worn glasses, we will tell you whether you ought to begin. If you already wear them, we will tell you whether they are suited to your eyes. Your interests are ours.

Don't waste your money!

No. 31 HANCOCK STREET,
Quincy, Mass.

Just had the light that black brocade;
For one of her years it felt too black.
Some beautiful plush;
Oh, strawberry crush;
That is rather too good for me, I'm afraid.
There, open to view that lovely spread -
Dear! 't would be a treat to herself her bed.
I'm ready to drop
With trying to sleep
You may send to the house a spoon of thread!
So little Miss Mercy Merryhew Left things in a stew her sleeping through,
And she slammed the door
In the manner she'd seen her mamma do.
When 't would be a treat to herself her bed.

"Seems to me I never noticed her resemblance so much before. She had just come from the country, and she was quite as old as you. We use to live in the country and had a place something like your dad's, with a great big house and barn and a brook running through the meadow, and two big oak trees back of the house that seemed to spread their great branches over the roof protection like, only they sometimes was a bit bothersome, fillin' the eaves troughs full o' leaves and acorns and rotti'n' the shingles 'cause the shadder kept off the sun."

"In front of the house was flowers and lilie bushes and a row o' maple trees and a gravel path leadin' from the stone at the bottom of the doorteps to the yard gate.
Sal took care of the flowers and kept the grass mowed, and everything looked as sleek and clean as any of the fine places in the city, and she was a powerful help to her mother, and some times I used to think her cookin' beat her mother's, but
'taint no use dwellin' on such things now."

"Sal went to school winters and allus left off headmost, and her teacher was allus a sayin' what a scholar she was, till one day Miss Simpson scolded at our house and told us how 'taint no use sayin' her, as she couldn't teach her no more."

"Then we sent her to the 'cademy, and at Christmas I bought her an organ, and she 'taint no use sayin' she was playin' in the church at the village and was allus wanted when there was to be concerts and doin's a'ny kind."

"Everybody thought her as good as gold, and she never seemed out o' sorts with anything, but was allus a smilin' and sayin' happy things."

"She bent so good-tempered and likewise party, 'twas surprisin' that we had lots o' company. She used all the feller's first-rate, but Jos' Martin was allus her favorite, and I kind o' liked Jos' and hoped
'twould make a match with her next August,
the home from the 'cademy I kind o' thought she'd get her mind fixed on something higher than Jos' and the rest o' us country folks, she still was as good as ever."

"I knew she couldn't be knowed much of the 'cademy chaps, 'cause they was too strict with the rules, but she'd seen 'em an' heard 'em recite in the class room, ministers' sons and lawyers' sons and such like, and 'twas surprisin' if she saw a difference 'twixt them and the feller's round home as only went to school winters."

"I didn't pay much attention fer the change, which was really noticeable because 'taint no use mentionin' it, fer I knew as how 'taint no use sayin' her, as she'd be willin' to marry Jos' or some one what's her eal and settled down on the o'd farm."

"She was beginnin' to be more like her old self, happy-like all the time, when one day a young feller come to the village, 'er spend his vacation,' so he said."

"He was tall and handsome and had a mustache that looked like silk, only I didn't like 'cause 'twas yellow, and he was dressed in a gentlemanly way, and he he'd get a team from the livery and go cavortin' round the country, spendin' lots o' money and a-puttin' on all sorts o' airs."

"He told as how his father owned a big o'd property in Boston, and how he was in business with him, but as his health was kind o' broken down, and the doctors had 'told him to go rusticatin', so he rusticated 'round our neighborhood all summer, and people come to think him just wonderful."

"I didn't like him first-rate after I saw how ready he was to squander money, fer when a man finds time to do nothin' 'three or four months at a stretch, and then shows no signs o' stoppin', something's ails the matter."

"Well, he got acquainted with our Sal and used to be round our place a good share o' the time, but I said nothin', as I saw that Sal liked him better than the other fellows, and arter all I didn't see no good reason to be afraid. I kind o' hoped that somebody'd 'taint happen to her o' him, but they finally got comin' and Sal got ter standin' at the gate with the city chap
'long inter the evening, and he'd take her ridin', and when she'd come back her face 'ud be all aglow and she'd sing 'round
the house all day, and sometimes her mind
'ud kind o' wander 'way from her work and she'd go 'bout thinkin' o' him."

"I specked what the matter was, but thought 'twas no use sayin' anything, so I heard something 'bout the feller I didn't like, so I told Sal 'taint her ter hev nothin' more to do with him, but she flared up as I never seen her do before and said as now she was a-goin' to marry him.
The next minute she begun cryin' and come and kissed me and said soft and low against me a gentle word, and she'd well edified and how he was a-goin' to take her ter a fine place in the city, where I cut come and live too."

"So we talked a long time and I begun to think that p'thaps 'twas all for the best, still I vowed I'd stay on the farm, and I belonged, and 'twas goin' to 'taint her ter
the city."

"The young feller staid all winter; the doctors had 'told him to go to the sea, and 'Long the next spring, in May, when everything was bloomin' again and summer was beginnin' to peep out o' the ground and when everything ought to be looked happy, I begun to notice that Sal didn't smile so much as she used ter, and she seemed to be fergittin' how ter sing, and when the city chap come 'round she'd get kind o' nervous and seemed allus tryin' to please him, and sometimes I'd see 'em talkin' together earnest like, but he didn't come so often and didn't seem so mighty anxious ter be perline and nice as before."

"Still he'd loder say 'bout Boston and his father's money and such like, and 'twas kind o' understand 'mong us that they'd get married in the fall. 'Tad time, though, fer no time so good as when the flowers and tree are all abloom with promises o' happiness, but I said nothin'
and only hoped they'd be happy."

"One day I drove over to Scottsville,
'bout ten mile away, and while there I heard something surprisin'."

"It was tellin' at the hotel as how a sheriff was ter 'rest a feller as had been fought a big note out. East and was hid somewhere round in the country. He'd been caught that mornin', they said, while out ridin', and the Sheriff had had a terrible time gettin' the handcuffs onto him."

"Everybody was excited and a-talkin', and I was kind o' nervous, and I was
'round there afore. I asked no questions, but when I heard that Sheriff was comin' with the prisoner I went out with the crowd to see him, and there was the feller as had been spendin' his vacation a hull year 'round our neighborhood."

"He grined and nodded when he seen me, but I was too much took back ter see anythin'."

Christmas Day.
Holidays with a religious sanction are,
so far as we can know, as old as the human race. At any rate, the earliest records we have of such observances present the religious feature. It is essential to these very purposes, the evoking of the "wondrous kindness," which, growing out of fellow-feeling, confesses a common independence upon a divine power. This going out of the human heart to something higher, holier and more beneficent than man, is more universal than a cursory glance would lead us to think. There are many who are moved unconsciously to themselves by it, even without thought or effort they breathe the breath of their natural bodies. Prejudice, bigotry, selfishness and narrow intolerance may impede, or may mar the mystery of sympathy. But the reach of the true holiday, in the boundless Christian spirit of charity, includes in its bosom all those who, who fill the true significance unless they rise above mere toleration, and embrace in kindly thought all the children of Father of all.

Upon these essential verities, spiritual and intellectual, hang, as a tinsel and ornament, the innocent sensual enjoyments of the season, as the fringe adorned the official garments of the priest in the Hebrew temple. The senses are the necessary means to the mind, and the body, the body is the servant of the soul. And we are to take heed that the servant does not dominate the master.
The family circle is today the center of satisfaction and the scene of the purest happiness in the hope of those who, who keep holiday. May all to whom these words shall come heartily enjoy it, and realize that the sympathy which makes the whole world kin, causes all in a house to be of one heart and one mind.

The burthened mails, the loaded trains, and the busy managers have been overtaxed discharging their trust. The absent are brought near by kindly thoughts;
the needy are not forgotten, and there are reminders as well for truth is incessant in personal presence. The thought of the poet that the moon looks down on
many brooks, but the same moon is reflected in them all, is pertinent in a higher sense today. In a higher and more poetical sense as well, for truth is incessant in personal presence. The thought of the poet that the moon looks down on
many brooks, but the same moon is reflected in them all, is pertinent in a higher sense today. In a higher and more poetical sense as well, for truth is incessant in personal presence.

The Deadly Cold Bed.
If trustworthy statistics could be had of the number of persons who die every year from the effects of a cold bed, they would probably be astonishing and appalling. It is a peril that constantly besets traveling men, and if they are wise they will vary insist on having their beds aired and dried, even at the risk of causing much trouble to their landlords. But, according to Good Housekeeping, it is a peril that resides also in the home, and the cold 'spare room' has slain its thousands of hapless guests, and will go on with its slaughter till people learn to heed it.
Not only the guest, but the family, often suffer the penalty of sleeping in cold rooms and chilling their bodies, at a time when they need all their bodily heat, by getting beneath a cold bed. Even in winter, when the weather a cold, damp bed will get in its deadly work. It is a needless peril, and the neglect to provide dry rooms and beds has in it the elements of murder and suicide. -Scientific American.

Met with a Serious Fall.
You are very late this morning, Mr. Bal-win," said the dry goods merchant recently to one of his clerks. "Do not let it happen again."
"Very sorry," said the clerk humbly.
"I met with a serious fall."
"Are you hurt much?"
"Principally, sir, in my estimation," answered the clerk respectfully.
"Oh never mind that," said the merchant. "I am very sorry and had no intention to be severe. We are all fallible accidents. How did you get the fall?"
"Well, you see, sir, I was in the store on a rainy day, and I was called early this morning - earlier, in fact, than usual."

A Dangerous Habit.
Too much cannot be said in regard to the danger of putting small articles in the mouth. A great many persons carelessly hold cut pens, pencils, and other articles in their mouths. They fail to realize that an ordinary coin which has been in circulation a score of years and passed through thousands of hands is not only dirty but may hold the germs of the foulest disease.
Not many years ago the public was horror-stricken by the death of a clergyman from a corks which was suddenly blown into his windpipe by a bit of coddling paper. He was holding it in his lips as many people while pouring medicine from a bottle. Another incident is that of a man who was killed by a handful of tacks which he was holding in his mouth while he was putting down a carpet, and which was blown into his lungs by a sudden fit of laughter. Sneezing, coughing, laughing, or any slight involuntary spasm of the throat may at any time cause similar accidents. -Exchange.

Try this Experiment.
No smoker realizes how much nicotine
he has taken into his mouth in the consumption of a cigar until he has tried this experiment: Fill the mouth with smoke, when the cigar is burning freely, and breathe it out slowly through a handkerchief, compressing the lips until only a small aperture remains, as in whistling.
After the smoke has been exhaled, a distinct brown stain will be seen on the linen, and it emits a strong odor, like that of an old pipe. This is nicotine, the poisonous principal of tobacco, and more or less of it is absorbed through the mucous membrane every time that a cigar, cigarette or pipe is smoked or tobacco is chewed.

Daughters of the Revolution.
The movement to organize the Society of the "Daughters of the Revolution" began with the Society of "The Cincinnati" and has since grown steadily in strength and purpose.
Among the "Daughters," the idea originated with a lady whose name was spent some time in a hotel in Virginia, between three and four years ago. An extensive correspondence ensued, and eventually the thoughts therein expressed took positive form in New York, and the "Society of the Daughters of the Revolution" was incorporated and organized in September, 1891, its primary object, briefly stated, being "to perpetuate the memory and spirit of the men and women who achieved our glorious American Independence." Already branches have been organized in many of the United States, but also into foreign countries, where are gathered Americans with filled with love of "Liberty, Home and Country," the fruits of the tree planted by their ancestors in the Revolution.

Massachusetts is rich in Revolutionary History, and the descendants of patriots are beginning to realize the great importance of keeping alive, in these times, the spirit of Americanism.
Not only the Commonwealth of Massachusetts is the "Banner State" in this history, but to posterity it owes a debt.
The Massachusetts Revolutionary Rolls and Records are largely documentary and principally help memory, for truth is incessant in personal presence. The thought of the poet that the moon looks down on
many brooks, but the same moon is reflected in them all, is pertinent in a higher sense today. In a higher and more poetical sense as well, for truth is incessant in personal presence.

Inspection of Food and Drink.
France is far in advance of this country
as regards the inspection of food and drink.
The municipal laboratory of Paris is a chemical police service. It searches for poisons, microbes and adulterations such as the civic police searches for assassins, thieves and embezzlers. It gives the Parisian people full information on the composition of the foods and beverages that are offered for sale to warn it against any manufactured article of that character which may be dangerous to health. All food preparations are regarded by the municipality and closely watched by the inspectors. The daily duty of the inspector takes him into even the public kitchen.
The law forbids the use of lead, zinc and galvanized iron in the manufacture of cooking vessels. It directs that pottery which is covered with a glaze containing enough oxide of lead to yield to a feeble acid be condemned and seized. It regulates the manufacture of tin cans, and in fact all other matters made to hold food. The police also instruct the people in simple methods for detecting frauds in food products. All of which might profitably for consumers at least, be emulated by the government of our own country. -Mass-field News.

Germany has passed a new law which should assist in preventing accidental poisoning, and one which might be instead heretofore. All drugs intended for internal use must henceforth be put in round bottles, and those which are used externally must be put in hexagonal bottles.

SAURDAY, DEC. 23, 1893.

Christmas Programmes.

Christmas began in the public schools Friday, will be continued by the Sunday Schools today, by the churches Sunday, and in the homes on Monday.

The observance in the public schools is not as general as in some years, being confined mostly to the lower grades, which enjoyed an hour or two very pleasantly in exercises, games, etc.

The following are some of the church programmes:

Christ's Church.

The children's Christmas festival at this church will be held at 6 p. m. today. There will be special hymns and carols.

On Sunday the morning prayer and sermon will be at 10:30, the Sunday School at 12, and at 7 p. m., a Christmas carol service and sermon.

On Christmas day a morning prayer, sermon and holy communion at 10:30 a. m. with this music:

To Deum, V. Stanford.
Antiphona—Blessed be the Lord. Barnby
Special Hymns and Carols.

Congregational Church.

The primary department of the Centre Congregational Sunday school will inaugurate the Christmas festivities by a tree at 2:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

There will be a tree, Christmas carol, fairy songs, games and a merry time, under the direction of Miss Fish, the superintendent.

Saturday evening the main school will have a musical and literary Christmas programme. Santa Claus may be expected and will assist assistance.

Sunday morning at 10:30 Rev. Edward Norton will preach a Christmas sermon and there will be special music as follows:

Antiphona—Behold I bring you Good Tidings.
Psalm and Gloria.
Sacred song—"The Nativity." Schuecker
Antiphona—"Nativity." Gounod

In the evening at 7 o'clock the congregation and choir will render a Christmas service of song and responsive readings.

The auxiliaries of the church are doing considerable practical work in Christmas charity. There are four separate organizations at work—the Sunday School, the King's Daughters, the young ladies and the young men.

Universalist Church.

On Saturday evening from 5 to 7:30 o'clock the usual entertainment for the children will be given in the vestry of the Universalist church. Light refreshments will be served to the members of the school and a short programme has been arranged, consisting of readings, music, etc. No presents are to be given, but the school voted to bring their gifts of clothing, provisions, etc., to be placed in the hands of a committee for distribution to those who are in special need of them.

At the Sunday morning service the pastor will preach a sermon appropriate to the day.

In the evening a Christmas vesper service at 7 o'clock, with a brief address by the pastor. The church choir, Sunday school and the Allion quartette will render the music.

Catholic Sunday School.

At St. Mary's hall, next Tuesday afternoon there will be an illustrated lecture to the children on the World's Fair. The lecture will be repeated again in the evening.

Memorial Church, Atlantic.

Christmas at the Memorial church, Atlantic, will be observed in a fitting manner. The programme for Sunday morning is as follows:

Organ voluntary, Mrs. C. L. Coe.
Antiphona—"Gloria to God most high." Contralto solo, Mrs. Ella V. Carver.
Tenor solo, Mrs. William H. Carver.
Antiphona—"Behold I bring good tidings." Organ.

Sunday evening at 7 o'clock there will be a Sunday school concert.

Monday evening at 7 o'clock the cantata, "Santa Claus, Jr.," will be presented, to be followed by a Christmas tree.

Wollaston Baptist.

The Christmas music at the Baptist church, Wollaston, will be as follows: Sunday morning at 10:45:

Antiphona—"There were shepherds." Buck Soprano solo.
Mrs. F. A. Page, Quartette and Chorus.
Tenor solo—"Palm Branches." Faure.
Mrs. F. A. Page.

At the evening service at 7 o'clock, Sunday School concert.

Organ offertory in D minor, B. F. Gilbert.
Choir, Selection, "O Holy Night," Adolph.
Solo by Mrs. S. M. King.

"The Shepherd of Bethlehem." Adolph.

CITY BRIEFS.

The physicians report a great deal of sickness in town.

Dr. A. H. Gilson has been commissioned as a justice of the peace.

Miss Eliza Crane has gone to New York for a three months' visit.

Joseph W. Fletcher is quite seriously ill at his home on Granite street.

Bert Emery of this city was severely hurt by a fire engine in Boston, Thursday.

The Granite Clothing Co. has a new "ad" today replete with Christmas goods.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Quincy of Lyndon, Vermont, are visiting relatives in Quincy.

Mr. J. H. Wheeler, who has been confined to the bed for four months, is still confined to the bed.

The public schools closed Friday afternoon for the holidays, not opening until Tuesday, Jan. 2.

Miss M. E. Fish advertises some pretty novelties for Christmas. She has a fine stock of fancy work.

An account was allowed in the estate of the late John Brierley of this city at Dedham on Wednesday.

J. E. Alger of the firm of Bowen & Alger has been confined to the house for a week with the grippe.

A 1200 candle power lamp run by an alternating current, has been put in D. N. Wadsworth & Co.'s store.

Mr. Thomas R. Burrows has moved from 105 Washington street, to one of the Bigelow houses on South.

Santa Claus will lead his pack of some of the churches this year instead of unloading as usual. A good idea.

A number of the young people of the Congregational church are collecting money to distribute to the worthy poor.

The N. Y. N. H. & H. R. R. has 122 empty freight cars on a side track between Savin Hill and Dorchester avenue.

People are buying many of their Christmas presents in Quincy this year where they formerly go to Boston.

Miss May McCabe of Southbridge, formerly a trainee in this city, spent a few days last week with Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Pond.

The name of Hon. William N. Eaton is prominently mentioned in connection with the office of Commissioner of Public Works.

After a lingering illness, and when believed to be on the road to recovery, the daughter of Chief Police Langley died on Friday.

With all the hard times there are plenty of those who can find money enough to go to the city and pay their bills the next morning in court.

Do not forget to remember some poor family Christmas day, and make them happy with some present, no matter how small, it will be appreciated.

At the whilst concert at the Granite City Club rooms on Wednesday evening, Miss A. L. Currier took the lady's prize and Mr. H. F. Tilden the gentlemen's prize.

The Hospital Aid Association will meet in Probate Court rooms on Thursday next at 3 o'clock. Much work is waiting for the ladies. Members will please attend.

The many friends of Miss Kate Garrity will be sorry to learn that she is dangerously ill at her father's home on Cottage street, and her recovery is doubtful.

Major Hodges term of office will be fifty-three weeks long and it will not be long before he will be installed Jan. 1, 1894, and his successor Jan. 7, 1895.

Mr. Herbert F. Nye, who has been sick with the grippe is getting better. His mother is now quite sick with the same disease, which seems to be quite prevalent in this city.

The Quincy Cycle club are rehearsing for a grand minstrel entertainment to be given early in January, and from all accounts it will surpass anything ever given in that line in this city.

Charles B. Winslow of Austin & Winslow's Express, appeared before the Railroad Commissioners Wednesday, and testified to discrimination against his express in favor of the Dispatch company.

Hon. John Shaw has returned from Washington, where he has just been in some of the most important positions in the government, and he is expected to be in Quincy on Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Philbrick delivered the charge to pastor. The sermon was by Prof. William R. Shipman.

The Columbus band gave an excellent concert Wednesday evening at Hancock hall, before an audience of music loving people. The concert was under the direction of Prof. M. Adams, and they were assisted by Prof. F. P. Cercola of Boston.

Mr. Edward Goodrich entertained the Columbian Whist club at his home, 197 Hancock street, Thursday evening, and an enjoyable time was had by all. Miss Grace Spear of Cambridge and Mr. George Ewell of Quincy were awarded the first prize, and Prof. Frank Bassick had the pleasure of carrying away the booty.

The pupils of several of the public schools have a scheme which they are working for the relief of the deserving poor of the city. The pupils were requested to bring a potato, cabbage or some article of food that can be used as a result a large amount has been collected.

Thursday afternoon a Rhode Island party, consisting of ex-Gov. George Peabody Wetmore and his fellow trustees of the Wetmore Hospital, visited the Quincy Hospital, and as one said, found a bright, clean, well-managed hospital, with bright prospects of usefulness. The party has also visited Newton and other places and enjoyed a pleasant and profitable trip.

The neighborhood club met Wednesday evening with Mr. Gordon M. Keating on Washington street, and passed an unusually pleasant evening. The programme arranged consisted of several games, which not only amused but mystified, and vocal and instrumental music. The party has been a very successful one. It was proposed that a record should be held but this was finally abandoned and he was awarded the trophy. Mr. Horace F. Spear captured the booty. Refreshments were served during the evening.

A petition signed by nearly 100 of the granite manufacturers of this city has been forwarded to Washington protesting against the proposed reduction of the tariff on granite. The committee is sorry to say, however, that the outlook for favorable consideration is not at all satisfactory. The Massachusetts senators see the disastrous results to the granite industry which would follow the reduction and will do what they can to prevent it.

Mr. and Mrs. Osborne Rogers entertained the Hancock Whist Club, Wednesday evening, at their residence on Hancock street. At the close of the evening's play it was decided that C. B. Tilton had captured first prize by one point. It was proposed that a record should be held but this was finally abandoned and he was awarded the trophy. Mr. Horace F. Spear captured the booty. Refreshments were served during the evening.

Children's Sale.

Notwithstanding the extremely bad weather of last Saturday afternoon the children's fair and the raising of the Quincy City Hospital, at the house of Mr. Albert Keating, one of the directors of the Ladies' Hospital Aid Association of Ward Two, proved a gratifying and decided success, realizing about $20.

Games, vocal and instrumental music, interspersed during the sale, served to make the occasion one of entertainment as well as of profit. Great credit is due the young people in the vicinity, for their efforts to make the sale a success.

Mr. Joseph Dyer, one of Brantree's well known citizens, died Thursday, aged 74 years. Mr. Dyer was a number of times tax collector for the town of Brantree and was widely known. He leaves one daughter.

WOLLASTON.

The Sunday school of the Methodist Episcopal church, will hold a Christmas concert on Sunday evening at 6:30 o'clock. On Monday evening a Christmas cantata will be given and presents distributed to the children of the school.

The Wollaston club is to give a pool and billiard tournament, and also a series of six progressive whist parties, beginning Wednesday evening, January 3.

Miss Carpenter of South Framingham is the guest of Mrs. D. L. Linn post office.

The Unity club of Wollaston discussed Emerson at its meeting on Tuesday evening.

Mrs. S. A. Merrill, wife of Capt. Merrill of the Wollaston hotel, died on Tuesday night, after a lingering illness.

At the regular monthly meeting of the Wollaston Co-operative Bank held on Tuesday evening $1650 was sold from five to ten cents premium.

A valuable watch has been lost by a Wollaston lady. Being a present, it was highly prized by the owner, who will liberally reward the finder.

Miss Marion Taylor has collected $600 in subscription for the City Hospital.

Some time ago Mr. A. L. Baker offered a pair of skates valued at $5 to the boy, and also a pair of the same value to the girl guessing the number of beans in a bottle, which he had on exhibition at his store on Wednesday the skates were awarded to Miss Cameron and Master Fred Howe.

A delightful dancing party was given by the Unitarians at the Knights of Honor hall last week Friday evening. Notwithstanding the severe storm there was a large crowd of young people and members of the society present. The matrons were Mrs. Sylvester Brown, Mrs. Charles R. Sherman and Mrs. Charles W. Linn.

The movement at the Park, Norfolk, Dows and Atlantic for free delivery, excites but little interest at Wollaston. The ladies are so well served by Postmaster Tilton that it is doubtful if it asks for free delivery for several years.

Depot and all the stores are situated so near together that free delivery would be more of a disadvantage to many than a benefit they say.

Mr. Frank P. Waterhouse and family arrived at San Francisco on Sunday. All are reported in good health and enjoyed a pleasant trip across the continent.

The last entertainment in the people's club at the Wollaston Congregational church on May evening, attracted an audience that crowded the auditorium to the doors. The concert programme, which was made up of instrumental as well as vocal numbers, was enthusiastically received, and the artists, Miss Harriet S. Whitler, soprano; Miss Alma Fausch Smith, pianist; Mrs. Jeannette Noyes-Rice, contralto; Mr. Lester H. Bartlett, tenor; and Dr. George B. Rice, baritone, were given liberal applause. This course of entertainments, which just last week closed, to a close, is the best that has ever been given at Wollaston, and reflects great credit upon Mr. W. G. Corbell, and Mr. and Mrs. Elbert H. Corbell, who have worked so assiduously for its success. The proceeds, which amount to quite a large sum of money, will be given to the King's Daughters.

Wedding Anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Bates were agreeably surprised at their residence on Warren street, last Friday evening by a large number of their friends from Quincy and towns along the South Shore, who entered upon them in an unceremonious manner they were partaking of their evening meal. The object of their coming was to help them celebrate their wedding which occurred ten years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Bates made them welcome and the evening was given up to enjoyment, games and music, being the principal numbers on the programme.

A tempting supper which the guests brought with them was served during the evening. They also brought a number of useful presents which they requested Mr. and Mrs. Bates to accept as reminders of their friendship.

Forefathers' Supper.

A Forefathers' supper and sociable was given at the vestry of the Wollaston Unitarian church on Thursday evening. The supper the Rev. Mr. Bagley read extracts from the old time laws of Connecticut, which were read with much interest. Mr. Chandler W. Smith rendered an old time song with pleasing effect. Mr. Thomas J. Mitchell entertained the audience with an original story; Mrs. John H. Litchfield, Jr. read "The Hanging of the Crane;" Mr. Frederick H. Bishop gave an interesting account of Forefathers' day observances.

SOUTH QUINCY.

John S. Mitchell, clerk at Willard's drug store, is sick with the grippe.

Alex. Maroon and Mr. Fred Barnicot, two of Quincy's granite manufacturers, left on Monday morning for New York Saturday, for a much needed vacation among friends and relatives in the old country.

Mr. William A. Reed, principal of the Lincoln school, has so far recovered from his recent illness as to be able to resume his duties.

James S. Baxter, while at work repairing a building last night, accidentally stepped on a nail, the head of which penetrated his foot. He continued to work however, and has not taken any vacation on account of it, keeping at work until the present time, when he has been obliged to call the services of a physician who, after opening the foot and cleaning it, gave orders for him to "keep still till it heals up."

Moral: "A stitch in time saves nine."

Dutiful Lilliput.

At the residence of Mrs. Lilliput on Trafford street, Dec. 14, there was a happy event, her daughter, Miss Alice Lilliput and Mr. Robert Dutton from New York in marriage by Rev. Walter Russell Breed of Christ's church. The bride was given away by her brother, Mr. C. L. Lilliput. She was gowned in a white cashmere trimmed with white lace, and carried a bouquet of white roses. Miss Lilliput, a sister of the bride, was bridesmaid, and wore a cream cashmere with lace and pearl trimmings and carried a bouquet of chrysanthemums.

The wedding supper was followed by dancing and other amusements. Mr. and Mrs. Dutton received many beautiful presents.

Frederick's Church.

Rev. W. Steele, pastor. 10:30 A. M. Subject: "Wonderful Names of Christ." Sunday School at close of this service. At 7 p. m. Subject: "The Imperative-Now." Young People's prayer meeting Tuesday evening. Congregational Prayer meeting Thursday evening. Come and welcome.

Charity at Wollaston.

The pupils of the Wollaston school have, during the past week, brought together a large quantity of food and clothing for the teachers with the aid of the "King's Daughters." They are to distribute among the needy of Quincy. Many families will have a Christmas made brighter by this means.

The spirit with which the children responded, fully shows that it is:

"Not what we give, but what we share.
For the gift without the giver is bare."
He gives himself with his arms for three, himself, his hungry neighbor, and me."

Among the articles contributed, were bags of flour, sugar, potatoes, squashes, turnips, toys, clothing and preserves. The whole contribution making a good sized wagon load.

The Milford Journal says: "The greatest man in the U. S. Senate, is George Frisbie Hoar of Massachusetts."

ATLANTIC.

E. P. Oakman of Billings street has moved to No. 1200 Washington street. Thomas Clark has moved to the house of E. Larkin on Billings street.

Miss M. M. Green of Portsmouth, N. H., is the guest of Mrs. J. H. Yeoman.

In the X-Y-Zelle Court of law, in the case of Mrs. Lillie H. Tins, petitioner, Quincy, vs. city of Boston, a new trial has been ordered.

Mr. Shaw of Hancock street, has purchased one of Bryan's new houses on Madison street.

In the Superior Criminal Court at Dedham, Wednesday, the case of Andrew Peterson of Squantum, which was continued for sentence from the September term of the Court was set for sentence.

The jury found Peterson guilty of malicious mischief in trespassing upon the land of Mrs. Titus at Squantum and tearing down a fence. The Court sentenced him to pay fine of one hundred dollars.

Dr. W. G. Kendall's first terrier puppy, "Plea," won the blue ribbon, or first prize in her class, at the Providence dog show last week. The doctor seems to be "in it" at prize winning this season.

"In it" at prize winning this season. The banquet of Combination engine company No. 2, of Atlantic, to have been held Thursday evening in honor of the arrival of the new apparatus, has been postponed until some evening next week.

Music hall, Atlantic, was the scene of much gaiety Tuesday evening. The opening dancing party of the Social club was given and all who attended can attest to its success. The floor was well filled by the friends of this club, and society people were present in good numbers from Quincy, Wollaston, Neponset, Ashmont and Boston.

The ladies for the most part were in evening dress and made a most charming appearance. From a monster punch bowl of punch and lemonade, the guests were regaled during the dances and at intermission ice cream and cake was partaken of by all who wished.

The music was fine, the company select, and if any present failed to pass the evening pleasantly, it certainly was not the fault of the Committee. It was a most auspicious opening and promises well for the others to follow. The next dance we understand will be a calypso party.

The Granite Railway Co. shut down next week. Lack of work is the cause.

The West Quincy Epworth league met with Miss Grace Dodd Wednesday evening. Mr. and Mrs. William Linn of Hill place, West Quincy, are confined to the house with gripple.

Mr. David A. McGrath, who lost his wife this week, is confined to his bed with a severe cold.

Herbert E. Doble is confined to the house with a severe cold.

A valuable horse, owned by Thomas Ring, ran away at West Quincy, Monday, and in the course of his flight he fell on a street, breaking his neck. As the horse was called "he killed the animal."

A horse of J. Burgh, the machine agent, became frightened on Bryant avenue, Monday afternoon and ran away. He had not gone a great distance before he jumped over a stone wall and across a field back to the street again where he was stopped. The only damage done was to the machine which was smashed.

Death of Mr. McGrath.

Mrs. David A. McGrath, wife of the telephone operator at the West Quincy depot, died of pneumonia early Tuesday morning, after a severe illness of six weeks.

Mrs. McGrath was for many years connected with the St. John's Catholic Sunday school at Quincy, and was a devoted member of the affection of her pupils by her gentle manner and attention to their interests; and the good will and respect of all who were favored by her acquaintance.

The funeral service was held at 9 o'clock Thursday at St. Mary's church.

More Burglaries.

Burglars paid Quincy another visit early Saturday morning and secured $100 in money and a watch valued at about $20.

The house entered was that of Peter Williams on Quincy avenue, and the first family knew that the house had been robbed was when they found the front door open about 10 o'clock.

An investigation showed that $70 in money of Fred Williams, $30 in money and a silver watch of George Williams and fifty cents from the old gentleman had been taken.

Just what time the break occurred is not known, but it must have been about one o'clock in the morning as some of the family were up until that time. Entrance was probably made by turning the key of the front door by means of a pair of nippers.

About midnight two men, one of whom was a negro, called at Hall's stable and waited for them to take them to Brantree, and then to an hour and then bringing them to Quincy. They refused to go and they were directed to Fennell & Son's stable, but they did not go there. These may not have been the parties who entered Mr. Williams' house, but their actions were very suspicious.

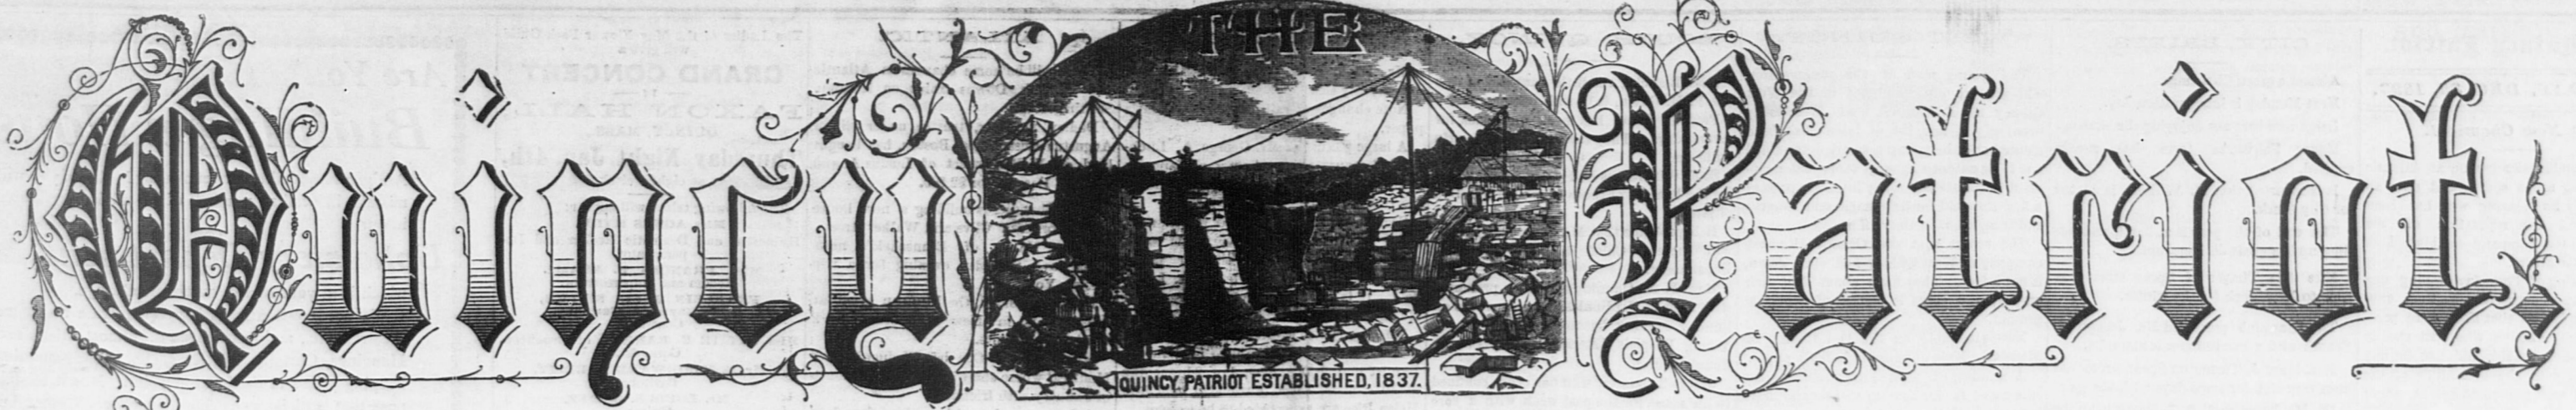

The burglar also paid a visit to the residence of Mrs. J. L. Eldridge on Howard street, Quincy Neck. Mrs. Eldridge's daughter heard them and called to her mother. Just then the dog began to bark and the burglar beat a hasty retreat without securing anything.

'Tis a Pity Patti
Has decided not to give an open air concert in the square at Quincy this season, but great artists often disappoint the public, and that is where they differ from us, as we never disappoint our patrons, either in the quality, style or price of our goods.

We propose to close out our stock of winter clothes before the season closes, and to do this we shall make some very close prices.

We haven't space sufficient to enumerate the many bargains we offer, but we ask the privilege of showing them to you at your earliest convenience.

Remember one of our handsome "Double Runners" is given free with a purchase of fifteen dollars or upwards.

When It's Cold.
When needles are in your fingers and toes,
When the frost on the pane makes sugary trees,
When the frozen wheels over the hard ground
Where the toughened old farmer treads round his arms
As if he'd throw them across two farms;
When ears are rubbed and noses are red;
When sheets are like ice in the spare-room bed;
When water-pipes burst, and walls freeze up;
And the tea isn't hot when it leaves the cup;
When stray dogs come along the street
Never stand for a second on all four feet;
When little boys cry if they have to be out,
And are heard for a full half-mile if they shout;
When the day is as clear as the thought that fled
Out into the world from Shakespeare's head;
When the air about seems as still as a rock,
And a sudden noise is a sudden shock,
And the earth seems deserted, lonely, and cold;
You are pretty sure that it's pretty cold!
- St. Nicholas.

Timothy had known Molly ever since she was a tot of three. Her parents were lost while crossing the Irish channel, and we Molly was picked up by a sailor, who covered her with his big overcoat, and carried her in a very gingerly way, with her head a good deal higher than her head into the crib of old Mrs. O'Shaughnessy, with whom he was a little acquainted, and deposited the little sea waif in her lap.
"Oh, mother!" cried the old dame, looking up both hands. "What have you got the Jack?"
"Shiver me timbers, mother, if it isn't a baby!" said Jack Brown, as he clumsily turned back the coat from the little of the face and peeped at her.
"What she has legs at all, at all?" asked the old woman, with a look of great concern; for she saw only a sweet baby face and a pair of plump shoulders and arms.
"Bear a hand, here-unfurl the sails!" cried Jack, pulling at the sleeve of the coat.
"Och, shure! An' ye put him in there to kape warm, me son!" said Mrs. O'Shaughnessy, drawing the baby's legs out of Jack's coat sleeves.
"Ye!" replied Jack, as he took one of the tiny hands in his big hard one and covered it with the other. "I thought she'd maybe come to quicker that way."
"Och, alanna! An' it's the swate face she's got!" said the dame, putting a spoonful of weak whiskey and water into the child's mouth, for she had opened her big black eyes and was staring at them.
"She's a live chick an' a lively one, mother," said Jack, as the dame fondled and caressed the child as if she was her very own.
"Shure an' ye're at me in min' o' me little Kitty, that's lyin' in the church-yard lone an' cold this day," said the mother's soul, who pressed the wet to her bosom, and who if by no one came to claim her, would keep her as her own and bring her up with the boys," as she called them, although Jerry was thirty-five and Tim ten years older.
No one ever came to claim the child, and the O'Shaughnessys were well pleased to have it to, for back-eyed Molly had twined herself around their warm Irish hearts.
Some fifteen years afterwards, when old Mrs. O'Shaughnessy was laid so rest under the green grass and Jerry was married and in a home of his own. Timothy took to wondering if it were possible for eighteen-year-old Molly to care for him, although he was so old. Lately she had taken a fancy to go to America, and he was terribly afraid of losing her.
So one day he plucked up courage and asked the mysterious question, and found that Molly liked him better than any other man she had seen. During her eighteen summers; and so she was married to Tim, and they prepared for their journey to America.
Tim had a little money with which to start on his small business when he landed, and Molly would be comfortable in a humble way. He never dreamed of opposing her wishes; he would have gone to the world's end had she so willed. But he did feel some misgivings concerning her love for him, and told her so.
"Och, Tim, ye dear owl soul, is it I botherin' about me likes an' dislikes ye are?" cried Molly. "Shure, tim, let me tell ye that I think more of ye than if you were young, for tim ye might want to run away wid another wife, an' shure I never c'd stand that."
"God bless ye, me darlint! An' it's good to ye'll be as long as I live," was Tim's answer as he kissed her cheek.
Molly made her appearance on the acquaintance of this odd pair. Just as we were about to start my attention was attracted to a good looking Irish girl about eighteen years of age who leaned on the arm of a man nearly sixty, but whose large brown eyes were clear and bright. They seemed to have a goodly amount of baggage; there were large boxes and small boxes, big trunks and little trunks, with bundles of all sizes.
"Tim dear, don't let him put the box wid the his eggs down the hould, nor the little box that's got the tea, sugar, oranges an' limons," said the girl.
"All right, Molly. Ye're shure ye put in the pipes an' sail for yer lin's eggs?" she asked him, for she didn't see them without it, my swate wan."
"Yes, Tim dear, I tucked it in me pocket so's to have it right handy."
"An' ye've got the swate little green thing under yer shawl that's to cheer our hearts in Ameriky?" Ye watered it just before ye left home, didn't ye, so that it won't die?"
"Shure, ye, Tim, that I did! Here it is - come out wid ye!" chirped Molly, as she brought to view a green painted box about eight inches square, containing a bit of sod from old Erin, with two specimens of four-leaved clover in the centre, looking fresh, green and likely to grow.

"Oh, but it's me heart that's twined around the place where it came from!" said Tim, patting the sod. "Shure an' we'll plant ye in Ameriky, an' thin' we won't fule so homesick when we look at ye. Bead! Jist ye kape growin' till we get there, an' it's the big place o' land ye'll have to upland yerself in by-an-by if all goes well wid us! Paix, we'll get the start o' the Yankees, that are always puffin' and blowin' about their big melon pastures! An' when ye grow an' move, and git to be a mate little meadow, I'll put up a grand fence all around ye, an' shick ye a board in yer middle tellin' the pap' ye come from old Erin. Oh, an' won't they be surprised an' wonder how ye got over! Jist ye kape the secret, an' don't ye tell any one what we're goin' to do wid ye till we shup on the land o' the shairs an' shripes," said Tim, while Molly tucked the box under her shawl, and they went down to their steamer bunk and set it as near the port-hole as possible that it might have light.

When were three days out the sky became overcast, and the sailors predicted storm. At twelve o'clock that night down it came, the rain falling in torrents; the thunder rolled overhead, the lightning flashed across the deck, and the good ship rocked to and fro in the angry sea.

While the storm lasted the scene in both cabin and storeroom beggared description; children cried, women fainted, and strong men blanched to the lips, not so much in fear for themselves as for their loved ones.

It was nearly five o'clock when the storm abated; at nine the sun shone out bright and warm, and the sailors who came on deck we noticed Timothy and his young wife. Molly had been very sick, and Tim, being nimble of foot, was hurrying along with a skillet to the cook's quarters to have an egg boiled for her.

"If ye play, we'll let me put this little pot wid the egg on yer fire, Mr. Cook?" he queried. "It's for me little Molly; shure an' she's been very sick wid the ship rockin' hitherly yander, an' it's a lin's egg she likes."
"Ye, yes!" replied the cook who was busy rolling steak. "I'll attend to it in a minute."

While Tim was absent Molly stood leaning over the side of the ship, watching the waves rise and fall. My dear, my dear, Tim, who do ye shure, and inquired in a friendly way how she felt after the storm.
"Shure an' it's sick I fule," replied Molly, turning a very white face toward her.
"Where is your father?" asked Mrs. Skinner, who up to that time had not known of the relation Tim and Molly bore to each other. "Shall I go and look for him, my dear? Ye seem sad and lonely."
"Me father! Who do ye mane?" inquired Molly, with frown on her eye and a good deal of color in her face.
"Oh! I beg your pardon if I have made a mistake. I meant the old man that I have seen you with. I thought he was your father."

"Me mother!" reiterated Molly, with a deal of scorn in her voice. "Shure an' he's my husband!"
"You don't mean to say that you are the wife of that old man?" cried Mrs. Skinner, completely thrown off her guard.
"An' why not? Will ye tell me that, if ye please?" asked Molly, dicing up in defence of her position.
"Oh, Tim, dear, it's sick I fule, and dired o' the face o' the people on it!" she answered with a glance of scorn in Mrs. Skinner's direction.

"Well, Molly, me jewel, you'll be better in a day or two, an' when ye land in Ameriky ye'll get a shing little home, settle down, an' never go to sea again."
Every day after this Tim was to be seen either going to or coming from the cook's quarters, skilful in hand, so we knew Molly was still enjoying her husband's eyes. By this time we had all become interested in the kind old man, and wondered less at Molly's choice.

One Friday morning we began to gather our belongings together, for we expected to start on our small business when we landed. Old Tim was in full dress for the occasion; he wore a suit of black, his coat tails reaching nearly to his heels, a stove-pipe hat on his head with a red bandanna in the crown, the corner of it hanging down behind his left ear.
He brought Molly's yellow cotton gown from somewhere, and hanging it up in a low part of the ship's rigging, began stroking it down with both hands to press the wrinkles out, quite oblivious of the smiles and remarks of the sailors and passengers as they passed to and fro.

After he had made it presentable he threw the dress over his arm and carried it down stairs. Half an hour afterwards Molly made her appearance on deck, arrayed in the yellow gown, a little black silk cape on her shoulders, and a white bonnet trimmed with white ribbons on her head. She took her husband's arm and together they passed the deck, Tim talking in a low tone, while Molly gave him her undivided attention.

"Dear, dear!" ejaculated Mrs. Skinner, looking after them. "What an ill-assorted pair! They are a veritable May and December."
"Pray don't allow Molly to overhear that remark," said I, laughing; "she won't leave a hair on your head. Don't you see she likes to be an old man's pet? Don't pity her, for as she would tell you herself, Shure there's no need of it at all, at all! It's happy I am wid me old man, an' perfectly content."

"Oh, well," laughed Mrs. Skinner, "as she is pleased I suppose it's all right. But I have a queer feeling every time I see them together."
We arrived in New York late in the afternoon. On our way to our hotel we noticed Molly and her husband walking arm in arm up Broadway, and that was the last we ever saw of "the old man and his pet." But wherever they are I am sure Tim is bestowing upon Molly his tenderest care. - Waverly Magazine.

A New System of Lighting.
An electrical system of gas lighting for city streets which operates devices located miles from a central station, without any electrical connection between them, sounds like a fairy tale, but such a system has been introduced by the Cutler-Hammer Manufacturing Company, Chicago, Ill. This system discards the unsightly overhead wires and the expensive underground circuit, and adopts a new and inexpensive method. Each lamp is supplied with two sal ammoniac batteries and a spark coil, placed in an iron box buried in the ground at the foot of the post. In the lantern is a miniature gas holder of about two cubic inches capacity, pivoted on a hinge and held down by weights and directly over this holder is an automatic gas lighter, similar to those used in houses. Two wires about ten feet long connect the lighter with the batteries through the post. Such an installation is under complete control from the gas works. When it is desired to light the lamps of the city, it is only necessary to open the valve connecting one of the large gas holders at the works direct with the gas mains. This results in a decided increase of pressure in the gas all over the city, sufficient to cause all the little gas holders in the lamp posts to lift up about one-eighth of an inch against a platinum stop, and thus close the local battery circuit at each post. The automatic lighter being then supplied with current, immediately turns on and lights the gas.

Postal Service in Interior Africa.
A five cent stamp will take one of our mammoth Sunday newspapers from this country to the white stations on the far Upper Congo. The probability is that the actual cost of delivering one of these newspapers at Stanley Falls, for instance, is twice or three times the amount of postage charged.

The Quincy Patriot.

SATURDAY, DEC. 30, 1893.

The New Chemical.

The new combination engine at Atlantic has been well, so to speak, and now all doubt as to its wearing well has been removed, and the reputation of the members of the company established as first class entertainers.

The gathering of Thursday evening was a notable one in more respects than one, from the simple fact that there were present several city officials who will shortly lose their titles, yet this did not in any way interfere with the sociability of the affair which was non-partisan in every respect.

The invited guests and citizens of Atlantic began to gather early in the evening, and an opportunity was had to inspect the new engine as the staid in the house all ready to respond to an alarm should there be one. Nothing but praise and compliments were heard and they were certainly merited, for a handsome piece of apparatus never came into Quincy, and there is no doubt but what she will do all that it is able to do.

Shortly after 8 o'clock all adjourned to Music hall and seats were taken about the long tables that completely filled the hall.

The banquet over, Captain Nylan called order and after a few words of welcome introduced Mayor Fairbanks who gave what will probably be his last public speech while Mayor of Quincy. He delivered it in his usual pleasing manner, and it was the brief history of the engine as it came to Quincy. It appeared in full in the Evening of Friday.

Other brief remarks were made by Chief Engineer Ripley, Councilman Holbrook, Ex-Engineer Wilson, and Councilmen Rinn, Councilmen Sherman and Shackley, Councilman Ewell, Councilman Grindell, Ex-Councilman Wilde, Reed and Powers, Steward Council, Engineers King and Richardson, Capt. Merrill, Officer Ferguson and others.

The New Apparatus. As many have not yet seen the new apparatus a brief description would not be out of place.

The engine was built by Holloway of Baltimore and has all the latest improvements. As it now stands, all loaded, it weighs 5500 pounds. There is a high drive shaft in front, which is the hose wagon which carries 1000 feet of hose. Beneath this there are two chemical tanks of 35 gallons each. These are connected by a siphon valve, so that there is no interruption of a stream, for as soon as one tank is empty the other is thrown into use. The apparatus also carries a 25-foot extension ladder and a roof ladder, axes, crowbars, wrenches, etc. The hose for the chemical is on a reel on the front of the carriage and is always connected with the tanks and is so arranged that it can be played from the front or rear as occasion may demand. On the sides of the step in the rear are two small tanks in which are extra charges of vitriol, and underneath the hose reel there is a good sized tool box.

The engine is painted in the standard fire department colors and on the front of the dasher are the words, "Quincy No. 2." The new piece of apparatus is a good one and the company that made it is second to none in the city, and there is no doubt but what when called upon they will be found ready and willing and will do good service, and the citizens of Quincy will be well compensated.

The affair Thursday night was a complete success and much credit is due to the efficient committee who had it in charge, composed of the following number: Capt. Daniel J. Nylan, Richard J. Colbert, John J. Cummins and John F. McKenna.

Associated Charities.

There was a goodly attendance of persons interested in charitable work at the meeting called at Congregational church Tuesday evening to organize a bureau of associated charities. Atlantic was the only ward of the city not represented. They came from the churches, the charitable societies, the King's Daughters, the Young Men's organization, Fragment society and other organizations.

Mr. W. H. Fay called the meeting to order and spoke briefly. His church had undertaken to render relief at Christmas time, and had collected clothing, shoes, hats, gloves, etc., but it was found that other organizations contemplated helping many of the same persons, and there at once arose the necessity of systematic combined effort.

The meeting organized with Mr. Edward Southworth as chairman and Mr. William P. Bailey as secretary.

Henry H. Faxon spoke in sympathy with the movement, and the immediate action of work the Associated Charities had accomplished in 1893 and following years. Indiscriminate giving was productive of ill-effects; so was free soup.

Others to speak were Mrs. M. A. Perkins, Miss Elizabeth Handrick, Rev. H. A. Phillips, W. H. Fay, Theophilus King and Overseer Field.

Upon motion of Mr. King, a committee of five was elected from each ward, and committee to elect a secretary and jointly to select a president, secretary and treasurer. The committee:

Ward One—H. E. Crane, John O. Hall, Jr., Mrs. M. A. Perkins, Mrs. Theophilus King and Mrs. C. Paulson.

Ward Two—Miss Cora Young, Mrs. C. A. Spear, Mrs. A. Harlow, Herbert M. Federchen and Charles H. Johnson.

Ward Three—George H. Field, Alexander Clark, Miss Mabel Baxter, Miss Annie Pratt and Mrs. Edward E. Miller.

Ward Four—Charles Miller, Rev. P. Englund, Jonas Shackley, Miss Emma Fuller and Miss Lelia A. Miller.

Ward Five—Mrs. W. Record, Mrs. John Nell, Miss Turner, Mrs. Herbert T. Whitman and Mrs. Watson H. Brasse.

Ward Six—Miss Isabelle P. Emery, Mrs. Elijah G. Hall, Miss Mary Hinkley, Daniel McGrath and W. F. Cummings.

The committee were empowered to fill vacancies, and requested to meet at the chapel Thursday evening to organize.

The board was promptly organized at the chapel of the Congregational church, Thursday evening.

Mr. Edward Southworth presided, and Mr. W. P. Bailey was secretary. There were remarks by Mrs. C. A. Spear, Mr. H. H. Faxon, Mr. H. M. Federchen and others as to work of former board and duties which would devolve upon the new board and officers.

George H. Field, Overseer of the Poor, was elected president, and Miss Elizabeth Handrick, secretary and treasurer. Neither were present but the committee waited upon Mr. Field and requested his presence.

CITY BRIEFS.

A stone team on which was a large 12-ton block of granite, got stuck under the Granite street bridge Saturday, the block of granite being too heavy to pass. After some delay the top of the block was broken off and the team went on its way.

The Christmas business of D. E. Wadsworth & Co. shows what push and advertising will do. It is doubtful if a Boston house was more crowded on Saturday evening than this store. The proprietor was assisted by fourteen clerks and two foot-walkers, and on Saturday alone the receipts were over $600. It was a Merry Christmas for D. E. Wadsworth & Co.

The cigar store of J. Moshchuk, on Hancock street, was entered by burglars Sunday night, and cigars and tobacco to the value of $30 taken. The police caught the thieves by looking through the window on the side and back. The Chinaman in the other side of the building heard the parties and aroused Mr. Pantan, who got up, but the parties left before he arrived.

WEST QUINCY.

The young men of the congregation will give an entertainment in the West Quincy M. E. church, next Wednesday evening. A fine list of talent has been secured and the young men are determined not to be outdone by any other entertainment of the season. They intend to present a first class bill for patronage and deserve encouragement in their efforts.

The report that the Granite Railway company at West Quincy had shut down, is not a fact. They have about 75 at their quarry, and there is plenty of work at present.

Notable on the Old Colony on Monday. Note changes in today's paper. A number of West Quincy citizens are interested in ice boating and several have boats at the pond.

Mr. I. M. Cummings of Prospect, Me., is the guest of Mr. Newman Savage of Hillside street.

On Thursday last week the teachers of the Lincoln school spoke to the children of the school concerning the collection of vegetables and provisions to be distributed among the needy of our city.

On Friday morning there were at least three large express wagon loads of potatoes, cabbages, turnips, fresh stock, hams, and four, canned goods, clothing and bread and pastry in the school. It was both surprising and wonderful to see the amount of goods that the children brought in. They took hold of the matter with great vim.

Much of this was given to those in South Quincy that were reported to the teachers and the remainder was put into the hands of the children of the needy of the Fragment society, for distribution.

New Debating Club. Several young men of West Quincy met one evening last week and organized what is to be known as the "Excellor Debating Society of West Quincy." The object of the society is to make themselves well acquainted with the topics of the present and future and to be able to convey their thoughts intelligently. The following officers were elected.

Christmas Fire. The incendiary's torch, was on Sunday evening again applied, and so thoroughly did it accomplish its work, that in a short while the polishing shop, engine house and saw mill of Fagan & Ballou were a mass of charred embers, entailing a loss of thousands of dollars.

It was about 7.45 when a bright light in the quarries off Quarry street gave warning that something was afoot and an alarm was rung in from Box 42.

Steamer I, Hoon, 1 and 3, and Hook and Ladder 1, were soon on the scene though the mud on Quarry street was something frightful. It gave the brave fire horses a long and hard pull.

When the fire was reached it was seen that the polishing shop and engine house near the old Barker quarry on Quarry street, now owned by Fagan & Ballou, was all ablaze. The steamer was placed near a quarry filled with water and in a few minutes a strong stream was being thrown into the seething furnace.

By this time the crowds of sightseers began to arrive, drawn hither no doubt by the sight of the flames which could be seen for miles. A score of police were soon on the scene and did good work in keeping the crowds back. Several sparks landed near the top of the large derrick and having a blaze all to themselves until a ladderman put out and to their existence with a chemical extinguisher.

The loss on the building and machinery will be about $5000 and the loss on the saw mill will be $2000 more. There were no bones waiting to be polished and it is thought that the loss on the saw mill is amount to considerable. One large carved stone belonging to Bizzozero Bros., which in itself was worth over $2000, was slightly damaged. The polishing machinery has been recently put in place and contents were insured for about $2000.

A short time ago the firm withdrew $3000 worth of insurance which they had been carrying since the lockout.

Chief Ripley seemed to be everywhere, and everywhere that Chief Ripley was, there you would see that dog of his following his master through smoke, fire, and water. There is no use in talking but Ripley is a veteran.

Engineer Costa's pet seemed to "feel the thrill of life" down to her very limbs, and the way she rushed the water along was a caution.

A Thief Captured. Officers Gary and Richards were at the Quincy Court Saturday and after completing their business, started for home. They had just crossed Quincy Point bridge when they observed two men with baskets on the shore, back of one of the small houses.

The men acted suspiciously and the officers decided to investigate. When the officers approached the men left their baskets and ran and the officers gave chase.

The officers were successful in capturing one of the parties whom they recognized as Charles H. Totman. The other man whom they recognized as Robert McFawn got away after a long chase.

In the two boats the officers found twenty-five all picked ready for market. Mr. Albert Sampson whose henery was entered the night before, recognized the fowl by the wings, which had been left on as his property.

Totman was arraigned in the District court Tuesday morning.

Fifteenth Anniversary. The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Holmes gathered at their pleasant home on Beach street Christmas night and offered their congratulations it being the fifteenth anniversary of their marriage.

During the evening Mr. Arnold in behalf of their many friends presented them with a beautiful punch bowl, after which a dainty lunch was served. Among those present we noticed:

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Lull and daughter. Miss Alice Bennett. Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Farrington. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Snow. Mr. and Mrs. Washburn. Mr. and Mrs. Arnold. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Baker. Mr. and Mrs. James Lewis. Mr. and Mrs. William Pierce. Mr. and Mrs. Howard. Mr. and Mrs. Western. Mr. Benjamin Sampson. Miss Wheeler.

SOUTH QUINCY.

Miss Blanche, the little daughter of the late P. H. Gavin, is ill with pneumonia. Fred L. Jones has been quite sick for several days. They say he has the grip quite bad.

S. F. Willard has had a telephone put in for the benefit of those who wish to call a physician.

It is probable that Mr. Peter J. Williams will succeed Chief Ripley of the Fire Department.

Rev. F. A. Cunningham was presented with a set of Cardinal Newman's works on Sunday evening by the members of the Young People's Literary Society of St. John's church.

James S. Baxter, who has been confined to his home for the past week with a sore foot, is told by his doctor, "better wait another week and give it a chance to heal up."

Saturday evening the friends of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Scott to the number of about fifty surprised them at their residence. No. 11 Totman street, South Quincy, and presented them with an elegant gold watch. Solidum had been there such a complete surprise in this vicinity as the worthy couple had not the slightest intimation of the treat in store for them. The presentation speech was made by Mr. John C. Murray, in a few well chosen remarks, to which Mr. Scott feelingly responded. Dancing and kindred amusements beguiled the hours until the approach of 12 M. brought a highly enjoyable time to a close, when, after the singing and Lang Syne by the assembled company, and three cheers and a tiger for Mr. and Mrs. Scott, the company dispersed with many mutual expressions of regard and the hope of meeting again at some future time.

Good for Ward Three. The Committee appointed in Ward Three to collect funds for the City Hospital has completed its work, and are glad to report that they have been successful beyond their expectations.

The thousands of dollars that have been raised and the Committee wish to return their thanks to the business firms who so kindly aided them in the work of collecting, and to all others who have contributed, for the generous and hearty response to their appeal.

The result is most gratifying as an evidence of the generosity of our citizens at a time when they can least afford to be generous.

Protestant Church. Rev. W. Steele, pastor, 10.30 A. M. Subject: "The Redemption of Time." Sunday School at 11 A. M. Epworth meeting at 6.30, and Praise and Prayer service at 7 o'clock. The whole to close with a consecration service suited to the last night of the year. All are cordially invited.
